FUNDS DEBATED IN SENATE

Humphrey To Press Viet Policy

Ho's Peace Talk Letter Discounted

COMBINED AP & UPI

A "declaration of Honolulu," chilled hopes over a peace talks signal from Hanoi, a Senate committee hearings on funds for the Viet Nam war and continued attacks on President Johnson's Southeast Asia policies all figured heavily today at the sidelines of the actual growing conflict in South Viet Nam.

In Washington, the President returned to his desk confident "we shall prevail" in the battle against the aggression in Viet Nam. He said he would meet again with South Vietnamese officials within the next few months.

ON THE WAY

Vice President Humphrey headed for Saigon to carry out action in the redefined strategy in Viet Nam hammered out by the president and South Viet Nam leaders the past few days in the "declaration of Honolulu."

The declaration called for broad programs to create a "true social revolution" in South Viet Nam. Its theme was that progress in agriculture, education, health and building democracy are essential to winning the war.

COLD WATER

In New Delhi, the Indian government threw a bit of cold water on the hope that a letter from North Viet Nam President Ho Chi Minh may have had a peace feeler awaited in Washington.

As the president returned to the capital the Senate Armed Services Committee held a closed session on Johnson's request for an additional $12.3 billion to fight the Viet Nam war. The request contained a warning of a coming battle in Thailand and possible reopening of the Korean conflict.

As the committee met, Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., spokesman for 16 senators opposed to resumption of bombing in North Viet Nam, predicted nearly unanimous Senate approval of the measure. But he added that "doesn't mean that we won't continue to criticize the policies that have put" U.S. troops in Viet Nam and "which threaten to expand the war."

The Senate Foreign Relation Committee laid aside for the day its continuing inquiry into Southeast Asia policies. Yesterday the committee heard retired Army Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin predict that any massive increase in U.S. troops in Viet Nam might spur the Communists to reopen the war in Korea. "We can't afford to pull out," he said, "but we shouldn't escalate."

Humphrey pledged" immediate and continuing action" to carry out the aims of the President for political, economic and social progress in South Viet Nam.

The vice president made this pledge in a statement prepared for his departure on a 10- to 12-day mission to Viet Nam and possibly five other Asian countries.

Flying from Honolulu with Humphrey were South Viet Nam's top leaders, who gave evidence yesterday that they wanted a tougher war against Communist North Viet Nam along with the programs to better the life of the people.

Officials here said they did not yet know Humphrey's next stop after South Viet Nam.

Sources in Washington said Humphrey's tour would include the capitals of Thailand, Malaysia, Australia and India. Prime Minister Keith Holyoake of New Zealand said the vice president also would go to Auckland. Informed sources in Bankok said the vice president would fly to the Thai capital from Saigon Friday night and would stay until Saturday afternoon.

TO SPUR EFFORTS

The first job assigned him by the President is to familiarize himself with the various economic, social and political improvement projects, to spur the efforts on, and to return to the United States in a position to help nurture the work at the Washington end.

In the other capitals on his itinerary, the vice president will "explain what was done at Honolulu and its meaning and ask for the support of others," Johnson said in Los Angeles.

In the midst of worldwide speculation over the meaning of Ho's Jan. 24 message to Indian President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, an official government spokesman said it was "mostly concerned with stating the position of his country."

NOT BEYOND

Except for emphasizing India's special position as chairman of the International Control Commission, the Indochina peacekeeping agency, Ho did not go beyond previous proclamations from Hanoi, the spokesman said.

Nevertheless, he said, India was continuing its talks with "friendly countries" to find a way to end the fighting.

Hall Of Justice Bid Much Lower

Board Members Elated

A low bid of $8,959,560 on construction of the Hall of Justice addition to the Civic Center, lower than anyone had hoped, was submitted to Marin County supervisors yesterday.

Robert E. McKee Construction of San Francisco offered the lowest of four bids.

It was the second time bids were received. On Dec. 21 Haas and Haynie of South San Francisco was lowest of five bidders at $9,529,000.

Supervisors rejected all the earlier bids as being too high and ordered some deletions from the job, including delaying interior finishing of a portion of the top floor of the three-story building.

UNDER FIGURE

With these deletions, the bidding was expected to be at about $9,171,000, according to an estimate by County Auditor Controller Michael Mitchell and Aaron Green, resident architect of the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation.

All four bids came in under that figure yesterday.

The bids were.

Robert E. McKee, $8,959,560; Carl W. Olson of San Mateo, $9,064,065; Haas and Haynie, $9,072,350, and Rothschild, Raffin and Weirick in joint venture with Williams and Burrows, both of San Francisco, $9,117,800.

NO REBID

Donald M. Drake and Co. of San Francisco, highest of five at the first bidding, was the only firm not to attempt a rebid.

Supervisors, elated at the results, asked for a recommendation as soon as possible on award of the contract. Country Administrator Alan Bruce said a recommendation probably will be made next Tuesday.

Mitchell said after the bids were opened that $145,689 that was anticipated from additional property taxes for the hall of justice will now probably not have to be raised.

With furnishings and landscaping, the total cost will come to $10,786,586, Mitchell figured.

BOOK ACTION GETS BOARD'S SUPPORT

Television Cameras Record Meeting As Residents Defend Kerouac, Teacher

By FRANK FARRARA

The San Rafael Board of Education last night unanimously backed the removal of Jack Kerouac's novel "On the Road" from the assigned reading list for senior honors English students at Terra Linda High School.

After hearing speakers pro and con, the board brought the two-month book controversy to an official close with its decision before a packed house of more than 200 persons.

There were pleas against "book burning," and arguments for academic freedom offered by some speakers, and the procedure used to remove the book was challenged.

Others spoke out against "academic license" and defended the right of the administration and board to "insist on quality, not mediocrity."

The hearing was filmed for showing on television station KQED (channel 9) next Monday at 9:30 p.m. on the "City Beat: Mel Wax" show, which is produced by Melvin S. Wax, Sausalito city councilman and San Francisco newspaper reporter.

It opened with a statement by Supt. Bert C. Corona that the decision to drop the book from the reading assignments was an administrative decision.

There is no senior honors English class now in session and "the book is not being used," he said. The book has not even been in the school library, but was a supplemental book, Corona reported.

Then came comments from 10 residents who spoke from a lectern at the front of the room in the full glare of the television lights.

First was Laurence B. Thomas, an unsuccessful candidate for the board of education last year, who said, "I have no brief for any book, but I'm against book burning, book ban-

30-Acre Pond Is Envisioned For Mill Valley

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Borrowing an idea from the Dutch, William A. Hamilton yesterday proposed that Mill Valley build a dike and create a 30-acre "bath tub" in the city's marshland.

The large lake, he said, would provide flood control, fishing and boating, create a new avenue for sports for Tamalpais High School students, add to the area's esthetics, and promote wild life.

Hamilton, a former Mill Valley city councilman, a real estate broker and a dedicated conservationist, made his presentation to about 60 persons at a meeting of the Mill Valley Rotary Club at Sabella's of Marin.

Flood control is the prime importance, Hamilton noted, admitting his idea was spurred by the Army Corps of Engineers recommendation last year for a $4,310,000 concrete channel to follow Arroyo Corte del Presidio from the City Hall to the bay.

Hamilton visited Holland two years ago and got his diking ideas from that country.

"For $4,310,000 we should get something better than a concrete ditch," he said.

Hamilton suggested Mill Valley and Marin County jointly hire a consulting civil engineer to investigate his plan for feasibility. He suggested Otto von Seggern, a consulting civil engineer who lived many years in

Commuters Flee Blazing Train

LONDON (AP) — A car on a commuter train hurtling toward London burst into flames today and scores of passengers leaped through windows.

More than 30 people were injured—four seriously—as flames completely enveloped the coach in the eight-car train. About 700 passengers were aboard the train.

Many of the 150 trapped commuters jumped onto the track about six feet below. Some were left injured on the line more than a quarter of a mile back when the 70 mph train finally ground to a halt.

U.S. Casualties Climbing; Viet Cong Rice Discovered

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. jet fighter-bombers stepped up their attacks in North and South Viet Nam today while the Viet Cong still sidestepped the big Allied ground forces trying to hunt them down.

While the ground war tapered off significantly, the U.S. Military Command announced that the number of Americans killed in combat last week rose by more than 50 per cent. A spokesman said 89 Americans were killed, 499 wounded and eight missing in action compared with 57 Americans killed, 281 wounded and 11 missing in the previous seven days.

In separate sweeps, American and Australian troops stumbled onto Viet Cong caches of rice totaling 335 tons — enough to feed thousands of men for weeks — and stores of howitzer ammunition.

U.S. Marines located about 50 well-armed Viet Cong in huts on the outskirts of the helicopter base for their 12-day-old Operation Double Eagle, about 20 miles south of Quang Ngai City. The Marines, planes and artillery killed 27. The only Marine casualty as one man wounded.

In Vientiane, capital of neighboring Laos, a spokesman for the Laotian Defense Ministry reported North Vietnamese tanks had been seen for the first time on the Ho Chi Minh Trail through eastern Laos, en route to South Viet Nam. Qualified military sources in Saigon, however, were skeptical of the report. They said tanks might be more of a liability than an asset to the Viet Cong.

The Strategic Air Command's eight-engine B52s from Guam joined the air offensive in the past 24 hours, pounding Viet Cong concentrations in Tay Ninh Province near the Cambodian border and in Phu Yen Province on the central plains, U.S. spokesmen said.

No American planes were reported lost in the double-barreled air action on both sides of the 17th Parallel.

The Seventh Fleet carriers Ticonderoga and Ranger sent 17 jet missions against the North. The Navy planes smashed four road and rail bridges and cut several highways in the Bong Hoi and Vinh areas, spokesmen said. Pilots claimed they destroyed the Tam Da highway bridge, where reconnaissance planes spotted heavy southbound traffic during the 37-day bombing pause.

Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs and F4C Phantoms cratered roads, damaged two bridges and blasted a truck pool area south of Vinh and in the Thanh Hoa sector on 10 combat missions over North Viet Nam, spokesmen said.

Former Dragon Denies Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert M. Creel, a former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, said today "the great majority of Klansmen in Alabama" wanted someone to come and defend them in hearings before the House Committee on un-American Acitivities.

He said the Klan had been accused of violence it never participated in and that all the Klan ever wanted to do was "built a good, solid South."

Creel testified he no longer is Alabama grand dragon because he didn't run for re-election last month.

Dominican Soldiers Shooting At Students

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — National police opened up with gunfire and tear gas bombs today to break up a student demonstration in front of the National Palace. One person was killed and five others were wounded.

The incident triggered a new wave of disorders in the downtown area. Youth gangs ranged the heart of the city, upsetting trash cans.

More Drake Coeds Due Citations

By STEPHEN COOK

San Anselmo police will cite four 16-year-old San Anselmo girls, all juniors at Sir Francis Drake High School, for possession of marijuana, Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said today.

The girls have been implicated, in testimony given to police by themselves and other students, as part of a ring of student marijuana smokers and peddlers at the high school, the chief said.

Chief Buchignani announced yesterday that a Lagunitas brother and sister, aged 17 and 16 and both juniors at the high school, had been cited to juvenile authorities for possession and sale of the drug.

Students questioned by police identified this pair as the source of marijuana being sold and smoked on and near the campus in San Anselmo as long ago as last spring, he declared.

Chief Buchignani said his department decided to cite the other four girls after a meeting yesterday afternoon of police, school and juvenile authorities.

He said one girl who will be cited made a lengthy statement to police in which she admitted smoking "pot" on an average of once a week, and said her

Phyllis Diller Divorces Again

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) —Comedienne Phyllis Diller filed divorce proceedings yesterday in Superior Court seeking an end to her brief marriage to entertainer Warde Donovan on grounds of mental cruelty.

The night club and television actress gave no details to amplify the cruelty charge.

Miss Diller married Donovan a month after she divorced her first husband, Sherwood Diller, to whom she had been married for 25 years. She is the mother of five children by her first marriage.

Morse Blocks Vote On Vaughn

WASHINGTON (AP) — Protesting against the administration's Latin-American policies, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., blocked the Senate Foreign Relations Committee from voting today on the nomination of Jack Hood Vaughn as Peace Corps director.

Vaughn has been assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs and thus was one of the officials involved in the decision to send U.S. troops to the Dominican Republic during the bloody revolt last year.

Today's hearing on Vaughn's nomination lasted only 90 minutes. After it broke up, committee chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said Morse had raised the point of no quorum, putting off a vote until tomorrow or later.

Teen-Age Boy Blamed For 30 Arson Cases

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police said today that a 15-year-old boy who had a craze to "watch the fire engines" is the firebug long sought for the more than 40 fires set in the Haight-Ashbury district.

Officers said the junior high school boy admitted he set at least 30 of the fires since he and his mother moved into the district from Vallejo a year ago.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

'King Cotton' Dies At 86

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — At an age when most men were looking forward to retirement, Will Clayton resigned as head of the world's largest cotton business and went into government service.

Clayton

William Lockhart Clayton was a multimillionaire and known as "King Cotton Himself," when he joined the New Deal in 1940 at the age of 60.

In 1944 he became assistant secretary of state for economic affairs. He developed the concept of the Marshall Plan for European recovery after World War II and administered the program.

Clayton, who proved himself adept in the fields of economics, politics and national affairs, as well as cotton, died in a Houston hospital yesterday after suffering a heart attack at his home. He was 86.

Critic Of Reds Reaches London

MOSCOW (UPI) — Valeri Tarsis, author of the violently anti-Soviet novel "Ward Seven," arrived in London today as a leading Communist party newspaper denounced him as a "psychopath" and urged government officials to "let him go . . let him go."

Tarsis

Relatives said Tarsis left Monday for Britain via Warsaw. He had been granted a Soviet passport for an indefinite stay abroad and planned to lecture at Britain's Leicester University.

The bitter attack on Tarsis by the newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda lent weight to speculation here that the Kremlin hoped he would not return. Tarsis' defection, it was said, would be considered as "good riddance" by Soviet officials.

In the partly autobiographical "Ward Seven," which became a best seller in the West, Tarsis told how he was put in a mental hospital after publishing abroad an earlier anti-Soviet book, "The Bluebottle."

Kupferman Wins Lindsay Seat

NEW YORK (AP)—In the manner of the man he will succeed in Congress, liberal Republican Theodore R. Kupferman goes out today to thank the voters for his victory in a special congressional election.

Kupferman

Kupferman won a narrow victory yesterday over Democrat Orin Lehman in a special election to fill the seat left vacant by the election of Republican John V. Lindsay as mayor.

Kupferman, 45, a city councilman and attorney, won in Manhattan's 17th Congressional District.

Complete but unofficial returns from the 361 election districts showed Kupferman with 44,225 votes; Lehman 43,230; and Jeffrey St. John, 7,810. St. John, 35, ran on the Conservative party ticket.

Lehman, 46, is the grandnephew of the late Sen. and Gov. Herbert H. Lehman.

CHICAGO (UPI) — A new storm swept across the Northern Plains today with thunderstorms and heavy snow, claiming at least two lives. Subs Seek H-Bomb

PALOMARES, Spain (UPI)—Two U.S. pocket submarines were being prepared today to join the search for a missing American H-bomb off the southeastern coast of Spain. The search turned to the sea last week when airmen failed to locate one of four nuclear devices missing after the mid-air collision Jan. 17 of a B-52 bomber and a KC-135 refueling jet.

Rolls Causes Fight

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Members of Kenya's Parliament warned last night that the purchase of a $28,000 Rolls Royce for the mayor of Nairobi was an extravagance that could sow the seed of revolution. One member said the murder of Nigeria's finance minister in the recent military coup was an example of what could happen to those who indulged in extravagance.

Brown Tax Request Brings Discontent

$4.6 Billion May Exceed Any Other State In U.S.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown formally submitted California's biggest budget today and quickly encountered legislative discontent with the income tax boost he seeks to balance the $4,606,838,000 spending plan.

Requiring $143 million in additional taxes, the Democratic administration's budget for the 1966-67 fiscal year exceeds that of any other state.

New York State will spend about $3.98 billion. Pennsylvania is considering more than $2 billion and Illinois is in the midst of a two-year $4.4 billion program.

Brown disclosed the details of his fiscal plans yesterday in a special "state of the state" message outlining what he hopes to accomplish in this election-year session.

Today he gave them the formal document, a book of more than 2,000 pages.

This budget is up $222.3 million, or 5.1 per cent, over the 1965-66 estimated spending bill.

Appropriations to run the various state departments and to help local governments pay their bills increased by 10.6 per cent. But there's 11.6 per cent less money allocated for new construction.

Education, as usual, takes the biggest slice, $1.78 million or 45 per cent of the total.

"California's local public school enrollment exceeds the total population of" 39 states, said Brown.

In addition, the 17 state colleges will have 173,000 students and the nine-campus University of California 80,777.

Health and welfare spending is the second largest chunk, using 21.6 cents of each budget dollar.

Brown's plan to help pay for all this with a boost in state income taxes drew the opposition of a fellow Democrat, Senate President Pro Tem Hugh M. Burns of Fresno.

He said "I'm certainly not ready to agree" with the plan and added that he would rather obtain the money needed to balance the budget by extending the sales tax base.

Faced with a deficit of almost a quarter of a billion dollars, Brown proposed to balance the books with this plan:

He would raise $140 million by eliminating these state income tax deductions: $3,000 for married couples, $600 for each of their children and $1,500 for single people. Smaller deductions would be substituted. The tax hike wouldn't be payable until next year, after the elections.

Another $3 million would come from cutting down the deductions of people who live and work in California only part of the year.

The administration seeks to add $115 million more to this by revising accounting methods and counting expected tax dollars before they arrive in the treasury.

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D - Inglewood, said he "generally agreed" with one of Brown's biggest proposals, more than $50 million to improve employment and education in poor areas, including Los Angeles districts where Negroes rioted last summer.

But Assemblyman Mervyn M. Dymally, D-Los Angeles, whose district ecnompasses part of the riot zone, said the plan was "inadequate." He Called for more money for "programs to eliminate unemployment, the root of the Watts riot."

Assembly Republicans withheld comment, saying they wanted to make a point-by-point reply at a news conference Thursday morning. Assembly Minority Leader Robert T. Monagan, R - Tracy, noted Brown's speech was "43 minutes and 42 seconds long" and he asked the news media for "equal time."

Prison Construction Proposed By Governor

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature was asked today to approve spending $163 million on California's corrections programs, including construction of two new prisons, during 1966-67.

Gov. Brown's budget proposes $129 million to operate the State Corrections Department and California Youth Authority during the year starting July 1.

The youth authority includes $350,000 for a new campaign of delinquency prevention designed to reach the child "before a delinquency pattern is established."

An additional $29 million, more than double the current year figure, is requested for construction, including the start of work on a new maximum security facility at Vacaville for 1,250 inmates and a Southern California Medical Facility for 1,600.

The two facilities are scheduled to open in 1969, with the state's prison system crowded to nearly 4,000 inmates above capacity.

The southern medical center will cost $23.3 million, of which $1.43 million for initial work is budgeted for the coming year. The $20.5 million special security facility, adjoining the existing medical facility at Vacaville, will get started this year with a $650,000 appropriation.

Clubs, Helmets Requested In Bigger Highway Patrol

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Riot clubs and safety helmets would become standard equipment for the sharply boosted number of California Highway Patrolmen, under the budget Gov. Brown called for today.

He asked lawmakers to give the patrol $70.84 million in fiscal 1966-67, a jump of 26.2 per cent from the $56.12 million expected to be spent when this fiscal year ends June 30.

The big boost is accounted for mainly by a 1965 law commiting the legislature to double the patrol's size by 1968, paid for mainly by increased motor vehicle registration fees.

Expansion of the patrol by 1,409 positions is planned in 1966-67, with well over 1,000 of those new patrolmen. The patrol now puts more than 2,600 officers in 1,666 cars rolling up 68 million miles annually to safeguard motorists.

HERE IS BUDGET AT A GLANCE

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Here is the state budget at a glance:

Budget total—$4,606,838,306, up $222,333,297 or 5.1 per cent from estimated spending for current fiscal year ending June 30.

Where it goes—State operations, $1,352,377,900; assistance to local governments, $2,325,070,800; capital outlay, or construction, $929,389,600, including $558,277,692 in bond funds.

Biggest single item—Education, $1,787,348,345 or 45 per cent of budget total.

Biggest increase — Health and welfare, up $91.1 million or 12½ per cent to total of $811,196,879, including construction.

Additional revenue — Increase income tax by charging deductions and exemptions, $143 million; change accounting methods to include money due but not yet collected, $110 million.

State payroll—Up 12,347 to total of 166,533 positions with total payroll of $1,317,112,936.

$17 Million Sought For Fish, Game

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Citing "a growing public concern for our fish and wildlife resources," Gov. Brown today recommended spending $17.7 million for state fish and game programs during the year starting July 1.

The total outlay, up about $2 million from the current year spending, includes $14,379,668 for operations of the Department of Fish and Game and the Wildlife Conservation Board.

Another $3.28 million would go for construction, $850,000 by the department and the remainder by the Wildlife Conservation Board—the bulk of it to continue modernizing state fish hatcheries.

The department's capital outlay funds would be used mainly to continue replacing the statewide radio network used for law enforcement.

Duke Attends Film

PARIS (AP) — The Duke of Windsor chatted last night with the Parisian audience attending the film premiere of "A King's Story," about the 72-year-old duke who abdicated the British throne in 1936. The film is a combination of newsreel clips, family album pictures and modern-day sequences.

Welfare Jumps $91.1 Million In State Funds

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Spurred by new federal programs such as medicare, California plans to spend a record $811,196,879 to ease the woes of its sick, handicapped and impoverished in the 1966-67 budget presented today by Gov. Brown.

The proposed total for health and welfare spending—including $15.72 million for new construction—is up $91.1 over this year and represents the second biggest single expenditure in the budget, trailing only education.

MENTAL HYGIENE

The Mental Hygiene Department will get the single biggest slice—$197.9 million, up $5.1 million. Increased costs of treating the mentally ill and retarded, despite decreasing state hospital populations, is behind the hike.

New state support for local care programs for the mentally ill or handicapped—the source of dwindling hospital population—is reflected in a $6.75 million or 30.5 per cent jump in the budget of the State Rehabilitation Department, which will receive $28.91 million to oversee the local projects.

SHORT-DOYLE

A total of $18 million is earmarked for helping local mental health programs with Short-Doyle Act matching funds, while federal money will finance a $750,000 residential rehabilitation project, a $1.75 million program to help the disabled young and a $1 million program to help disabled prisoners in state penal institutions.

A mammoth chunk of the overall health and welfare budget will go toward implementing the new federal medicare program, under a new law passed late last year by the legislature.

The state will spend $151.9 million as its share of medicare, with the federal government chipping in $291.9 million for a total package of $443.8 million. Of this total, the counties will contribute $140 million.

Earthquakes Kill 11

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Authorities today were evacuating the Quetta area of West Pakistan after two more earthquakes which killed at least 11 persons and injured 40.

Governor Requests Increased Payroll

SACRAMENTO (AP)— California's state payroll would increase to 166,533, costing $1.32 billion a year, under the budget proposed today by Gov. Brown for the year starting July 1.

That's an increase of 12,347 positions, or $83.3 million over the current state payroll, already California's largest.

The budget includes $52 million for pay raises averaging 4 per cent for state employes, but calls for savings by a 2 per cent speedup in productivity.

As usual, the biggest single increase would be in higher education, with 4,598 new positions at a cost of $37 million. That would bring total employment at California's fast-growing college and university campuses to 50,300 with an annual payroll of $404 million.

The Transportation Agency, boosted by the first phase of a 1965 program to double the strength of the California Highway Patrol, would get 2,594 new positions at a cost of $12.5 million for a total of 33,001 with a $236 million payroll.

The Resources Agency seeks 1,556 new positions for a total of 11,970, mostly for the Department of Water Resources for work on the State Water Project; corrections would get 1,050 for a total of 10,599; the Health and Welfare Agency 573 for a 26,070 total; and employment 572 for a total of 9,195.

Sonoma State Hike

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Governor Edmund G. Brown's $4.6 billion budget for 1966-67 included $2,533,068 for operation of Sonoma State College at Rohnert Park, an increase of $761,480, or 42.9 per cent from the

ning or putting it on the shelf."

The issue is not an isolated book, he said, "the issue is academic freedom. I think this board should defend academic freedom."

Thomas said "the teacher is low man on the totem pole," and if he is "harassed and raked over the coals" because some individual complains, he will leave the district.

Mrs. Max Thelen Jr. of 199 Mountain View Avenue said this is not an instance of the board "banning or taking off the shelf," but of the board "looking for quality instead of mediocrity."

DISTRICT POLICIES

She said she did not believe that elementary and high school teachers were "free to do anything they wish" but had agreed to abide by district policies when they signed their contracts.

Mrs. James A. Rowen of 360 Johnstone Drive, Marinwood, said she felt that there is more involved than just the book, and the board "deserves the backing of the community."

Norman Gurin of 628 Bamboo Terrace, Terra Linda, said "censorship by whatever form is one of the greatest sins mankind can impose on itself." He said he deplored the manner in which the issue was handled.

Robert Guthrie of 217 Arias Street, said, "I feel it is a sad day when a parent who has a complaint has to be required to file a formal complaint."

Mrs. Walter J. Tait of 71 Lochinvar Road said academic freedom should not be confused with academic license. "Academic freedom demands responsibility," she said. "Academic freedom is not a license to do what you want."

VOYDAT'S JURISDICTION

Mrs. Bella Aaron, attorney for Local 1077, Marin County Federation of Teachers, claimed the board did not abide by its policy in this case, and that Corona and Asst. Supt. Mitchell Voydat "took upon themselves a function that belongs to the elected board."

Mrs. Bryce W. Anderson of 304 H Street countered that it is in Voydat's jurisdiction to decide on subject matter. Voydat is assistant superintendent of secondary instruction.

Paul Haerle of 163 Holmes Avenue, Santa Venetia, said the issue is whether the teachers have an unqualified right to make decisions and not have the decisions questioned.

If the decisions are not questioned there are no standards, he said. If they are questioned, then the board has the responsibility to "consider, exercise reason and come to a conclusion," he contended.

Walter Belden, of the American Federation of Teachers, asked what teachers can expect in the future concerning selection of instructional materials if the board acts "outside policy."

Corona said there had been no violation of policy in the procedure used.

During the controversy, there were protests because no one had filed an "official complaint form," but Corona said the lack of a formal complaint did not bar the board from proceeding.

The board two weeks ago appointed a citizen committee to review policy on controversial material and make recommendations as to whether any change is needed.

The hearing ended after Carl J. Brown, acting chairman, read a statement which noted that the board sets policy, the administration carries out the policy, and the teachers provide students with the opportunities to develop their potential for knowledge.

Brown admitted "the situation could have been handled differently," but said it "has been a learning experience for all concerned."

He concluded, "I believe that the best learning takes place when teachers can teach with academic freedom, tempered with good judgment, when the administrators are consistent in their interpretation of board policy, and when the board honestly reflects the feelings of the community."

Board member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. said: "The issue of the book is over. What has come out of it is a look at our policy and our internal procedures."

Kramer said the board must have a clear statement of policy. Board member Walter R. Castro Jr. noted that policy must be adhered to.

The session provided a warm introduction for the newly-appointed board member, Herman L. Childress, who was appointed to the board by the San Rafael City Council Monday night to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of former chairman Walter J. Doll.

Reed Trustees Establish Rules For Pupil Discipline

The Reed School District board last night unanimously adopted a strict policy for pupil discipline.

Trustees agreed that teachers should be backed up by some sort of written policy when troubles arise in classrooms or on school grounds, Supt. C. Pino reported.

Pino said three of the main points made in the new code were:

1. Trustees will back the use of corporal punishment by principals and teachers when it is considered necessary. Corporal punishment must be administered with an adult witness present under state law. But, Pino said, with the backing of the board, it will probably be used more.

2. Any pupil guilty of misconduct such as talking out of order or bothering other pupils at study should be immediately sent to the principal's office.

3. The board endorsed the regulation of appearance and dress as established at each school by the principal.

The board also adopted a library policy whereby when any book is questioned by a parent, a form will be given the parent to fill out as to why the book is considered objectionable. A committee of the principal and two teachers will study and make a recommendation on the book. Trustees will review the recommendation and rule on whether the book shall remain in the library.

The board received its annual audit from the firm of Dalton, Graupner and Barber of San Rafael, showing a deficit of $8,-148 as of June 30 in the general purpose portion of the general fund.

It was suggested that the board take more care in the future to increase reserve funds.

officials in Washington by surprise yesterday. A State Department spokesman said the Indians had not apprised the United States of the letter, nor had the text been made available.

Although many U.S. officials suspected the note differed little from others sent to various capitals by the North Vietnamese chief 17 days ago, the possibility of a peace feeler from Hanoi rocked the New York Stock Exchange. Defense issues were hardest hit in the heaviest trading in months.

In Ottawa, Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, who also received a letter from Ho, told the House of Commons yesterday that Canda has been conferring with India and Poland on possible use of the International Control Commission as a possible vehicle for negotiations. They are the three members of the commission.

Although the communique issued in Honolulu emphasized the nonmilitary programs for economic and social improvement, South Viet Nam's leaders made it plain in a news conference that they favored stepped-up air operations against the chief North Vietnamese port of Haiphong and other industrial targets.

Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu said he would be unwilling to sit down at a conference table with representatives of the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong guerrillas. U. S. officials have said NLF representation would not be a roadblock to the start of negotiations.

Among the points in the communique were these:

1. The two governments will "take further concrete steps to combat inflation."

2. High priority will be given to an "intensified program of rural construction."

3. Efforts will be stepped up to bring agricultural knowhow "to the farmer in the fields" and for "more rapid land reform."

4. "Programs in health and education would be intensified."

5. Americans will assist programs to care for refugees including providing schools for refugee children.

In other developments:

—Private consultations at the United Nations aimed at arranging peace talks continued, but divisions were reported among Security Council members.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said "one cannot take seriously" the American Honolulu conferences proposals.

The meeting, it said, was "the site of a collusion between the United States and its Saigon puppets on a new escalation of the dirty war against the people of Viet Nam."

Because of "the statements and obligations made and undertaken by both sides in Honolulu," it said, "one cannot take seriously the assurance in the official communique on the intention . . . to continue the peace offensive."

Storer Shows Douglas Letter From Nelson

County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer today produced a copy of a letter written last Nov. 5 to John M. Douglas, now the county's director of economic development, which he said confirmed his statement yesterday that Douglas had once been told he was ineligible for the job.

The letter, by Martin E. Nelson, personnel analyst in the office of County Administrator Alan Bruce, said in part:

"Due to the large number of individuals who appear to have qualifications more in concert with the job description, we will not be able to invite you to appear before the oral review board at this time . . .

"We wish to emphasize this action is necessary because of the parameters passed on to the personnel department by the board of supervisors and has nothing to do with your otherwise superlative qualifications."

When Storer asserted at yesterday's board session that Douglas had once been told by letter he was eliminated from consideration, Bruce retorted that was not so, that he had been told he was in a "marginal" group of candidates who would be called for interview if others ahead of him dropped out.

Mill Valley and is familiar with water problems. Von Seggern now lives in Sacramento.

"An over-simplification of the flood control solution," Hamilton told the Rotarians, "is to visualize a bath tub with controlled water level and the outflow equal to the inflow.

"If you could conceive of a bath tub where water came in at 10 gallons a minute on one side and was pumped out on the other side at the same rate, you would have achieved instant flood control." This would also apply to 1,500 cubic feet of water per second, he added.

Hamilton did not think it would be expensive to run the pumps, citing there have been but three bad floods in 40 years, the last and worst in December of 1955.

The proposed lake would be bounded by Miller Avenue, Camino Alto and the railroad tracks, and the Methodist Church. Much of this land is filled, but not the city's 18 acres. Bothin estate owns nine acres; Herb Shapiro, seven. Land not owned by the city could be obtained by condemnation, Hamilton said.

"The Holland dike could well be along where the (Northwestern Pacific) railroad track is now," he continued, "and we could construct spillways and a number of pumps to pump the lake dry."

Hamilton said he inspected the entire creek bed from Gardner Street to the bay recently.

He described a poor drainage plan where the cemented channel running under Throckmorton Avenue near Philip Planert's photo studio narrows into an "hour glass"—from 14 feet wide to four feet, nine inches wide. This could have caused flood damage to stores in that area in 1955, he suggested.

The business man compared the proposed lake to a miniature Lake Merritt and to Belvedere Lagoon.

"I say if Holland can take care of the rainfall and pump it back into the North Sea, we ought to be able to take care of a dinky little 30-acre pond so we don't have any floods," he declared.

first contact with the drug came after the Lagunitas girl passed her a note in class, asking if she would like to try marijuana.

These girls and two of the others who will receive citations were the first persons whose names were given police by a concerned father, whose daughter had told him of marijuana sales and possession on the school campus. His complaint touched off an investigation which eventually implicated 13 students at the high school.

Another girl slated for citation said she smoked the drug for the first time in Carmel, along with the two girls just mentioned. The next time, she said, was on a hill near Greenfield Avenue in San Anselmo, when she and the two girls rolled their own cigarettes.

Another of the girls allegedly came to the police station with her mother and told officers she smoked the drug twice in New York and once on Mount Tamalpais, when she was alone. She said she purchased the marijuana in San Francisco.

Still another to be cited is a girl who went to the police station with her father and recounted purchasing a box of the drug from the Lagunitas brother, then waiting several weeks for its delivery. When it arrived, she said, she sold it to a fellow student in the high school little theater.

Chief Buchignani today said his report to county juvenile authorities was incorrect when it stated the father of the Lagunitas brother and sister team had once told school Principal Francis P. Shafer that he and his wife smoked the drug in front of their children.

The man never made that statement, the chief said. It got into the report because of a misunderstood telephone conversation between police and the vice principal, Chief Buchignani said.

At yesterday's meeting, the chief said, county juvenile authorities said they would try to talk with the Lagunitas parents and their children Friday. Police hope the ultimate source of the drug will be revealed in this and other interviews with implicated students and their parents.

Chief Buchignani said no student, other than the 13 junior students at the high school already mentioned, has been implicated in the case. He said his department will want to talk with those of the 13 who have not already been questioned.

Vice Principal Shafer today said the school will take no action on the case until juvenile authorities have ended their interrogation of students and parents.

Discipline, he said, "will probably vary, depending on the youngster and the degree of the seriousness of his involvement in the case."

The police investigation, he said, "has served as a good jumping off point for teachers" in classroom discussions of drugs and drug addiction.

"It gives them a chance to discuss the problem a little more specifically," he commented.

Fairfax Trustees Begin Review Of Policy Book

The Fairfax School District Board last night began a review of its policy handbook, anticipating the transition in July from retiring Supt. Homer L. Sisk to his newly appointed successor, William Trevethick.

"It's a long, hard job bringing the handbook, which expresses your entire educational philosophy, up to date with the changes in thinking which you've made over the years," Sisk explained.

The board spent several hours reviewing the first eight pages of the 28-page book, but no major policy change was made, according to Sisk.

The board approved a warrant for $43,000 as the district's share of payment in the construction of an access road to the White Hill School site.

Commission Asks Pay For Chief

The Marinwood Fire Commission last night recommended that Fire Chief James Cameron receive $225 for filling in during a three-week period when the department was short one fireman.

The recommendation will go to directors of the Marinwood Community Services District.

Commission members reelected Donald A. Duerr as chairman and Wayne Campbell as vice chairman.

Prelates Will Use Papal Altar

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI has ruled that certain prelates may celebrate mass on the papal altars of Rome's patriarchal Basilicas.

The papal altars in the Roman Basilicas have in the past been reserved for the Pope except in special instances when permission was given for their use by others.

The Pope has extended the use of the altars to bishops leading large pilgrimages, cardinal archpriests of the Basilicas or their delegates and the abbots of monasteries attached to the Basilicas.

Woman Vanishes After Return From Red China

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mrs. Beverly Reilly, who disappeared into Red China for 19 days, returned last night to America—and vanished again.

She arrived in San Francisco by airplane from Hong Kong via Honolulu, and then slipped away by automobile.

Flash bulbs and a crowd of newsmen and curiosity seekers greeted Mrs. Reilly, 38, as she stepped from the plane. She repeatedly said "No comment. No comment" as she hurried along an airport ramp.

The fullest explanation Mrs. Reilly has given of her visit to Red China was a remark to newsmen just before leaving Hong Kong.

She said she "wanted to make a living in China as a human being." She refused to elaborate or to say anything about the time she spent in Communist country from Jan. 11 to Jan. 30.

Novato Chief Reports Solicitor Ban Works

Novato's anti-soliciting ordinance is working very well, Police Chief Robert Di Grazia last night told the Novato City Council.

In the six months prior to its adoption, police received 40 complaints about solicitors, Di Grazia said. In the six months since it was adopted, they have received only 22 complaints. Of these, 10 were in the first month, he added.

SOVIET BUGS HELPFUL, IF USED RIGHT

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Barber B. Conable Jr., R-N.Y., says that "talking to a wall in the Soviet Union is not as fruitless as at home."

During a recent trip to Russia he was warned by U.S. officials that his every word would be surreptitiously monitored. He decided to test this out later when his flight to Tashkent was canceled and he got nowhere at the airport trying to arrange alternate passage.

"Returning to my hotel room, I complained in a loud voice about how bad a system must be that treated visitors so shabbily," he said in a report to his constituents yesterday. "Shortly afterward, there came a call from the airline, offering a seat on the next plane."

Jury Trial Scheduled In Possession Case

San Rafael Planners Favor Revoking Auto Yard Permits

After an hour and 40 minutes of hearing, complete with court reporter, five members of the San Rafael Planning Commission last night recommended that the city council revoke the use permits of two auto storage yards on Jordan Street.

Permits were issued Aug. 24 to Richard Isi and Sept. 20 to Robert L. Thompson and Louis P. Aquilino. Each was issued by the city council after denial by the commission, and it was the council that ordered last night's hearings.

Only dissent came on the vote over Thompson and Aquilino's firm at 51 Jordan Street. Commissioner V. Judson Klein urged that the firm be given a month to start complying with conditions of its permit.

Besides bringing in a court reporter, Chairman Fred C. Robbins swore in witnesses and drew heavily on the advice of City Atty. David Menary Jr. for the "quasi-judicial" hearings.

Commissioners dealt first with Isi's permit, and were warned by Menary that there was "some question as to the validity" of the seven conditions attached to it, because he failed to receive word of them until about three weeks after the council approved the permit.

Menary urged that the commission's decision be based solely on whether Isi had violated "laws, ordinances or provisions of the municipal code" in using his permit.

When Commissioner Carl S. Brown questioned Menary on why he and his colleagues had to overlook the conditions of the permit, Commissioner Klein interjected that Menary was in effect saying Isi would have an unconditional permit if it were not revoked. Menary agreed.

Menary issued no such warning in the second hearing, in which Thompson complained he was not given the cooperation of the planning department when he tried to find out if he was complying with conditions of the permit.

One condition called for painted wooden fencing all the way around the lot. Linthicum produced photographs showing this had not been done. Thompson said he thought the redwood fence across the front, with wire fencing elsewhere, was sufficient.

Another condition said the firm must not dismantle cars. Menary said Thompson violated this by taking off the hoods, trunk lids and tires. Thompson insisted this was not "dismantling."

Commissioner Pat Hetherton was absent. Commissioner Thomas R. O'Toole, who was present for the rest of the meeting, stayed outside the chambers during the junk yard hearings.

Mrs. McMahon Leaves Board

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mrs. Clarissa Shortall McMahon has resigned from the Board of Supervisors.

A supervisor since 1953, she cast the decisive ballot that scuttled the controversial Panhandle Golden Gate Park freeway last year.

Mayor John F. Shelley said Mrs. McMahon gave no reason for her resignation, but that illness had forced her to miss some board meetings.

Shelley said he received her resignation Tuesday afternoon.

Neighbors Again Oppose Rezoning

Residents of San Rafael's Dominican area demonstrated last night that they are just as opposed to the latest plan for use of the old Coleman School property at 1711 Grand Avenue as they were to two previous plans which were turned down by the city.

They turned out in force at the first hearing on a plan to use the site for professional offices and headquarters of the Marin Crippled Children's Society.

Owners of the old school, which was used for 20 years by the county as an office building, are Richard R. Pelton of Ross, Nat S. Burmeister of San Rafael and the San Rafael law firm of Bagley, Bernt, Bianchi and Sheeks. They have asked that the site be zoned as a planned community district, and have applied for a permit to replace the old building with at least two new structures.

John C. Bernt, a partner in the law firm, said he hoped the new plan would not stir up fears that it would establish a precedent of commercial development. He argued that the school was the only building in the area which had been used for 20 years as offices and said the triangular site was "100 per cent unusable as a residential site" due to the closeness of Highway 101.

The opponents, however, made it clear their fears had never subsided. A spokesman, Merle Greenblat of 23 Grand Court, said residents were "in total, diametrically opposed again to any rezoning."

Greenblat challenged the owners' claim that 10,000 square feet of the property had been donated to the crippled children's society, and contended that society's membership had not been given a voice in the decision.

"I am ashamed that the Easter Seal Society can be used as a wedge," said Greenblat.

This, in turn, brought denials by Rev. Fred C. Braunschweiger, acting society president, and Harry J. Cooper Jr., its vice-president.

"I have the feeling," said Braunschweiger, "that somebody thinks we are being used. This is not the case."

Cooper said society directors had sought a new home because its present headquarters at 629 Mission Avenue is to be torn down by the Division of Highways.

Another spokesman for the opponents was attorney Max Thelen Jr. of 199 Mountain View Avenue, who took strong issue with Bernt's statement that approval would set no precedent.

"There is nothing unique about it at all," he said. Many other home sites in the area, he said, are just as close to the highway or the nearby Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks, and could be turned into commercial sites.

"In other words, they are saying 'approve this for me, then slam the door'," said Thelen. "If that's not spot zoning, I don't know what you call it."

Mrs. Carter B. Smith of 250 Linden Lane warned that allowing "creeping commercialism" along Grand Avenue would result in an "exodus of your middle class" from the area.

At the hearing's close, Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. praised the 40 or 50 opponents for their good conduct during the sessions. Previous hearings on the site were spiced with emotional audience participation.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

1. Recommended to the city council, on the advice of City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen, that proposed zoning of the courthouse square site be shelved until the county gets the results of its studies on the property, which will be sold in connection with construction of the Hall of Justice wing at Civic Center.

2. Held first hearing on the application of Robert L. Menzies to rezone 1428 Mission Avenue, in one of the new "B-D" districts so he can put apartment units on it. The parcel is now split between single family and apartment districts.

3. Approved subdivision of the new KTIM-FM transmitter site on San Rafael Hill into two lots, subject to city council approval. Vote was 5-1, with Commissioner Carl S. Brown dissenting as he felt it should not require council action.

4. Postponed action on a use permit for the San Rafael Co-Operative Nursery School at 224 Picnic Avenue.

5. Granted a use permit and approved plans submitted by M and T Inc. for a motion picture theater in the Northgate Shopping Center.

6. Granted a permit for a figure salon and physical and mechano therapy outlet on Professional Center Parkway at the frontage road.

7. Approved plans of Brandon Tire Supply for a sales, service and warehouse building on the south side of the Lincoln Avenue extension near the railroad tracks.

8. Postponed action for two weeks on plans of Jack's Heating and Plumbing for an addition to a warehouse on the Redwood Highway frontage road south of Joseph Court.

9. Approved plans for an addition to the Fairchild Semiconductor plant on the Redwood Highway frontage road north of Joseph Court.

10. Approved plans submitted by Phil Smith for a warehouse in Northgate Industrial Park, on Carlos Drive.

11. Set for March 8 and 22 hearings on a permit sought by Aureguy and MacKenzie for a theater and shopping center across Highway 101 from Terra Linda.

Pope Alters Book Listing Procedures

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI has abolished the Curia office that judges writing for the Roman Catholic Church's index of forbidden books.

The Pope's action did not mean an end to surveillance of books by Church authorities, but Vatican sources said it signified a totally new approach.

The Curia office known as the Section for the Censure of Books was omitted in the listings of the 1966 pontifical yearbook which came out today.

In line with this program, the title of "Supreme Congregation of the Holy Office" was changed in the new pontifical yearbook to "Sacred Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith."

By dropping the adjective "supreme" the Pope put the office on the same level with the other congregations in the Curia, the central administration of the Roman Catholic Church.

Sanitary Board Assures Service

The Tiburon Sanitary District Board Monday night assured the Southern Pacific Co. that sewage facilities can be provided for subdivision of the abandoned Northwestern Pacific Railroad yard in Tiburon.

The board authorized hiring C. B. Dunning of Tiburon as part-time employee at $3 per hour.

The district's attorney, Lawrence Jensen, was instructed to see whether federal funds can be obtained to aid in purchasing a sludge vacuum filter for the treatment plant at Paradise Drive and Mar West Street. Estimated cost for the filter is $30,000.

Pennell Declares For Mill Valley Council

WILLARD H. PENNELL
Doctor for council

Dr. Willard H. Pennell announced today he is a candidate for the Mill Valley City Council in the April 12 election. He is the fifth person to announce for the two seats at stake in the election.

Today also, Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks, on the council since 1957, announced he will not be in the race.

Pennell, 40, is a consultant in neurology at Stanford Medical School, for the San Francisco Board of Education and the Crippled Children's Service. He is also chief of the neurology clinic at Presbyterian Medical Center, San Francisco. He is in private practice in San Francisco.

A resident of Mill Valley for 10 years, Pennell lives at 70 Longfellow Drive, and is president of the Enchanted Knolls Homeowners Assn.

He was graduated from University of California at Berkeley, and from the university's medical school. He served his internship and residency in Boston and New York hospitals and served in the Air Force during the Korean War, stationed in Tokyo as neuro-psychiatric consultant for the Far East Air Force. He was discharged as a major.

His wife, Joan, is a registered nurse and American Red Cross instructor. The Pennells have three children, Marilyn, 12, Robert, 11, and Richard, 10.

"I feel it is time to yield to others who will doubtless bring new vigor and fresh ideas to our city's government," said Sheeks in announcing he would not run for re-election.

Sheeks became a city planning commissioner in 1956 and a councilman when the late T. J. DeLasaux resigned to take a position on the Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission. He was elected ot the council in 1958 and again in 1962, and served as mayor, 1962-64. Sheeks is an attorney with the San Rafael firm of Bagley, Bernt, Bianchi and Sheeks.

Board Approves Revisions In Plans For Auditorium

County supervisors yesterday approved several revisions in the proposed Veterans' Memorial Auditorium, including provision for a fixed balcony which would add 500 seats.

William Wesley Peters of the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation said there would be no change in cost of the first phase development, still estimated at $2,163,200. This would provide an auditorium with 1,960 seats and give structure support for the balcony, to be finished later at $200,000 more.

Peters also said the building would have a dome, similar to the dome above the county library at the civic center, rather than the flat roof as originally proposed.

Other changes include provision for acoustic curtains on side walls of the auditorium and a shell that would slide across the stage loft during musical performances.

The auditorium, to be built on the Civic Center grounds, will have 800 fixed seats, with the rest movable.

Final plans are expected in July.

Mill Valley Employees To Fete Four Retirees

Four City of Mill Valley employees, who are retiring this year, are to be honored at a party from 5 to 7 p.m. today at the Community and Youth Center by the employees' association.

Penders will retire Friday on his 60th birthday. He started working for the city in 1949 as golf course superintendent and, for the past 14 years, has been park superintendent. His position will be covered by Don Dimitratos, hired last July as park and recreation director.

Penders, who lives at 93 Buena Vista Avenue with his wife, Marjorie, plans to remain in Mill Valley and will work for a private landscape construction company.

Mrs. Sloan, secretary at the Mill Valley public library, will retire next April 1. She has worked at the library about 15 years.

"I'm a grandmother and I hope to enjoy my children and grandchildren and a nice garden and be free to have some trips with my husband," said Mrs. Sloan. She and her husband, Richard Sloan, live at 65 Hillside Avenue.

Victor Paulsen, senior groundsman, will retire on his birthday next Aug. 17. He has worked nine years for the city and lives at 544 Marin Avenue.

Giesecke, senior treatment plant operator, who has been employed by the city 15 years, is to retire next Dec. 1. He lives at 425 Throckmorton Avenue and says he plans to live in the Sierra Nevada after retiring.

Lagunitas Parents Due To Hear McCabe

George E. McCabe, dean of the school of education at Sonoma State College and potential candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress, will speak on "Education by the Heels" at 8 p.m. Feb. 16 in the multipurpose room of Lagunitas School.

McCabe's appearance will be as part of a Founders' Day program of the Lagunitas School Parent-Teacher Assn. The observance will include honors to past P-TA presidents and a short business meeting. Coffee and refreshments will be served.

Utility Ordinance Delayed For Lack Of Right Name

Adoption of an ordinance requiring undergrounding of utilities in connection with street widening projects on designated streets was held up for lack of a name at yesterday's meeting of Marin County Supervisors.

Supervisors and department heads were unable to think of what the streets should be called.

The ordinance, prepared by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney in cooperation with Publics Works Director Donald R. Frost, used the term "parkways." But the county's new planning director, Paul Zucker, objected that this name has other connotations in both legal and planning nomenclature.

Supervisors wrinkled their brows and came up with such things as "county ways," "cable ways," "view ways," "Marinways," and so on. None was accepted.

Supervisors asked that someone come up with a name by their meeting next Tuesday.

The ordinance, already revised once, would require utility companies to bear the cost of underground in their rights of way in connection with street widening or major improvement.

The board hopes to get the ordinance adopted in time for it to have effect in the San Pedro Road improvement project, a joint city-county job. The city of San Rafael has already adopted a similar ordinance, but it is based on areas rather than on designation of a street with some kind of special monicker.

Legion To Fete Boy Scout Units

The program is for Cub Scout Pack 1, Boy Scout Troop 1, Sea Scout Shop 1 and Explorer Post 1, all of which the post sponsors.

Newton Stacey, commissioner of tourism and trade for Canada, will show colored films on Canadian recreation. Paul J. Dunn, scout executive, Marin Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be the main speaker, and Woodrow Smith, assistant executive, will present charters to the four scout units. Refreshments will be served. Post Commander Theodore Greubel reported.

Mossler Trial Figure Raps Sex Motive

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A friend and protege of Jacques Mossler testified today that Mossler's wife, Candace, tried to convince the witness after her husband's slaying that the victim had been a homosexual.

"Was Mr. Mossler a honosexual?" the witness, Vincent Caltagirone, was asked.

"Definitely not," he replied.

However, this exchange was stricken from the record shortly afterward when Caltagirone testified under cross-examination that he could not himself define homosexuality.

Caltagirone, 39, a former employe of Mossler, was divorced in 1961 from the sister of Jack Valenti, a close aide to President Lyndon B. Johnson. His relations with the Mossler family preceded and followed the divorce. At one time, he shared an apartment with Mossler.

Mrs. Mossler, who gives her age as 39, is on trial with her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, 29, for first-degree murder in the June 30, 1964 bludgeon-stabbing of her multimillioanire husband. The state describes Mrs. Mossler and her nephew as lovers.

Caltagirone, of Houston, Tex., testified that about a month after the slaying of the 69-year-old Mossler, Mrs. Mossler telephoned him. "She told me Mr. Foreman (defense attorney Percy Foreman) was coming to Miami to investigate Mr. Mossler's death. She asked me to cooperate with him and I assured her I would," he testified.

"She said Mr. Foreman would be interested in the names of gay (homosexual) people her husband knew of gay places he had gone to, or phone calls or knocks on the door at night.

"I said there wern't any of those things and she said but there must have been. I said there wasn't. She said he must have kept it from me."

"It's a mean, nasty case, your honor," State Atty. Richard Gerstein told Circuit Judge George Schulz Tuesday after a day of turbulent, legal infighting.

Novato Boys Club To Be Discussed

Organizational meeting for a boys club for Novato will be held at 7:30 p.m., next Wednesday in the Novato Community House, according to Joseph Bonomolo, who is working for such a club.

E. L. McKenzie, regional director of boys clubs, presented slides and spoke on the boys clubs activities before a small group Monday night in the Novato Community House. It was decided then to go ahead and get a temporary board of directors for a non-profit corporation to start the boys club, Bonomolo said.

Mill Valley Planners Grant Church Permit

Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, in the planning stage for many years, got the go-ahead last night from the Mill Valley Planning Commission with 5-1 approval of a use permit and variances permitting a 140-foot spire, 50 parking places instead of 180, and a six-foot front yard setback.

Commissioner Mrs. Alan F. Kappelman voted "no". Commissioner Richard J. Hiatt was absent.

Plans, which include church and rectory, are to go before the City Council Feb. 21, said Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon.

Opposition was voiced in three letters, two objections being to parking and one against the size of the church. About six persons voiced opposition from the audience, mainly objecting to proposed cuts and fills as related to their property.

The commission agreed to begin showing planning films at the start of each second meeting of the month, the first to be Mar. 22, to be followed by discussion of the film.

It was agreed to meet, tentatively Mar. 15, at the Outdoor Art Club with businessmen and property owners to discuss for the second time planning in the city's three commercial areas in connection with federal planning funds approved by Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Public hearing was set Mar. 8 on a one-way street system, going south and east, for a portion of Woodbine Drive, and the general circulation plan for the North Ridge.

Plans were approved for Larry Brink to add on another "half" to the Del's Liquor Store building at 653 East Blithedale Avenue, the new addition to contain a used car business, real estate office and added storage for Del's. Plan approval was also given Dill and Sederberg for an addition to their building at 290 Camino Alto.

Coins Stolen

Approximately $100 in coins from the collection of Larry D. Van Aman, 12, were stolen during the weekend from the library of Davidson Junior High School. Vice principal Herbert J. Witt told police Monday. The coins were locked in a display case in the library, but the key was taken from a desk drawer in the room.

TB Tests Given In Mill Valley

Tuberculin tests were administered to 2,932 pupils of Mill Valley elementary schools Monday, according to Helane Anderson of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

This was about 85 per cent of the 3,459 pupils enrolled.

The team of 16 doctors which gave the tests is expected to know their results Thursday, she said. An average of one per cent of the youngsters has shown a reaction in past tests.

Drivers Escape Hurt In Novato Collision

James Richard Wilson, 30, of 84 Trish Drive, Novato, was examined and released with no apparent injury at Novato Hospital following an accident at 4:50 p.m. Monday at San Marin Drive and San Carlos Way.

Novato police reported that Wilson's eastbound car on San Marin Drive collided with a westbound pickup truck driven by John Donald Hughes, 48, of 55 Half Moon Road, Novato, as it made a left turn onto San Carlos Way.

Plush Homes Fall As Cliff Slides

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The second earthslide in six years has damaged or destroyed homes on a hillside in suburban Pacific Palisades.

The slow-motion slide began after the hillside was drenched by weekend rain. Two houses in the 700-block of Enchanted Way were demolished and one was injured.

The houses, ranging in price from $50,000-$60,000, had been evacuated.

Gym, Library Job Approved By Board

After receiving a protest from Ideal Construction Co. of Novato, second low bidder, Supt. Bert Corona recommended that the contract for the base bid only be awarded.

Page bid $175,900 on the base bid and $2,200 on the alternate for a total bid of $178,100, while Ideal bid $176,579 on the base bid and $1,764 on the alternate for a total of $178,343. The third bidder, Crown Development Co., had a total bid of $206,000.

The board also received word that San Rafael High School District will receive $18,346 in Vocational Education Act funds for a business education project.

The board also authorized an agreement with the state Department of Rehabilitation for setting up a vocational rehabilitation program in the high school district, at no cash cost to the district.

The program is slated to operate under a cooperative agreement between the department and the Novato Unified, Tamalpais and San Rafael high school districts and the Marin County Schools Office.

Russell K. Bowden, rehabilitation supervisor of the State Department of Education, said the project will serve physically and mentally handicapped students of employable age.

The resolution was passed by a 4-0 vote with Lawrence I. Kramer abstaining because the Department of Rehabilitation is a client of his.

The San Rafael Board of Education also:

1. Received a report from staff members on special programs offered, such as athletics, adult education, counseling and transportation, as a preliminary step toward forming 1966-67 budgets.

2. Approved hiring the firm of Abbot A. Hanks, San Rafael, as testing laboratory for the rehabilitation project at San Rafael High School and the library and gymnasium addition at Santa Venetia Junior High School.

3. Approved a change order in the Davidson Junior High School gymnasium construction, deleting folding partitions and plastic panels at a saving of $8,665.

4. Accepted a gift of electronic parts and equipment valued at $400 from Victor E. Sloman to Terra Linda High School.

5. Approved hiring of Mrs. Lorraine Benoit as half-time special education secretary at $1,820 a year; Alice Hutchinson, teacher at Laurel Dell Primary School, $5,500 a year; Floyd Newgen, building inspector for rehabilitation project at San Rafael High School, $750 a month; Mrs. Lena Phillips, bus driver, $2.22 an hour; Rolf Singlemann, custodian at Coleman School, $4,520 a year, and Mrs. Patricia Sweeney, teacher, West End School, $8,800 a year.

6. Accepted resignations of Mrs. Narbeth Powell, third grade teacher at Short School, and Mrs. Carol Whitelaw, physical education teacher at Terra Linda High School, effective June 30, and Richard Mastin, bus driver, effective Jan. 21.

7. Adjourned to a closed session on a matter which Supt. Bert C. Corona refused to disclose other than to say he had advice of the county counsel that it could be discussed in secret.

Other Car Blamed For Fatal Crash

It was not the Lawrence car—in which Marie E. Lawrence of San Rafael was killed in Alameda County last Thursday—which spun out of control and crossed a dividing line, a California Highway Patrol investigation has disclosed.

Wallace Moss, deputy Alameda County coroner, had first reported the westbound car driven by her husband, contractor Frank Allen Lawrence had crossed the line in the fatal head-on collision with an eastbound car driven by Hon Toe Lee, 39, of San Francisco.

Actually, according to the highway patrol, Lee's car spun out of control after passing another eastbound automobile and entered the westbound lane.

Lee was cited for driving at an unsafe speed on the wet and slippery stretch of Highway 50, two miles east of Livermore.

Mrs. Lawrence, 54, was dead on arrival at an Alameda hospital. Lawrence suffered broken ribs and other injuries in the accident. The Lawrence home is at 111 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia.

American Style Nut Rolls Are Popular With Drop In Guests

Here comes an American version of an old-world recipe that has been popular for years.

These nut rolls are made with a yeast and sour cream dough. The recipe is a big one, so it's good to bake when lots of company is expected.

When we tried these nut rolls, and after our tasters had gobbled up as much as they could comfortably eat, we carted off the rest as a weekend gift. Our hostess stored them in the refrigerator and before serving them, heated them in the oven or sliced and lightly toasted them.

FOUR NUT ROLLS

½ cup warm (105 degrees) water
2 packages active dry yeast
6½ cups unsifted regular flour
3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup (2 sticks) butter or margarine, melted
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup commercial sour cream
Pecan Filling or Maple Walnut Filling

Grease 2 large cookie sheets (each 15½ by 12 inches).

Into a small warm bowl, pour the warm water; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved.

In a large mixing bowl, stir together the flour, sugar and salt; stir in the melted butter, slightly beaten eggs and sour cream. Add the dissolved yeast and mix well; let dough stand for 10 minutes.

Divide dough into 4 equal pieces. On a lightly floured board, roll out each piece, one at a time, into a 14 by 12 inch rectangle. Spread each with one-fourth of either the Pecan Filling or the Maple Walnut Filling. Roll up each from 12-inch side; seal edges by pressing together. Place 2 rolls, sealed edges down, well apart from one another, on each of the prepared cookie sheets. Cover with a clean cloth; let rise in a draft-free, warm (80 to 82 degrees) place until doubled in bulk—about 1 hour.

Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven about 35 to 40 minutes. Using 2 wide spatulas, remove to wire racks to cool; may be served warm or reheated. Rolls are not sweet, so if you like, you may sprinkle confectioners sugar over those you are going to serve immediately.

PECAN FILLING

7 cups finely ground pecans (four 6-ounce cans)
1 cup (2 sticks) butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
4 tablespoons vanilla extract (yes, this amount is correct)

Use an electric blender or the fine blade of a food chopper to prepare the pecans; turn them into a large mixing bowl. In a small saucepan, over low heat, melt the butter. Remove from heat and stir in the sugar and vanilla; add to the pecans and mix well. Use as filling for Four Nut Rolls.

MAPLE NUT FILLING

5 cups finely ground walnuts
¾ cup (1½ sticks) butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
4 tablespoons maple extract (yes, this amount is correct)

Use an electric blender or the fine blade of a food chopper to prepare the walnuts; turn them into a large mixing bowl. In a small saucepan, over low heat melt the butter. Remove from heat and stir in the sugar and maple extract; add to the walnuts and mix well. (If you do not like maple extract, substitute 3 tablespoons of vanilla extract for it.)

A really hearty salad!
Tossed Sardine Salad Rolls
Fruit Beverage

TOSSED SARDINE SALAD

3 medium tomatoes
2 cups torn salad greens
½ of an 8-inch cucumber, pared and thinly sliced
¼ cup thin strips cheddar cheese
Tomato Dressing, seasoning salt, salt, pepper
1 can (3¾ ounces) brisling sardines

Remove skins from tomatoes; halve and squeeze out seeds; cut into thin strips. In a shallow serving bowl, toss the tomatoes with the salad greens, cucumber and cheese; add Tomato Dressing, seasoning salt, salt and pepper to taste. Drain sardines and arrange over tossed salad. Makes 2 large servings.

Granny Girls, Beatle Boys Will Like 'Swinger' Salad

If some of the teen-age argot heard in recent years were used to describe the quality of a food recipe, just picture the puzzled reaction of a large portion of the adult population.

Take the words "tough" and "cool," most flattering adjectives as used by the younger set. Apply these words to "Seafood Ring-a-Ding," and Granny girls and Beatle boys alike would know immediately that it's a top-notch main dish — a real "swinger." But English language traditionalists, convinced that something tough is hard to chew and that a cool entree won't fill the bill when they want a hot one, would avoid it like slang.

Actually, the ring of shredded western lettuce which stunningly sets off this platter is cool—chilled to put it literally. Chilling accents the crispness and delightful crunchiness of the monarch of salad greens. However, the delightfully seasoned mixture of shrimp, oysters, mushrooms and tomatoes inside the iceberg ring is heated to provide a highly satisfying meatless treat.

SEAFOOD RING-A-DING

1 head western iceberg lettuce
1 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 can (14½ oz.) solid pack peeled tomatoes
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon cornstarch
⅓ cup dry vermouth or ¼ cup water plus 1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 can (4-oz.) mushroom buttons, undrained
1 can (4½-oz.) medium deveined shrimp, rinsed, drained
1 can (8-oz.) small whole oysters, rinsed, drained

Core, rinse and drain lettuce. Chill in plastic bag or saran. Saute onion and garlic in butter in skillet until golden. Add tomatoes, salt and pepper; simmer 5 minutes. Blend cornstarch and vermouth; pour into tomato mixture and bring to boil, stirring constantly. Add mushrooms, shrimp and oysters; bring to boil. Cut lettuce lengthwise into halves; place cut-sides down and shred enough to measure 6 cups. Refrigerate any remaining lettuce for use another time. Arrange shredded lettuce ring on round serving platter. Pour hot mixture into center of ring. Serve at once.

Makes 6 servings.

For Sweet Dreams Of Cupids Try Creamy Cherry Desserts

The deep cold days and somber skies that herald the coming of February in most of our land bring little promise of spring. There's a waning interest in winter sports and little desire to challenge the slippery city streets. This is the time to move into a warm kitchen and cook up unexpected treats for family and friends. There's time to leaf through cookbooks, to unearth almost forgotten recipes and to search papers for new ideas. Happy chance gave us three holidays to celebrate and to help speed the second month along.

HERE ARE IDEAS bright with tart red cheries, the fruit of February's special days. We may be hard pressed to prove that the fence rails Lincoln split were really cherrywood, but the attachment of Washington to the cherry tree is a legend of our country. Look a bit further and you'll find it takes little imagination to tie the ruby fruit to Valentine's Day.

School children still cut the black paper silhouettes of Washington and Lincoln to celebrate their birthdays. Let their cutouts grace the table while mother serves one of these cherry inspired foods. We suggest a tricky ham loaf, seasoned with stuffing mix, scored with a wooden spoon handle to make individual loaves and topped with cherry sauce. Children love the idea of their own little meat loaf and it is a clever way to divide a company-sized casserole. You will know exactly how many servings you set before the hungry crowd. Little chance of running short when the food is portion controlled. Or bake a spicy cake, moist and tangy with cherries, frost it with fluffs of white icing and call it a birthday cake.

FOR A NIGHT of sweet dreams of cupids and things, end the dinner on Valentine's Day with a special dessert. A creamy bavarian, cherries afloat, can be poured into a glass bowl and allowed to set. It can be made even more spectacular by crowning it with a pyramid of whipped cream pushed through a large star pastry tube. For the pie lover in your house, try this creamy cherry one. Easy to do, the crust is fashioned of gingersnaps; the filling made of pudding mix. We suggest cooking your own cherry mixture but cherry pie filling would make a perfect substitute. The cream rosettes can be made with a leaf tube and a pastry bag.

CHERRY BAVARIAN SUPREME

¾ cup sugar
Dash salt
1 3-ounce package cherry-flavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
1 6-oz. can (⅔ cup) evaporated milk, chilled icy cold
1 2-ounce package dessert topping, whipped as directed OR 1 cup heavy cream, whipped and sweetened

Combine cherries, sugar, salt and gelatin; heat, stirring occasionally, until gelatin dissolves. Remove from heat and add cold water. Remove cherries and set aside. Chill remaining mixture until partially set. Add icy milk and beat with an electric mixer at high speed until fluffy and softly peaked. Fold in cherries, reserving a few for garnish. Pour into a serving dish or a 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. At serving time, decorate with a swirl of whipped topping or cream and the reserved cherries.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

SNAPPY CHERRY PIE

2 cups gingersnap crumbs (about 40 cookies)
⅓ cup melted butter

* * * *

1 cup sugar
2½ tablespoons cornstarch
1 1-pound can red tart cherries
½ teaspoon almond extract
Red food coloring

* * * *

1 3-ounce package vanilla pudding mix
2 cups milk
Whipped dessert topping OR heavy cream

Combine gingersnap crumbs and melted butter; press evenly onto bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate. Chill. Combine sugar and cornstarch in a saucepan; add cherries. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Add extract and coloring; cool. Prepare vanilla pudding mix as directed on package, using 2 cups milk; cool. Spread 1 cup of cooled cherry mixture in bottom of crumb crust; top with pudding and remaining cherries. Refrigerate for several hours. At serving time, decorate top with whipped cream put through a pastry bag to makes leaves. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CHERRY JUBILEE CAKE

1 1-pound can red tart cherries
1 cup sugar
¾ cup shortening
¾ cup brown sugar
3 eggs
2½ cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
1 package fluffy white frosting mix

Combine cherries and sugar in a saucepan; bring to a boil. Cool and drain. Cream shortening and brown sugar; add eggs and beat well. Sift dry ingredients together, add to creamed mixture alternately with cherry juice. Beat until smooth. Pour into 2 greased and floured 8x1½-inch cake pans. Sprinkle cherries over the batter. Bake in a 350° oven for 25 minutes or until done. Cool. Prepare frosting mix as directed on package. Frost cake, putting the layers together with the bottoms in the center.

A TOUCH OF SPRING

Novato Garden Club members held a "Tasting Luncheon" yesterday at the San Marin Recreation Club in Novato, when members made their favorits recipes for women members and their guests. More than 140 women attended the luncheon and four of them went home with a touch of spring—tulips. Admiring their prizes are from left, Mesdames B. F. Collier, W. G. Schneeflock, a guest; Mrs. Frank Baccaglio and Mrs. A. T. Beaman. (Independent-Journal photo)

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Cupid Will Reign Supreme Over Marin Weekend Events

By MOLLY MARIN

Hearts and flowers will be the prevailing motif for events on the Tiburon Peninsula this weekend. First party of the year for the San Francisco Yacht Club members will be the St. Valentine dance at the Belvedere clubhouse Saturday. Cocktails will be served at 6 p.m. and dinner at 8 o'clock. William E. Fisher, entertainment chairman will be assisted by Mark Noble, Mike Shea and Robert Rey; Jerry Gillin is reservations chairman.

Among those planning to attend the party are the newly elected commodore, Patrick Kirrane and Mrs. Kirrane, and the retiring commodore, Jeff Capell and Mrs. Capell. Reservations have also been made by Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Smith, Messrs. and Mesdames John Ostrum, Bernhard Baumeister, Joseph Madrigali and Heinz Newman.

MR. AND MRS. ANGELO MIRATA hosted a reception for 75 recently at their home in Tiburon to introduce their future daughter-in-law, Janet Nyberg of Chowchilla, to local friends. Janet will become the bride of Michael Mirata at 3 p.m. ceremonies in Sunnyvale on Saturday (Feb. 12). Assisting at the reception were the Mirata daughters, Peggy, Jean and Nancy.

THE BELVEDERE LAGOON'S Lido fleet members will attend a Valentine dinner dance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Levison on Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Law are assisting with plans for the event.

FASCINATED WITH the stories of their travels in the Middle and Far East are friends of the Kent O. Seymours, who returned to Mill Valley the end of January from a trip begun on Sept. 13. Except for disappointments in not being able to visit the Angkor monuments in Cambodia and Abu Simbel in Egypt where the statues are being lifted above the waters behind the Aswan Dam, Mrs. Seymour said the trip was perfect, with spring-like weather everywhere they went.

They especially enjoyed the beauty of Darjeeling in India, but their most interesting experience in India was visiting their daughter and her husband, Susan and Louis Werner, who are there for two years to do research—she in anthropology and he in political science.

The Seymours were with them at Christmas in Poona, where Susan was studying languages, but she and her husband are now in Bhubaneswar in the state of Orisso, where their research will actually be done.

Rice was rationed because of the situation which has now resulted in widespread starvation, but those who could afford it bought their own wheat and had it ground. On Christmas morning Mr. Seymour, according to his custom at home, prepared pancakes made of this wheat and buffalo milk, all that was available.

The Seymours visited Japan, Hong Kong, Singapore, Thailand, Ceylon, Nepal, Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan and Israel and flew home from Athens after spending two days there.

Cocktails and luncheon at noon at West End Villa in San Rafael will follow the tour.

Mrs. Helen Van Cleave Park, and authority on the history of Marin, will be the guest speaker. Her topic is "Interesting Women in Marin History." Mrs. Park is a history instructor at College of Marin and a member of the Marin Historical Society.

Assisting Mrs. Kane will be Mrs. William Peterson, public relations chairman; Mrs. John P. Harvey, luncheon arrangements; Mrs. Henry Puccinelli, hostess; and Mrs. James Normandi, publicity.

MODERN MATH 3

The Four Arithmetic Basics

By Prof. W. F. Lloyd
University of Tampa

There are four fundamental operations in arithmetic: Addition, multiplication, subtraction and division.

We have all spent hours learning the addition and multiplication tables—the addition and multiplication facts.

A person just had to memorize the facts in the tables. Of course, many explanations or illustrations were made to ease individual acceptance of these facts.

You put down 3 pencils and then placed 2 more pencils beside them and counted 5 pencils to verify that 2 plus 3 equals 5. To keep from getting the idea that the tables applied only to pencils, similar experiments were tried with other objects. Pieces of chalk, wooden blcks and other articles were laid down and then counted.

THESE CAREFULLY planned experiments plus the fearsome force of adult authority soon got you to the point of accepting the tables wholeheartedly so that you memorized them half-heartedly.

Of course, your teachers were careful to work only with such objects so that the experiments came out the way they wanted.

They never tried pouring 2 buckets of water over 3 buckets of dry dirt. You do not get 5 buckets of mud. Two cups of hot water poured over 3 cups of sugar will not give you 5 cups of syrup.

These and similar experiments were carefully avoided because they were messy. They were misleading, and they tended to defeat the purpose of the experiment.

In the first instance there were not 3 buckets of dirt, merely 3 buckets filled to the brim with dry dirt and millions of tiny air spaces between the grains.

In the second instance the sugar is not added to the water; it is dissolved in the water. In the modern texts this handling of objects is largely replaced by pictures of familar objects in sets.

Now let us consider the remaining two operations, subtraction and division. These are defined operations. That is, subtraction can be defined in terms of addition and division in terms of multiplication. Remember that you never studied a subtraction table or a division table.

Subtraction has a doozy of a definition: Subtraction is the process of finding a number called the difference, such that the sum of the difference and the subtrahend equals the minuend. Is that all clear to you? Just try teaching that to a child in the lower grades.

The definition of subtraction is entirely too wordy and obscure, so that the subtraction algorithm is resorted to:

"a minus b equals c if and only if c plus b equals a" where a, b, and c are any numbers.

This does not look much better to many people, but the kids, bless their open little minds, do not fight it the way adults do. They accept it and learn to live with it after careful introduction.

In Modern Math textbooks, for the lower grades, will be found numerous problems similiar to these.

7 plus x equals 15
or 7 plus 0 equals 15
or 7 plus — equals 15
or 7 plus equals 15
(No, this is not algebra)

These problems are designed to lead the child into subtraction. He is supposed to mentally scan through his addition table for 7 until he comes to 7 plus 8 equals 15 and then place 8 in place of x, or of the zero or on the line, or in the blank space. After attaining reasonable proficiency, he is shown that this problem is another form of the problem 15 — 7 equals 0 and that the correct answer is 8.

The child is soon willing to accept the definition that 15 — 7 equals 8 if and only if 7 plus 8 equals 15. From here to the general form a — b equals c if and only if b plus c equals a is not a difficult step for his elastic little mind.

Now let us examine division, the other defined operation with its equally verbose definition. Division is defined as the process of finding a number called the quotient such that the product of the quotient and the divisor equals the dividend. This mess of words is bypassed in favor of the division algorithm: a divided into b equals c if and only if c times b equals a.

This algorithm is introduced by giving problems like 6 times 0 equals 18. The student mentally reviews his 6 table until he comes to the line 6 times 3 equals 18. He now knows that replacing the zero with a 3 will make the statement true. After practice with problems of this form the equivalent form 18 divided into 6 equals 0 is introduced. This algorithm 18 divided into 3 equals 6 if and only if 6 times 3 equals 18. The general form, a divided into b equals c if and only if c times b equals a, is the only step that seems to follow naturally.

This may appear to be a roundabout method to adults who have already learned to subtract and divide, but if you stop to analyze your own experiences you will find that this is essentially the method you used.

Our modern method is very useful when new kinds of numbers such as fractions, decimals and negative numbers are introduced. These algorithms prove helpful in algebra and other advanced mathematics courses.

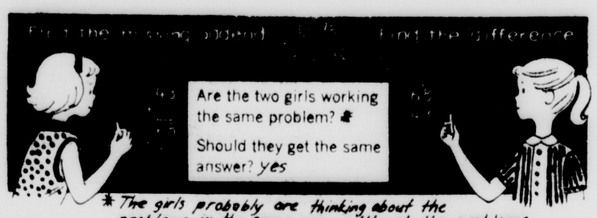
Differences and missing addends



EXERCISES

Copy each exercise on your paper. Then fill in the missing numbers.

[A] 32 + ■■ = 75 [B] 43 + ■■ = 89 [C] ■■ + 31 = 47 [D] 43 + ■■ = 78 [E] 33 + ■■ = 79 [F] 75 + ■■ = 87

Find the differences.

[A] Since 23 + 35 = 58, we know that 58 — 35 = □
[B] Since 42 + 37 = 79, we know that 79 — 42 = □
[C] Since 24 + 61 = 85, we know that 85 — 24 = □
[D] Since 32 + 45 = 77, we know that 77 — 45 = □

Find the differences.

[A] Since 65 + 21 = 86, 86 — 21 = □ and 86 — 65 = □

[B] Since 34 + 25 = 59, 59 — 25 = □ and 59 — 34 = □

Division and multiplication

Subtraction and addition are related.

When we subtract, we find a missing addend.
7 — 2 = □ ← □ + 2 = 7
These two numbers are the same.

Division and multiplication are related.

When we divide, we find a missing factor.
12 ÷ 4 = □ ← □ × 4 = 12
These two numbers are the same.

EXERCISES

Find the quotients.

[A] Since 2 × 4 = 8, we know that 8 ÷ 4 = □
[B] Since 3 × 3 = 9, we know that 9 ÷ 3 = □
[C] Since 5 × 2 = 10, we know that 10 ÷ 2 = □
[D] Since 3 × 5 = 15, we know that 15 ÷ 5 = □
[E] Since 5 × 3 = 15, we know that 15 ÷ 3 = □
[F] Since 4 × 5 = 20, we know that 20 ÷ 5 = □
[G] Since 5 × 4 = 20, we know that 20 ÷ 4 = □
[H] Since 6 × 3 = 18, we know that 18 ÷ 3 = □
[I] Since 3 × 6 = 18, we know that 18 ÷ 6 = □
[J] Since 9 × 8 = 72, we know that 72 ÷ 8 = □

Book Review Set As Benefit For Fellowship Unit

"The Future of Man" by Pierre Teilhard de Chardin S.J., will be reviewed by the Rev. Benton Gaskell at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Community Congregational Church of Belvedere-Tiburon. The book review, second in a series of five, is sponsored by the Women's Fellowship of the church.

Author Teilhard de Chardin, who died in 1955, was a Jesuit scholar who lived in China for a number of years and was credited with a major role in the discovery of Pekin Man. The scientist, philosopher and theologian, noted for his research into man's past, was also greatly concerned with the future of mankind.

Tea will follow the lecture. Dr. L. Jean Bogert and Mrs. Mabel Griffith are tea chairman; Mrs. Frank Neer, reservations chairman.

Swing To Velour

The big swing to velour for spring will be augmented further by a new all synthetic knit velour that both stretches and provides the easy-care of other miracle fabrics. The new knit is a combination of polypropylene and nylon, said the manufacturer, Stretchnit, Inc., and is machine washable, needing only a brief air drying after laundry. The fabric comes in solids and stripe combinations, and is guaranteed against bleeding, cracking, or fading.

Silvery Look

It's the silvery look for the sun-seeking set. The metallic glint dominates long gowns, sweaters, pants suits, dresses, shoes—even shows in stockings worn at winter resorts.

ADMIRAL'S LETTER—Dr. James S. Browne of Greenbrae, a manuscript collector, opens his scrapbook to show a letter from Adm. George Dewey to Mayor J. D. Phelan of San Francisco in which Dewey declined to appear for the dedication of his statue in Union Square.

HUMANIZING HISTORY

Greenbrae Doctor Collects Documents From The Past

Story And Photo
By FRANK FARRARA

A bill of sale from a slave auction . . . a letter by Charles Dickens just before his death . . . a shilling of Continental money.

This is the stuff of history that has kept Dr. Jomes S. Browne of Greenbrae working at his hobby of manuscript collecting for 10 years.

"All human relations can be reduced at some time to a paper or document," he said.

By collecting such papers, letters and documents, Dr. Browne believes he can develop a period in history "as something human, rather than dates."

In a current display at Redwood High School Library, he presents a mixture of newspapers, manuscripts, letters and documents that touch the era of slavery in the U. S.

One of items is a "fredom paper," a document used by a runaway slave to prove that he was established as "a free person."

There are announcements of slave auctions, and several bills of sales.

Dr. Browne said he is now working on a Civil War exhibit for the school.

"I used to collect books, but I lived in an apartment and ran out of space," he said.

His first interest was in 18th Century England, and then the Revolutionary War.

The evidence is in his scrapbook: notes signed by people who fought in the Battle of Bunker Hill . . . an ordinance from the House of Parliament banning stage plays during the English Civil War . . . a bill of lading signed by John Hancock.

Dr. Browne said he is thinking of tackling a broader scope and gathering material "which will show how man regulates relationship to man."

He explained that the contents of the note or letter or document "are important," and the hardest material to get is that writtten by "persons who became famous after death."

The big draws in the manuscript collecting field are Presidents George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, he said.

Browne is a member of the Manuscript Society, a national organization, and has purchased most of his collection from catalogues.

One of his letters which reflects a little of San Francisco history is from Adm. George Dewey to Mayor J. D. Phelan of San Francisco from aboard the flagship, Olympia. In it Dewey declines to attend the dedication of a statue in his honor at Union Square, generally on the grounds that it would be too much like blowing his own horn.

Dr. Browne has a surgeon's chest of instruments from the Civil War, a letter from a soldier telling of President Lincoln's visit, Continental money engraved by Paul Revere, and numerous other signatures from the past.

He explained that his study expands beyond the letter or doucument itself. "I try to find out what was going on the day the letter was written; whether it was just before or just after some big event."

Dr. Browne, a psychiatrist, also reported an interest in obtaining some items relating to early day rulers who were said to be insane.

Gnoss Serves Highest Urbanite Percentage

Which Marin County supervisorial district has the greatest percentage of city dwellers? It is the Fifth District, which includes the city of Novato and a vast area of farmland in northern Marin.

New estimates prepared by the Marin County Planning Department as of Jan. 1 show that the First Supervisorial District, traditionally thought of as the most urban of all, has the fewest city dwellers.

This is due in part to the construction in the unincorporated portions of the district and the fact that a large portion of San Rafael was transferred to the Fourth Supervisorial District.

The figures show that the First District, represented by Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, has 18,750 residents of unincorporated area and 20,746 incorporated, or 52.5 per cent city dwellers.

The Second District, represented by Ernest N. Kettenhofen, has 11,981 in unincorporated, 26,164 incorporated, or 68.6 per cent city dwellers.

The Third District, represented by Peter H. Behr, has 19,855 in unincorporated, 25,731 in incorporated, or 56.4 per cent city dwellers.

The Fourth District, represented by Thomas T. Storer, has 12,093 in unincorporated, 22,579 in incorporated, or 65 per cent city dwellers.

The Fifth District, represented by William A. Gnoss, has 8,011 in unincorporated, 25,932 in incorporated, or 76.4 per cent city dwellers.

The planning department's Jan. 1 estimate shows total county population at 191,842, with 63.2 per cent being city dwellers.

B'nai B'rith Sponsors Drama For Synanon

The Northgate Lodge of B'nai B'rith will sponsor a performance of "Witness for the Prosecution" by the Ross Valley Players for benefit of the Synanon Foundation.

The Agatha Christie play will be presented at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross, at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Symbolic Film Slated

"Dog Star Man," a symbolic film by Stan Brakhage, will be shown Friday and Saturday at 11 p.m. at the Gate Theater in Sausalito. The two-hour film consists of a prelude and four parts and constitutes the central portion of Brakhage's "Art of Vision."

Festival Theater Drama Readied

"All My Sons," Festival Theater's fourth production of the 1865-66 season, will open a six-week run Friday at the theater at 2 Kensington Road, San Anselmo.

Arthur Miller's Critics' Circle Award-winning study of man's responsibility to his family and his society has been directed by Elizabeth Berryhill and features Douglas Saxby, Betty Fuller, Conrad Knudsen and Joan Fritz.

It is presented by the theater as a part of its current "Project Five" programming of American drama of the last five decades.

The production will play Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. and Sundays at 7:30 through March 20.

Harpsichord Concert Will Be Given Again

The Atheneum Arts Foundation will present harpsichordist Margaret Fabrizio in a repeat performance of J. S. Bach's "Art of Fugue" at 8:30 p.m. Friday at the Palace of the Legion of Honor, San Francisco.

The second concert has been scheduled because of the great interest in the premiere performance on Jan. 14.

Coleman Asks Shoreline Road In San Rafael

By ALAN P. CUNNINGHAM

A "shoreline boulevard" running along the east shore of San Rafael's diked tideland area was proposed last night by consultant Daniel P. Coleman as he showed the city planning commission details of a preliminary plan for the area, intended to become part of the city's general plan.

Consideration of the tideland plan is the first phase of a whole new look at the general plan, which the city council sent back to Coleman last March for revisions.

Coleman said the four-lane boulevard could have a dredged boat channel running beside it and could eventually be extended north along Marin County's east shore until it connected with Atherton Avenue in Novato.

SEVERAL DOCKS

He said the boat channel would permit several docks along the boulevard and would make it a waterfront thoroughfare even when the tide was out.

Coleman envisioned the boulevard as one of the key ideas in development of the area to include motels, shopping centers and 1,000 new residential units, as well as industrial uses.

He predicted the shoreline road could go a long way toward solving many of Marin's transportation problems. He said Canal Street, Bellam Boulevard and a connector road from Greenbrae, bridging Highway 17, could serve as links between the boulevard and other areas.

A "strip park" along the easement where high voltage power lines now run could be a barrier between industrial firms and residential or other development, he said.

PRIME PROPERTY

Yacht harbors along San Rafael Canal, plus a regional park which the county is considering at Paganini Point, would combine to make land in the area "prime property," Coleman predicted.

He proposed a drainage canal to serve a section not included in a newly formed assessment district. He said the proposed plan shows about 250 single family and 750 apartment units in the area.

Parts of the bay outside the levee are left alone in the plan at the city council's instructions, Coleman said, but he promised to discuss later what might be done if that area is eventually developed.

Commissioners continued the hearing to March 22 to give citizens a chance to look over the plan which was put on display in the city council chamber.

Cal-Vet Loans Interest Rate Will Stay Same

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Interest rates on Cal-Vet farm and home loans will remain at 3¾ per cent despite interest rate increases elsewhere, the State Veterans Finance Committee said yesterday.

"We have decided to hold the line for our California veterans," said Joseph M. Farber, director of veterans affairs. The finance committee confirmed the low rate yesterday.

Farber reported there is no prospect for radical change in the Cal-Vet program.

"Even with the addition of Veterans from Viet Nam and cold war expeditions and the 100 per cent increase in the amount of our farm loan, we will be able to maintain the program at its present rate without asking for another bond issue," Farber said.

Don't Be Duped By Sales Pitches Of Bunko Artists

Don't be duped by door-to-door salesmen who come unannounced with "free" or "bargain" offers or a promise to "pay you money for every name you refer to us."

These could be baits for various bunco schemes currently being practiced.

This is the warning that comes from the state Consumer Counsel's office, headed by Helen E. Nelson of Mill Valley.

The reputable businessman established in your community, who has a reputation of long-standing to protect, is your best safeguard, Mrs. Nelson explains. "One of the staunchest protections for the consumer is the honorable, conscientious merchant whose business dealings reflect a genuine desire to serve rather than exploit the needs and desires of consumers."

A little booklet issued by the Consumer Counsel gives pointers on "How to spot a swindle." Here are a few of the tips:

1. The sales pitch that offers you money for supplying names of prospective customers or for letting your home be used as a "model" to demonstrate a product. It could be a gimmick to get your signature on an installment sales contract. This "referral racket" has victimized countless California families.

2. The smooth approach that opens with, "We are making a survey" or "Congratulations, you are the lucky winner . . ." The goal is usually the same—get your signature on a contract.

3. Be wary of publications offered "free," except for weekly "handling" or "postage" charges. Some consumers have been stunned to find they've signed an agreement to pay $40 or $50.

4: Don't be rushed into signing any papers. Take time to investigate. If a salesman says a "good bargain" won't wait until tomorrow, be cautious. Ethical sellers and established businesses are willing to have you investigate their product.

5. Find out the cash price of the product or service. Never mind if you can't pay cash. Ask anyway, to get a basis for comparing similar goods. Don't be satisfied with a figure quoting monthly payments.

6. Beware of swindlers posing as "inspectors" checking on termites, plumbing or heating equipment. Their trick is to claim some unsafe condition, then offer to do the job. If approached by an "official inspector," check his credentials.

7. Know your rights. Don't be tricked into believing you must pay a penalty for legally exercising your right to cancel an installment sales contract. If you think you have legal grounds for canceling, consult a lawyer.

If the seller refuses to give clear-cut answers, check with the police, the district attorney, or the Better Business Bureau.

When sharp or fraudulent practices are allowed to flourish, both the consumer and the reputable businessman stand to lose.

The Month Called February

What does February mean to you? Lincoln's Birthday? Valentine's Day? Longer days and warmer weather? The early wild-flowers?

To most Nature buffs and garden lovers, it is the month of the madly-blooming acacias, sprinkling their allergenic pollen to the four winds; of the sweet-smelling daphne, filling the air with its fragrance; and of the gentle, mysterious knowledge that under the soil and inside twigs and buds miracles, millions of them, each perfection in itself, are occurring as spring in Marin gets underway.

Nitrogen Process Saves Food During Long Trip To Market

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — It is something of a relief to find out that progress is being made in shipment of perishable commodities from the point of origin to the dinner table.

During the past 20 or 30 years, the trend has been toward elimination of the home garden, as well as the elimination of raising produce near points of distribution.

The result is that the finer and more eatable produce picked at the proper degree of ripeness, becomes increasingly harder to procure for the ultimate consumer.

However, perhaps in another few years, this problem will be whipped with the development of a process for shipping perishables, such as produce, meat, fish, vegatables, fruits and flowers, without deterioration.

THE PROCESS has been developed by the Occidental Petroleum Corp. of Los Angeles. It is known os Oxytrol, and involves the displacement of oxygen from a truck trailer, railroad car, or ship's hold. The oxygen is replaced with pure nitrogen gas.

The company says that with control of oxygen levels to close tolerance during transit, perishables can be shipped without deterioration. It has proven out the process during four years of testing. Shipments up to six weeks have shown no signs of spoilage.

One of the phases of the test period involved shipments of strawberries. The company says that during 1965, a fourth of the strawberries consumed in the nation were shipped to market under Oxytrol. Shipments originating in California were unloaded at points as far east as New York and commanded premium prices.

UNDER THE process, shrinkage of meat substantially is eliminated. Fish can be shipped without ice. Tomatoes are picked and shipped ripe rather than green. Shipment of this highly perishable product have been made from Mexico to New York in a satisfactory manner.

The company points to the potentials of expanded markets for agricultural produce as a result of the new process. This is a highly important item, as far as growers are concerned.

However, also important is the fact that the consuming public may once again be able to obtain naturally ripened produce through betterment of distribution methods, which retain the time necessary to transport the product from the farm to the consumer, but at the same time protect the product from spoilage.

ALL KINDS of possibilities can be envisioned when and if the process is widely adopted, the primary one being that the consumer can make a selection of fruits and vebetables which are ripe off the tree or vine, rather than picked green so they would not spoil during shipment.

The shipment problem is one that confronts all growers of perishables, producers of meat, and the fishing industry. Icing, developed many years ago, solved some of the problem and made fresh fruit available in distant markets. But the product still had to be picked nearly green.

Modern technology, however, could revolutionize the methods of production and shipments, and at least give the consumer a much more satisfactory product.

Reader Likes Ross Police Secrecy

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . It used to be the newspers were the champions of law and order, and could tell the Good Guys from the Bad Guys.

Lately, however, the policy seems to be reversed, and it must be that the I-J is so scared of the criminals that it goes all out to ridicule and harass all law enforcement agencies, and weep and wail over the lot of the law breaker . . .

Stop needling towns like Ross that try to solve their own problems in their own way without splashing every police call all over the newspaper. This is an old-fashioned method called the American Way, and has just about disappeared elsewhere in our Great Society . . .

What Happened To Woodacre Courtesy?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

What happened to courtesy?

On Monday night, Jan. 31, 1966, the San Geronimo Valley Association had a discussion, with speakers both pro and con, on the issue of the Woodacre School site. Robert Lea spoke for the proposed school site and Jack Barnes opposing it.

Mr. Lea was the first speaker. During his presentation, there was complete silence throughout the multi-purpose room. When Mr. Barnes presented his arguments, much snickering, laughing and loud whispering emanated from a group that favored the issue. Now I ask you, was this discourteous behavior necessary or called for? When Mr. Lea spoke, we who are against the issue had the common sense to remain silent and listen to his presentation. Wasn't Mr. Barnes entitled to the same type of response?

This tops it all! On Feb. 6, 1966, Sunday, after the 9:30 morning mass at Ct. Cecilia's Church in Lagunitas, a parishioner who is on the "Committee for Neighborhood Schools in the Valley," was handing out literature favoring the proposed school site. I don't object to distributing mimeographed literature, but in front of the church? Bring politics to the church? Was this the right place?

I strongly recommend a "No" vote for the bond issue election on Feb. 15, 1966.

New Unification Plan Draws Fire

Editor, Independent-Journal:

While the new proposal to unite the area from Sausalito to Ross into one school district and to join the people from San Anselmo, Fairfax and ALL of West Marin into another district is an improvement over total unification, it still does not meet the criteria of sensible unification. This plan would divide the county into four areas; whereas, preferably eight, and certainly not less than six, districts are needed to assure adequate support for education and citizen control over costs.

We are led to believe this proposal provides for the smallest unified districts the State Department of Education (Dr. Ronald Cox) will now recommend for approval. If this be the case, the County Committee's action may turn out to be a brilliant strategic move. These plans, like hundreds of similar plans throughout the state, are being, and should be, rejected by the electorate. Such action serves notice upon the Legislature to modify its nonsensical laws. The people should have the opportunity, without the pressure of bribes and penalties, of providing for logical school reorganization.

Although this new proposal was drafted "reluctantly" by County Committee members who have formerly endorsed sensible unification, it has not been supported by Citizens for Sensible Unification.

Sophomore Defends Kerouac's Novel

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I am a sophomore at Redwood High School and have just read "On The Road" for our school book review magazine . . . It is the only book with any meaning that I have read in a long time. If the people who tried to keep people from reading this book think they have succeeded, let them try to buy a copy in any bookshop in Marin. It is completely sold out . . .

I found nothing shocking about this book. If one didn't read it just for the "four letter words" they would find that it presents one of the many arguments for non-conformity among college students or people of their age. Perhaps this is the reason the person who brought up this issue wanted the book off the reading list; she didn't want her poor child to be exposed to such "deadbeat" thinking . . . I think these people were scared of the ideas presented in this book, not the words used to express them.

I suppose there will always be people like this, rabble-rousers, who have nothing better to do than stir up trouble, and feel oh, so patriotic, protecting American youth from IT. They must learn that by 17, their children must learn to be independent of their parents, and think independently, or they'll never get anywhere in life. That is not to say that certain things aren't rubbed off on one's children, such as respect, values, morals, etc. . . .

Telling a teacher he can't teach something is as serious to him as a doctor involved in a malpractice suit . . . He cannot feel safe to teach anything controversial again for fear his colleagues might turn against him.

When a teacher is hired by the state, it is on a professional basis. He has to pass examinations . . . sign an Oath of Loyalty . . . A professional educator hired by the state should never fear teaching anything.

MRS. KADISON, determined to prove what a caretul driver she was, stopped her car dead before a railroad crossing, stuck her head out of the window and cupped a hand to her ear to see if she could hear anything. She heard something, all right: a truck smacking into her rear fender.

FOR WEEKS, a six-year-old lad kept telling his first grade teacher about the baby brother or sister that was expected at his house. Then, one day, the mother allowed the boy to feel the movements of the unborn child. The six-year-old was obviously impressed, but made no comment. Furthermore, he stopped telling his teacher about the impending event.

The teacher finally sat the boy on her lap and said, "Tommy, whatever has become of that baby brother or sister you were expecting at home?" Tommy burst into tears and confessed, "I think Mommie ate it!"

Goldberg Selection For U.N. Seat Has Helped In Behind Scenes Talks

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon B. Johnson's surprise decision to take Arthur Goldberg off the Supreme Court and make him ambassador to the United Nations is paying good dividends.

In the judgment of most of the foreign diplomats who have worked with him and watched him at first hand during the six months he has been on the job, Goldberg is proving to be the most effective representative the U. S. has had at the U.N.

This is solid praise from experienced professionals who are by no means biased in favor of the United States. But this does not keep them from esteeming ability when they see it, especially when it comes quickly into view.

THE REASON Goldberg is so useful is that his special talents are specially adapted to what is most needed to get things done—or at least moved ahead—at the United Nations.

He is a negotiating craftsman. He is patient, tireless, calm and affable.

As a lawyer who usually had labor as his client and as Secretary of Labor who had the government as his client, Mr. Goldberg had long used his skills at mediation and reconciling deeply held differences. These skills are signally useful at the U. N.

Those who have listened to Goldberg's public speeches at the General Assembly and at the Security Council would not describe them as other than dull and boring, delivered in a flat voice and at too great length.

THOSE WHO have worked with and watched Goldberg as a private negotiator and as a persuader in the corridors of diplomacy, agree that he is articulate, lucid and succinct.

Few things are more important at the U. N. than off-stage negotiation. One ambassador from a neutral country put it to me this way:

"Good oratory at the U. N. is about 7 per cent of the job. Ninety-three per cent of the job is behind the scenes talking privately with delegates and winning support. This is what makes Goldberg so valuable to the U. S.—and to the U.N. We're impressed."

Obviously nobody accomplishes anything singlehandedly at the United Nations. It takes a convergence of events and at least a near censensus of will within which a negotiating craftsman can work.

Within such consensus Ambassador Goldberg has already contributed significantly to three major U. N. accomplishments.

HE HELPED greatly to bring about the 9-to-2 vote (four abstentions) which put the Viet Nam war on the agenda of the Security Council. The Security Council may not act further, but this very step holds a prospect of opening up new avenues for negotiation.

More than anyone else, he reconciled the differences which at different stages threatened to prevent the Security Council from reaching a unified action on both the India - Pakistan war and Rhodesia.

He contributed to ending the dues deadlock which had immobilized the U. N. for an entire year.

His fellow ambassadors at the U. N. know that Goldberg has all doors open to him at the White House and State Department, that he helps to shape as well as expound U. S. policy.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Abrams May Take Westmoreland's Job

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The possible replacement of Gen. William Westmoreland as U.S. Commander in South Viet Nam is under discussion in inner White House councils.

Most likely successor is Gen. Creighton Abrams, Army vice chief of staff.

Westmoreland is on the final leg of a normal tour of dtuy. He arrived in Viet Nam in January 1964, assumed full command in August of that year. The 52-year-old artilleryman is highly regarded by President Johnson, Defense Secretary McNamara and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

ABLY AND unassumingly he has coped with tremendous problems in building up in little more than a year a battle force of 200,000, from some 20,000, in the midst of widespread guerrilla attacks and terrorism.

But with the war entering a new phase, the question has been raised of the desirability of a change in command. Westmoreland has indicated the wish to continue in Viet Nam. A decision on this matter is not imminent.

Gen. Abrams, 51, like Westmoreland a West Pointer, has a notable fighting record. As a young officer, he commanded a tank battalion and combat command of the famed fourth Armored Division.

The fourth was General George Patton's favorite assault force, and spearheaded his historic drives through France and Germany. In the Korean war, Abrams was chief of staff of a Corps.

AMONG THE NUMEROUS contradictions and inconsistencies of President Johnson's stupendous budget, one of the most glaring directly concerns Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy.

Under this budget, the former First Lady would get $50,000 for "clerical expenses", the same amount voted her for the current fiscal year. Also under this budget, funds for lunches and milk for school children throughout the country would be drastically slashed.

School authorities estimate that millions of needy children now covered by these programs would be eliminated.

In the President's budget message he sonorously proclaimed that the needy and children would not be called on for "sacrifices" to meet the soaring costs of the Viet Nam war. Bipartisan members of Congress are bitterly pointing out the hollow ring of this righteous avowal.

NONE HAS YET publicily commented on Mrs. Kennedy's untouched $50,000 for clerical assistance. But privately indignant comparison is being drawn to the heavy axing of funds for lunches and milk for needy schoolchildren.

It is being pointed out that the proposed $50,000 is not the only grant the one-time First Lady gets from the government. She also receives a $10,000-a-year pension as the widow of a President, franking (free mail) privilege and has a squad of six servicemen to protect her and her two children. These guards accompany them wherever they go, with the government paying travel and other expenses.

ART BUCHWALD

Paris Designers Have Got Onto Knees For Next Fashion Battle

A few weeks ago I wrote about the bosom and how the fashion designers had moved it from the front to the side. It appears that, while this had caused some raised eyebrows, the big battle going on now in the fashion world is what to do about a woman's knees.

The Paris designers have moved the hemline above the knee, some as high as two and three inches, and the American dress manufacturers are not sure it will sell. I went out to speak to the man on the street the other day and asked him what he thought about this controversy.

The first person I talked to said, "I'm a knee man myself. I could sit for hours and look at a woman's knees."

"What makes a woman's knees so interesting to you?"

"Well, a bosom is a bosom, but a woman's knees are constantly changing. Every time she moves her legs, the knees take on a new expression."

"Do you prefer a woman's knees when she is sitting or standing?"

"I THINK if you're a knee man it doesn't make that much difference. I like a knee that's firm and strong and stands on its own."

A second man I interviewed said, "I think it's dangerous to allow women to show their knees in public. There are some women who have very attractive knees, but many women might resort to subterfuge."

"You mean they might wear false knees?"

"They fooled us with other parts of their bodies. Suppose a man was very attracted to a woman, particularly to her knees, and she married him. Then he discovered that instead of the nice round firm knees he thought she had it turned out she had thin knobbly knees. That wouldn't be fair, would it?"

"No, it wouldn't," I agreed. "She'd probably have to get down on her knees and ask your forgiveness."

"EXACTLY," he said, "and that wouldn't do much good for her knees either."

The third man I talked to was not even aware that a controversy was raging. "I thought with all those new detergents the dresses had shrunk. I didn't think it was planned that way."

A fourth man said, "Look, mister, I don't want to get involved. I mind my own business."

"But as a citizen you must have some opinion on this."

"I pay my taxes and I do as I'm told."

An elderly man I talked to said, "When I was a boy the ankle was the sexiest part of a woman's body. I guess we're moving up in the world."

"Do you think the knee will ever replace the ankle?"

He looked at me sadly and said, "Why would I care?"

I ASKED the final man I talked to if he thought American women should wear skirts above the knees.

"I think that's for the President to decide. He knows what's best for the country."

"How would he decide?"

"He would ask Dean Rusk and McNamara and leaders of Congress. Then he would take a poll. If the majority of the people are in favor of short hemlines, then I believe it's to the national interest to support the President's Knee Policy."

"Wouldn't this be a form of escalation?" I asked.

"It would be. But what other choice do we have?"

Police Protection Brewing As Main Issue Of Tiburon Council Campaign

City council elections are coming up in April for Tiburon and other Marin communities.

Tiburon's election will be unique because it is the first since the city was incorporated in June of 1964, when the first city council was elected.

Before Tiburon became a city the area's police protection came from the county sheriff's substation in Marin City, a good 15 minutes away.

SINCE INCORPORATION, Tiburon has contracted with the county for a sheriff's substation to act as a city police department. It is located at 1640 Tiburon Boulevard.

Police protection has improved, but can—and should—be better.

This is meant as no reflection on the sheriff's men who are policing the city. They are doing their best, but they are only four men covering a city of about 6,000 persons.

"Many people—especially older ones — have told me how much more secure they feel having a 'police station' out here," said Sgt. George R. Barnes, who has the duties of a small town police chief, "but we're understaffed.

"The state recommends one and one-half man per 1,000 population. Some cities do better. Belvedere has two men per 1,000; Sausalito two and one-half.

"We have about half a man, but taken as a 'whole' they are good men," Barnes said. "But we need at least two more officers for night duty.

TIBURON IS a quiet, good community for the most part. And having us here has been successful as far as lessening the crime rate. For example, there wasn't one burglary in the city during the month of December," Barnes declared.

"My job is mostly administrative and patrolling during the day. And I think we've set up a pretty good filing system for the time when the city gets its own police force.

"Our main work is traffic and keeping an eye on juveniles — and of course the 415s, that's the code number for disturbing the peace, and the big reason I feel we need more men.

"More police officers have been killed answering 415s in this country when they were alone than in any other way. We've had 78 such calls ourselves since August.

"Tiburon, as well as being a bedroom community, is also a tourist town, so, of course, we do have some small problems on Main Street once in awhile on weekends. By the time the officer arrives the trouble is usually over and there are few citizens' arrests.

"BUT THE BULK of the calls are from homes where a family disturbance is going on — as I said 78 since August. With two officers you have less chance of some drunken husband trying to clobber a patrolman.

"Fifteen minutes frofm Marin City is a long way off when a guy needs a backup officer in an emergency. Again most of these matters are usually settled peacefully and there are few citizens' arrests.

"But there may be that one time . . . I don't want any of my men killed. Killed. That means dead, you understand? I want two more men for night duty!"

So it looks like better police protection will again be a campaign issue in the coming campaign for Tiburon City Council, unless something is done before April.

Which is unlikely — For Tiburon.

Marin City Finance Bid Is Accepted

Low bid of Bank of America was accepted yesterday by the Marin County Redevelopment Agency on notes of $3,320,000 for continued financing of Marin City redevelopment. The bid is 2.75 per cent with a $7 premium.

Other bidders, reported agency executive director Donald O. Stutsman, were Wells Fargo Bank, Crocker Citizens National Bank, and United California Bank of Los Angeles.

The full slate of officers of the Stinson Beach Community Center board were re-elected Monday night for a one-year term.

They are: Ralph W. Sigmund, president; Edward E. Leary, vice president; Mrs. Harriet M. Greene, secretary and Ruth Miller, treasurer. The board also elected Louis De Ghelder as director-at-large, Sigmund reported.

CRIME UP A BIT IN SAN RAFAEL

Crime in San Rafael last year advanced slowly on all fronts except two—auto thefts and assaults. By far the largest number of offenses involved the theft of goods and money amounting to less than $50, according to figures released by San Rafael Police Department.

Total crimes of all kinds reported was 1,532, an increase of 140 over 1964, and of last year's number, 302 were cleared off the books by arrests compared with 294 in 1964.

In 1965, charges were brought against 1,232 persons and 676 were found guilty, among them 187 juveniles. During the previous year, 996 persons were charged and 507 convicted, including 171 juveniles.

Larceny of under $50 accounted for 686 cases, an increase of 88, and 143 of the cases were cleared by arrests. Cases involving the theft of over $50 totalled 363, an increase of 46 over 1964.

The thehft of cars dropped by 17 to 126 cases and 18 were eventually cleared by arrests. The 102 assaults reported during 1965 showed a decrease of 15.

Burglaries increased by 39 cases to total 277, and robberies from 11 to 16.

The single case of murder last year involved the slaying of a bartender at the Mission Inn in downtown San Rafael. Two men were subsequently arrested and charged with the crime.

Other major crimes, with the 1964 figure in brackets, were as follows: Passing bad checks, 244 (236); rape, 3 (1); narcotic offenses 6 (3); vandalism 681 (589); and driving while drunk 57 (46).

Marin Residents Like Credit Cards

The people of San Rafael, Mill Valley and Larkspur are no longer Guys-on-the-Outside-Looking-In. They are in . . . right in . . . with one little item in their pockets which binds them as close as members of a club.

It is that American symbol outranking all other symbols . . . that measure of society acceptability . . . that something that sets a man a notch above his cash-conscious friends: the credit card.

One in every 5.5 residents in each of the three cities holds a Bank of America credit card, compared with the statewide average of one in every 14 Californians.

And according to figures issued by the bank, most other Marin County communities also show a high membership to the buy-now-pay-later fraternity.

In Sausalito, one resident out of 6.3 holds the bank's credit card; in Fairfax the figure is one in 8.5, and in San Anselmo and Corte Madera, one in nine.

In Ross, where deviates from the norm have actually been seen to pay for goods in cash, the ratio is a disappointing one in 13.

Novato, manages only a one in 14 ratio.

Why do more Marin County people hold the Bank of America credit card than residents in most other parts of the state?

"This apparently heavier usage probably reflects the greater prosperity and urbanization of much of the county compared to many other parts of the state, said Donald R. McBride, Northern California manager for BankAmericard.

Dixie Trustees To Study Loans

Trustees of Dixie School District tonight will discuss application for $8,651 in federal money to purchase books for school libraries and $1,039 on behalf of two parochial schools to purchase books on the basis of a district loan.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. at the district office, 35 Trellis Drive, San Rafael.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis will also recommend application for $57,000 in federal money for book purchase for a reading program in elementary schools.

Trustees will consider Principal John Lucas's request for a sabbatical leave, setting of summer school from June 27 to July 29, and policies on class size and sick leave.

For 19 seasons the Chicago Cubs have never finished out of second division.

One Sanitary District Urged For Peninsula

Consolidation of the Tiburon and Richardson Bay sanitary districts was advocated by secretary James Murray of Tiburon district at the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting yesterday.

Murray said he felt too many small districts in the county cost the taxpayer too much money. He also suggested it might be good if the county consolidated all fire departments.

"As a member of a district board—and we all like our little empires—I'm in favor of one sanitary district for the Tiburon Peninsula," he declared.

Tiburon City Councilman Fred C. Hannahs, who is a volunteer fireman, objected to the suggestion of one fire department for the county, saying: "We have a pretty good working arrangement with Belvedere. They back us up and we back them up. I believe this works all over the county, too.

Chamber President William L. Howell reported $250 was still needed for completion of the bus stop on Tiburon Boulevard across from Juanita Lane being built by the chamber and the Shark Lions Club. William W. Creighton III of Belvedere arose to say Howell could "expect a check for that amount in the mail tomorrow."

Creighton, who said he recently moved to Belvedere from Arizona with his partner, Herbert Heiser, and expects to go into the land development business on the Tiburon Peninsula, said he felt the donation was the least he could do to show how much he enjoyed his new home.

Driver Fined $500

George Richard DeLine, 42, of 135 Prince Royal Passage, Corte Madera, was fined $500 and placed on a year's probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested by California Highway Sept. 7.

End In Sight For State's Public School Explosion

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's public school enrollment through grade 14 will jump 1.7 million students in the next 15 years, a state school official predicted today.

"But despite this awesome increase, it represents a dramatic reduction in enrollment growth," said Ronald W. Cox, associate state superintendent of public instruction.

Cox's findings, based on a recent population report released by the Department of Finance, were made available in a report to the California Teachers Assn.

Cox said school enrollment increases are expected to decline sharply during the next 15 years.

"This slowdown in the percentage increase," he said, "means that California is approaching a period of golden opportunity — about five years aay—when it can begin directing public school funds now being used just to keep up with sheer growth into better education."

Woman Pleads Guilty In Shoplifting Case

Guilty plea to petty theft with a prior conviction was entered in Marin Superior Court yesterday by Kathleen Cowart, 26, of Richmond. Judge Thomas F. Keating scheduled sentencing for March 1.

Mrs. Cowart was arrested Sept. 10 by Corte Madera police and had been convicted in Marin County for petty theft from Montgomery Ward and Co. on March 23, 1964.

Novato Approves New Master Plan

The Novato master plan, which cost $82,600 and took three years in preparation, was adopted by the Novato City Council last night, with a few exceptions.

Left for study later were the streets and highways element and four specific areas.

The council conducted public hearings on the plan, then ruled to eliminate the following: The area between Grant Avenue and Novato Boulevard, south of Novato Boulevard between Diablo and Tamalpais avenues, the Nave Gardens area, and the area between Virginia Street and Novato Boulevard between the Catholic Church and Simmons Lane. These will be filled in later.

Councilman William Jack Adams asked that the text include a statement that the council reserves the right to change the zoning anywhere int he master plan for a valid reason.

Alfred Bellucci, real estate leader and former member of the planning commission, objected to this.

"What of the vested interests of the property owner?" he asked.

Adams contended that the council did not always have to grant the greatest density of land use shown on the plan.

Mayor Robert D. Carrow said the master plan was intended as a guide and could not be relied upon as to future zoning of any specific parcel.

Bellucci argued that it should be inflexible.

After the council adopted the plan, its next item of business was to approve planned commercial zoning for Bellucci and John Novak on 11 acres south of Clausing Avenue on Highway 101.

"How was that area zoned on the 1955 county master plan?" Carrow asked.

"Single family," Bellucci answered.

"See?" Carrow retorted.

Corte Madera Housewife Files To Run

Mrs. Ellen M. Wirth, 38, of 25 Alta Way, Corte Madera, housewife and mother of three children, has filed papers of candidacy for election to the Corte Madera town council.

Mrs. Wirth, wife of Ted C. Wirth, has lived in Corte Madera for 10 years. She listed a four-point program on which she will base her campaign.

1. Senior citizens and the youth of Corte Madera should be provided a recreation program.

2. The sub-division ordinance should be amended to require a contractor or subdivider to pay a portion of the cost of repaving and widening roads to meet town standards, thereby avoiding costly assessment districts.

3. Fences should be required by ordinance for all lagoons and sloughs in the town.

4. Motions and resolution made by the board of adjustments, and planning commission and town council should be followed through and carried out.

Two Youngsters Tell Of Long Crime Spree

A three-week crime spree, which included three car thefts, five burglaries and 13 auto tamperings, ended yesterday with arrest of a 17-year-old Novato boy and a 15-year-old Marinwood boy, Novato police reported today.

The two were placed in juvenile hall.

The crime spree started Jan. 15, when they took a 1957 car with a Texas license on it, police said. This they used in their prowls for more than two weeks until they ripped out the transmission, according to the police report.

They also admitted taking two other cars in Novato but returning them after joy rides.

The 13 car tamperings were Feb. 1 through 7, mostly in the Nave Lanes and Loma Verde areas. These were basically tampering with the ignition switches in an attempt to start the cars, police said.

The two admitted that they broke into the Stein and Dine at 5949 Redwood Highway on Feb. 5, where a quanity of liquor was taken, police reported. They then broke into unoccupied apartments behind a Texaco station in Ignacio.

Sunday night or early Monday, they broke into the Meadow Park School; Petty and Kroeger Inc. masonry contractors at 5486 Redwood Highway; Ida's Beauty Salon at 5480 Redwood Highway, and attempted to enter Pinky's Pizza Parlor at 5460 Redwood Highway, according to police.

They would not admit ransacking seven cars at the apartment house at 195 Los Robles on Sunday, police said.

Assault Re-Trial Nearing Jurors

Glover, a San Quentin inmate, allegedly used a sharp brass rod to stab another prisoner, Henry L. Wolfenden, 28, on Sept. 18, 1963. He was convicted, but an appellate court granted the new trial before Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

The jury yesterday evening was taken to San Quentin prison for a tour of the attack site, a classroom in the adjustment center. Trial started Jan. 24.

Assault Trial Set For Oak Tree Fight

Dorothy Neil Miller, 23, was scheduled for a May 23 jury trial in Marin Superior Court yesterday for asault with a deadly weapon.

The motel employee, of 69 Cole Drive, Marin City, allegedly stabbed Danny Milton, 23, San Francisco, during a row at Oak Tree Inn near Marin City on Dec. 4. He survived.

Police Search Drains For Death Weapon

A search of the victim's home, 19 Carroll Court, apparently failed to turn up the "heavy but sharp instrument" used in the killing.

Inspector Thomas Cheetham, assigned full-time to the murder hunt, is working on the theory the killer may have tried to hide the weapon after fleeing from the house where he had left Mrs. Rudolph submerged in the bath tub. The weapon may have been a tire iron or an object similar in shape and weight.

The dead woman's husband remained in Marin General Hospital today, where he has been recuperating from major surgery for several weeks. His condition was described as satisfactory.

Mrs. West Flies

Mrs. Anne West, 45, of 21 Crescent Lane, San Anselmo, a housewife and mother of three children, yesterday took out papers of nomination for election to the San Anselmo Ctiy Council.

Larkspur Neighbors Lose Round Against Rezoning

Larkspur planning commissioners last night voted three to one, over objections from the audience, to rezone three lots on Holcomb Avenue near Cane Street from single family to multiple residential.

Residents in the area said they did not want the block taken over by apartments. Applicant George Bertram argued that the area was marked for apartments in the recently adopted general plan.

Commissioner Colin K. White voted no. Robert H. Lee arrived late and missed the vote. William G. Fleckles, Victor Donati and Paul Atkins voted yes. The matter now goes to the city council.

The Larkspur Planning Commission also:

1. Agreed to a shift in multiple family residential and administrative and professional zones in the area above and below South Eliseo drive. Applicant was Niels Schultz Jr.

2. Postponed election of officers for the current year until after the April city council election. Commission Chairman Fleckles and Vice Chairman White have both announced they will run for city council.

3. Approved design of a seven-unit apartment building on Upper Via Casitas. Applicant was John Moran.

4. Discussed raising the maximum allowable area for business signs, presently allowed 100 square feet. Decision was postponed until the building inspector can check the present size of signs in the city.

5. Adjourned to Feb. 15 at 8 p.m. when commissioners will discuss the planned district and planned unit development zones. Next regular meeting was changed from Feb. 22 to Feb. 23, because of the holiday.

Beating In Jail Brings Sentence

Reynold Ashley Fitch, 18, of 116 Mariposa Avenue, San Anselmo, was sentenced yesterday to an additional four months in county jail for his participation in the Jan. 4 beating of a fellow inmate in the jail.

Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court also placed him on a year's probation.

Fitch is serving eight months for two burglaries and an attempted escape. He had pleaded no contest to the assault on James John McElhinney, 43, of 109 Eldridge Avenue, Mill Valley.

Also charged in the beating were Gary John Ammenti, 21, Blaine J. Walters, 19, James Albert Sprague, 21, and Thomas Haskett Thompson, 19.

Teachers Will Report

Larkspur School District trustees, meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the district office, will hear a report from the Larkspur Teachers Assn. on what salaries it feels would be adequate for the next school year. Supt. Milton S. Cohen said decision on salaries probably will not be reached until sometime in April.

Novato Airport Taxes Retained By County

Marin County supervisors yesterday adopted in principle a joint powers agreement with the city of Novato which would allow the county to retain sales and excise taxes from the county airport and surrounding territory even if the city should annex it.

The Novato City Council, however, asked last night that City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. and City Mgr. J. Julien Baget look at the document and report back Feb. 23.

In addition to allowing the county to retain sales tax, the agreement calls for the city to continue contributions for development of the county airport. The city contributed $2,000 last year and will contribute $4,000 this year. Future contributions were not specified in the proposed agreement.

The area designated covers nearly 2,000 acres and stretches from Highway 101 to the Petaluma River.

Supervisors earlier in the day sent back proposed planned industrial zoning on 111 acres around the airport, asking further study east of the proposed runway.

The county planning commission's recommendation would extend the industrial zoning only 200 feet to the east of the runway, and supervisors agreed there should either be no industrial use there or it should be more extensive. The land is presently zoned for agricultural and heavy industrial use.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Authorized a $2,000 executive training program for the personnel of several departments under the Executive Management Institute. Supervisors asked that personnel from the county administrator's office be included.

2. Adopted a policy on employee training to the effect that the county will put up half of the tuition for courses in the employee's field.

3. Learned that detailed recommendations on implementation of the federal medicare program will be presented to the board next Tuesday.

4. Agreed to remount the Bolinas Beach mounted sheriff's patrol starting Sunday. The patrol will continue on weekends and holidays.

5. Referred to the planning commission a proposed ordinance in connection with land divisions.

6. Put off again consideration of a master plan to allow three single-family dwellings on a small parcel next to Bel Air subdivision and on the north side of Tiburon Boulevard. Developer Leonard B. Fleishman is asking access to Tiburon Boulevard, but Board Chairman Byron W. Leydecker asked a week's delay to give him a chance to look at the property.

7. Hired Robert M. Gaddini as a deputy sheriff at $536 a month; Delfin J. Lugo Sr. as draftsman in the public works department at $536 a month, Larry L. Galligan as programmer at $650 a month, Koyuki Tsukamoto Gels as clerk-typist at $345 a month, and Phillip W. Steinhart as clerk at $345 a month in the social services department.

8. Agreed to endorse the forthcoming Marin Youth Conference but declined, for the time being, a request by Lawrence Lindberg, of the county schools office, for a contribution of $250 toward it.

9. Gave formal authority to County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to take whatever action necessary to represent the county's interest in a suit filed at Marin Superior Court challenging the county's planned community zoning ordinance.

10. Adjourned ta 8 p.m. today when supervisors will sit as the Marin Transit District Board at the Civic Center.

Blackie Wins Continued Peace, Calm

About 25 residents of Tiburon turned out last night to protest to the city council the use of mini-bikes on six waterfront acres the city plans to lease from the state for recreation.

Mini-bikes are small bicycles equipped with a gasoline engine. They can reach speeds of 45 miles per hour.

The proposal for use of the bikes on the land, which runs from the Richardson Bay sewage plant to Pine Terrace, came in a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Azevedo of 1875 Centro West Street. A letter from Del Mar School Principal Robert Gaw also endorsed the plan.

But the 25 residents present were unanimous in opposing the idea.

President M. Arthur Gensler of the Little Reed Heights Improvement Club said, "Those things are noisy, dangerous and raise a lot of dust."

James F. Johnston said, "It will be a black day for Blackie (the swayback horse whose pasture is nearby) if all that noise starts. He went through enough torment when they were building the highway."

Councilman John S. Hoffmire Jr. was applauded when he said, "I can't see that area as anything but for walking, fishing and perhaps a tennis court."

Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge suggested City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose meet with sheriff's deputies and the city's insurance carriers on the safety and legality of the mini-bikes on public lands. This was noted, with Hoffmire and Ellinwood dissenting, and wanting the idea dropped.

Rose was instructed to draw up a uniform traffic ordinance along the lines proposed by the League of California Cities.

Man Charges San Anselmo Lot Split Part Of Swindle

If San Anselmo City Council members had worries over Victor Rubon Sr., and his alleged illegal subdivision of land at 453 Laurel Avenue, they were nothing compared with the worries of Rubon.

Appearing at last night's meeting of the council, Rubon claimed he had been the victim of a state-wide swindle.

His attorney, C. Fitzgerald Eschwig of San Francisco, said: "He knew nothing about this property. It was bought and subdivided by someone else . . . in Rubon's name and behind his back."

The attorney said there were actions pending in several counties against the other person who, he claimed, had been signing Rubon's name to checks and letters over a long period.

Rubon, who now lives in a motel in San Carlos, declared: "He has wrecked my credit, my reputation, my family and everything else. He has got me in debt to the tune of between $60,000 and $70,000."

City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt said the land had been recorded illegally as two parcels.

Rubon said he paid no money for the land and whatever was done to it was without his knowledge.

City Atty. John G. Buresh asked, "If you come to court will you be willing to swear to that?" Rubon said he would.

Rev. Fred Small is pastor of the Church of God in Marin City, not the Church of God in Christ as erroneously listed in the Independent-Journal yesterday in a story on Negro History Week.

Five New Men Named To Board In Greenbrae

Members of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. last night elected three incumbents and five new candidates to their organization's board of directors.

New directors are: E. J. Clishan of 13 Bretano Way, Barranca, Mrs. Gloria Maltzahn of 330 Vista Grande, Mrs. Ruby Streiff of 250 Via Barranca and Chuck Michals of 71 Via Chepparo.

Incumbents elected were Bruce F. Gordon of 55 Via Barranco, John E. Koster of 86 Via Barranca and Victor Donati of 101 La Cuesta Drive. Association President Arend L. Horstmeyer Jr. will automatically serve another year on the board.

First meeting of the new board will be next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Greenbrae Realty Office, when new officers will be elected, Horstmeyer announced.

Association members also heard an annual report from Horstmeyer and a talk on the war in Viet Nam by Maj. John Brennan of San Rafael.

Forest Knolls Auto Theft Trial Slated

Jury trial for Ronald Gene Arrasmith, 20, charged with car theft, was set yesterday in Marin Superior Court for May 9.

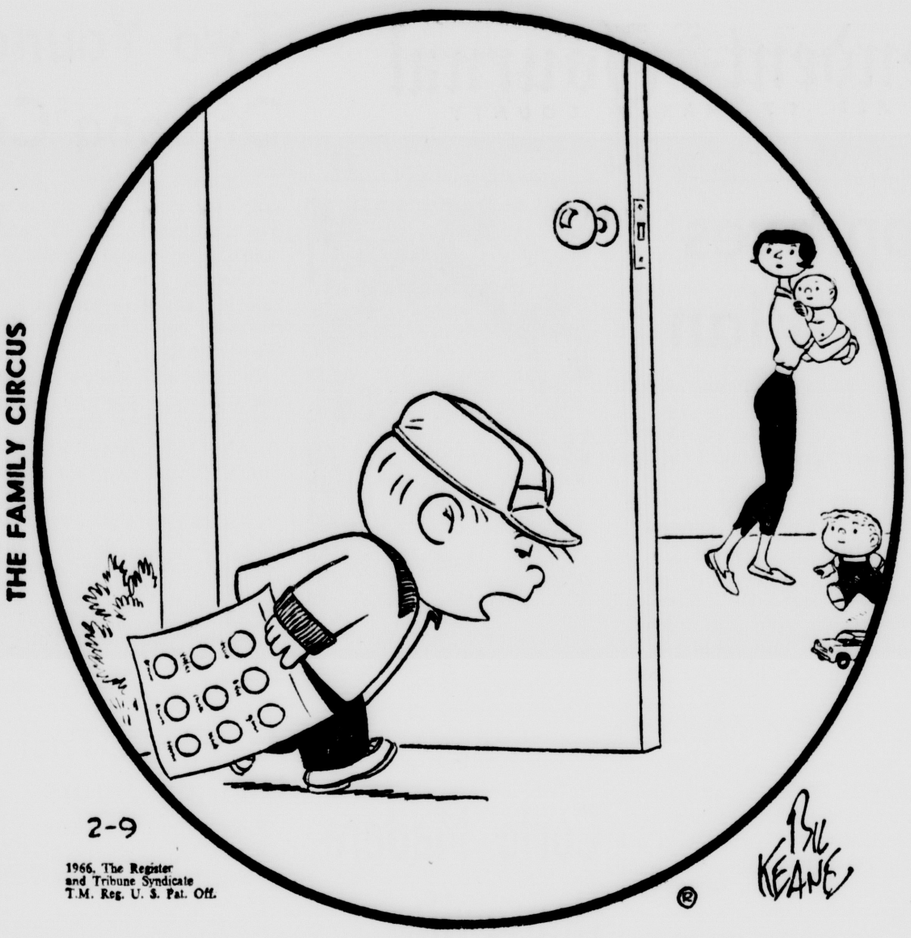
THE FAMILY CIRCUS



"Boy! Do I have homework! I have to color all these balls!"

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Feb. 9, the 40th day of 1966 with 325 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter; the morning star is Venus; the evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The ninth president of the United States, William Harrison, was born on this day in 1773.

On this day in history:

In 1825, the House of Representatives elected John Quincy Adams president.

In 1900, 7,000 construction workers in Chicago voted to strike for an eight-hour day.

In 1943, Japan evacuated Guadalcanal in the Pacific in the face of overwhelming American military superiority.

In 1950, Sen. Joseph McCarthy, R-Wis., charged that the State Department was infested with Communists.

A thought for the day — American poet Joaquin Miller wrote: "That man who lives for self alone lives for the meanest mortal known."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Thinking Bidders Seldom Need To Pull Tricks Out Of Hat

I hate to blow the whistle on bridge experts, but most of us waste time talking about the wrong thing.

Today's hand, for example, has been used by several experts for a lot of solemn nonsense.

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ◇	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 ◇	Pass
3 NT	All Pass

Opening lead — ♠ J

West opens the jack of spades, and dummy's queen is covered by the king.

South wins the third round of spades and leads a diamond.

With any other holding, the player with the ace will refuse the first diamond trick, whereupon South is sure to go down two.

South must play a low diamond from dummy instead of covering West's ten.

As the cards lie, East must take his ace; and South makes three notrump.

LITTLE DIFFERENCE

Don't strain your eyes looking for plays like this.

If you always played dummy's jack of diamonds you wouldn't be much worse off than the experts who played a low diamond.

If you played a hundred hands like this in the course of a lifetime, the expert would score a total of some 300 points more than you.

This is hardly worth talking about.

The real problem is how to bid the hand to five diamonds instead of three notrump. Normally, North makes five diamonds without the slightest difficulty.

Even as the cards lie, North should make five diamonds.

He loses two trump tricks but catches East in a squeeze.

Don't waste too much time looking for the squeeze.

The real point is that bridge is a bidder's game.

If you always get to the right contract you'll seldom have to execute difficult plays.

You can laugh at the expert who has to pick a rabbit out of a hat to avoid going down two at the wrong contract.

DAILY QUESTION

You have opened with one club, and partner has responded one heart.

It is up to you again, holding:

♠ A 7 3 2
♡ A K 6
♣ A K Q 5

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

A rebid of one spade would not be forcing. A jump to two notrump would be dangerous with your weakness in the unbid diamonds.

You plan to show your support for hearts after your forcing jump in spades.

THE NEXT TO
you give, as you disappear inside the gates of this park-like estate, will be for the peace and privacy you discover inside! A lovlier piece of land would be hard to find. The house is a curious problem—not in its construction, which is excellent and interesting, but in its arrangement, which is, to say the least, unconventional. There are 2 separate buildings — one containing living room-dining room, kitchen and a bath, with cathedral ceilings and tall windows; the other containing 3 bedrooms, a 2nd bath, and a laundry room. They are close together, so the challenge is only to figure out how to alter them to fit your pattern of living, or how to alter your pattern of living to fit them! Either course would be worth the effort considering the beautiful setting! THE LAST HURRAH is for the price — $23,500—Not bad for a mostly level ¾ acre!

Lacking foresight,
our eager seller rushed to the country to retire, only to discover in a very short time that all his friends were still in the city! "Sell," he cried, "my house!" Now if you have the foresight he lacks, this is a bargain for you. 3-year-old hill top home with a vast view, huge wrap-around sun deck. 1100 sq. ft. includes huge living-dining room with fireplace, 2 big bedrooms, built-in G. E. kitchen. Beamed ceilings thruout. 700 sq. ft. additional unfinished space. He's already moved back to the city and has put an anxious $21,950 price on his mistake. We can confirm by comparison that this is well below the market value.

Novato Limits Apartment To Four Units

Novato City Council last night decided to stick by a deed restriction in rezoning of a lot for multiple family use.

Robin A. Merrill had asked for a 22-unit apartment on an oversized lot on Park Court, zoned for single family use. The planning commission approved rezoning but limited the apartment to nine units.

Robert McCready, attorney for protesting neighbors, last night told the council there was a deed restriction on the lot which limited use to four units.

Although such deed restrictions do not necessarily govern, the council returned the rezoning to the planning commission with recommendation for a four-unit limit.

The Novato City Council also

1. Rezoned from single family to planned commercial 11 acres south of Clausing Avenue and east of Highway 101 for John Novak and Alfred Bellucci.

2. Introduced ordinances to rezone San Marin Unit 9 from planned community to single family and lot 6 in Jade Gardens from multiple to multiple with highway frontage regulations.

3. Approved the tentative map of Stanford Oaks of 34 lots on eight acres south of Center Road and west of Ormond Court.

4. Set for March 8 hearings on annexation of five acres on Entrada Drive, which includes the Roger-Wilco Shopping Center, and four acres on Eucalyptus Avenue.

5. Abandoned an unnamed alley between Cain and Blodgett lanes and a section of Cherry Street and Railroad Avenue.

6. Approved the payment of $1,000 to George Morrison for the last year of the lease on his house adjacent to the police station. This will give the city possession on April 1. It will be used as an annex to the police station.

7. Directed City Mgr. J. Julen Baget to start negotiations with property owners for land adjacent to the Rancho School site, the Pioneer Memorial Cemetery, the proposed park in San Marin, and adjacent to the Lions Club Park at Stafford Dam, all for park sites.

8. Received an opinion from the county counsel that the Novato Fire District could not consolidate its election with that of the city. The council then voted to write state legislators asking that all municipal elections be consolidated.

9. Went into closed session, reportedly to discuss complaints about city employees, and set another closed session next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Mexican X-ray Project Gains New Support

Things were looking up today for the Alliance for Health project of placing a surplus San Quentin X-ray machine in the town of Zacapu, Mexico.

Dr. Richard S. Hahn of Belvedere, who heads the alliance, said contributions for the machine have reached the halfway mark of $500.

On Saturday, Kevin Dearth flew Pablo Monterrubio-Morales, Mexican youth who had been learning X-ray operation at Marin General Hospital, back to Zacapu, where he will be technician if the X-ray machine can be taken there. Dearth, flying his own plane, also took equipment and supplies for the alliance's public health project in Zacapu, including a Bennett valve — a breathing apparatus — which was donated last week by the Puritan Corp., manufacturer.

Dearth and Don Bisenius, Marin General Hospital technician who will install the X-ray machine, plan to fly back to Marin on Thursday.

Hunch Checked; Pair Arrested

Sausalito Police Sgt. John Coady followed a hunch which led to arrest early today of two men and a woman traveling north on Bridgeway in a 1965 Mustang reportedly stolen from Hollywood.

Coady was on patrol at Bridgeway and Napa street at 3:55 a.m. when he saw the car ahead of him. Suspicious, he ran a quick "hot check" on the car's license plate with the Marin County Communications Center and was informed it was stolen Monday in Hollywood.

Booked in county jail on charges of auto theft were James Lee Martin, 23, of Los Angeles; Charley Joe Davis, 20, Tacoma, and Diane Ruth Shelton, 19, San Jose. Bail was set at $1,100 for each.

COMMUTE RUSH OF THE FUTURE

When members of the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission heard reports last week on future modes of getting people where they are going, much of the talk centered on air-cushioned vehicles, which one firm predicted may someday whisk San Rafael commuters to downtown San Francisco in 12 minutes. This drawing shows most of the versions of such vehicles which have been developed to this day, including the type now being used in a pilot program on the bay (top center).

San Quentin Budget Jumps With Funds For Laundry

Gov. Edmund G. Brown's 1966-67 budget includes over a million dollars earmarked for capital improvements at San Quentin Prison.

Of the $1,472,340 set aside for capital outlay, $1,300,000 will go on a major rebuilding and modernization program for the prison laundry. This building is one of the oldest in the prison.

Another $115,000 will go on improvements to the salt water service system. This is to modify and replace lines and build filtering facilities.

The budget also calls for $23,800 to be spent on equipping the refrigerating building, which is described as "badly out of date and inefficient." About $33,000 will also go on minor projects.

The cost of operating San Quentin during 1966-67 is budgeted at $10,277,700, an increase of about $577,000 over the current year. The increase is partly due to rises in the cost of inmate feeding and the general cost of living.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said today about five-and-one-half million dollars in the operational costs figure goes for salaries to the prison staff.

"Some 60 per cent of the staff live in Marin County and as a result about three million dollars stays with the county in one way or another," he commented.

Novatans Invite Behr To Explain Parks Bond Idea

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission Monday set for 8 p.m. next Tuesday a county-wide meeting at the Novato Community House for Supervisor Peter H. Behr to explain the proposed four million dollar bond issue for parks.

All recreation departments and districts in the county were included in the invitation from the Novato commission, said Edward W. Adams, Novato parks and recreation director.

Behr has proposed a four million dollar bond issue for parks, of which two million dollars would be the share of the cities.

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission also received the proposed budget for the city swimming pool for next summer. It calls for spending $21,800 in maintenance and operation: $2,500 for permanent bleachers; $2,200 for additional locked room staff; $900 for a system for checking valuables. It anticipates the revenues to be $12,000. They were approximately $11,000 last year, Adams said.

Writers Elect Ex-Marinite

A former Ross schoolteacher and author of numerous books for children and teen-agers has been elected vice president of the Forum of Writers for Young People.

The former Elizabeth Wentworth Seaver, now Mrs. Harry C. Helman, lives in Brooklyn, N. Y. Her titles, published under her married name, include "Strings on Your Fingers," "Rivers and Watersheds in America's Future" and "Land, People and History."

B-Bs Hit Auto

Harry Charles Bell reported to police that someone shot two B-B holes in his windshield and another in a headlamp between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday while his car was parked in front of his home at 53 Glenaire Drive, San Rafael.

Knocknaboul Annex Try Slated Again

Directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District last night agreed to try once more for annexation of the 40-home Knocknaboul Way area to the district.

Chairman Melvin Warenback said the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission once approved the annexation, but residents of the area did not follow up with the necessary steps. Under its new powers, however, the local agency commission can order the board to hold a public hearing on the proposal.

After the hearing, protests by owners of 10 per cent of the assessed value in the area can force an election of annexation. Protest by 51 per cent of assessed value can block the proposal, Warenback explained. If the protest is less than 10 per cent, the district board can order annexation without an election.

Directors also discussed the problem of speeding by young drivers on district streets, and asked Fire Chief George Walser to gather evidence of violations for presentation to parents. Warenback said that seven drivers are causing most of the trouble.

Strep Infection Caseload Drops

Streptococcus infections were on the wane last week, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

There were 20 cases of streptococcus infections last week as compared to 64 cases the previous week, according to the health department's weekly report on communicable diseases.

There were four cases of mumps, two of measles and two of tuberculosis.

Jail Sentence Set In Burglary

A nine-month jail term, with credit for 189 days already served, was given Thomas Howard Chance, 24, yesterday by Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court for second degree burglary.

Chance, Gerald Dalton Rich, 23, and Harold Bradley Sheffield, 20, all of Petaluma, have all been convicted of the Aug. 4 burglary of Joe's Market in Point Reyes Station.

Pro-Marijuana Tracts Bring Man $56 Fine

Michael Linneaus Kinnaird, 19, San Francisco, was fined $56 by Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court yesterday for distributing pro-marijuana literature in Sausalito.

Kinnaird was specifically charged with violating a Sausalito ordinance prohibiting distribution of advertising circulars without a business license. He was arrested June 26 by Sausalito police, who said the circulars called for removal of laws which prohibit the sale of marijuana and made claims that it is a healthful narcotic.

Ex-City Worker Denies Coin Theft

Charles R. Herren, San Rafael parking meter collector, pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court yesterday to stealing coins from meters. Jury trial was scheduled for May 2 before Judge Harold J. Haley.

Herren, 61, allegedly looted about $7 daily over a long period of time from meters and stashed the money in bags and cigar boxes in his home, 3 Bayview Street, San Rafael.

He charged during his preliminary hearing that an illegal search was made of his home by San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa last Dec. 2.

Passenger Injured In Highway 37 Crash

A passenger in a car driven by Marshall A. Flaggs, 38 of Vallejo suffered minor injuries when the car was struck from the rear on Highway 37, just west of the Atherton Avenue overpass in Novato at 11:45 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Flaggs was eastbound when he slowed for road work ahead and his car was hit by one driven by Karl E. Brougher, 21, of Springfield, Ore. Flaggs' passenger, Neda Edwards, 32, of Vallejo, suffered bruises and was to see her own doctor.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Rehabilitation Lets Many Join In Life's Activities Once More

VAN DELLEN

What is the difference between convalescence and rehabilitation? All major illnesses, accidents, and surgical operations are followed by a recovery period.

The damaged tissues and organs repair themselves during convalescence in order to resume the stress of normal functioning.

Rehabilitation enters the picture when the victim is left flabby, weakened, and perhaps demoralized by being idle and undernourished during the acute phase of his illness. He must be helped back to his normal way of living and, if that is impossible, be taught to make the best use of what he has left. The success of this aspect of aftercare depends upon the skills and services of members of many professions.

THE MODERN hospital has intensive treatment facilities for the seriously ill and injured, and the obstetrical and surgical patients. Special units also will be available for those with mental disorders.

When "the fever is down and the stitches are out" they are moved to a convalescent section until the wounds are healed. They need less skilled care and many go home when the disease is cured and the wounds have mended. Rehabilitation becomes the third phase and it is here that certain patients are assisted in resuming their place in the productive world.

The amputee learns how to use a prosthesis and to be independent despite the handicap. The stroke victim may be taught to talk, walk, or use his paralyzed hand.

THE PERSON who never thought he could do without a wheelchair may learn how to undress and dress himself, shuffle with a pair of crutches, or walking sticks, and amble about the house under his own power. He may never be able to resume his pre-stroke or-accident activities, but he is able to attend to simple tasks wtihout assistance.

The man or woman must want to be rehabilitated. Many wait too long before asking for help—often resulting from legal advice because it is easier to capture public sympathy and win the case when crippled. They lose in the end because they never learn new skills to circumvent the handicap.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompaiens request.)

FEW RESTRICTIONS

Mrs. I. P. K. writes: Are there any foods that should not be eaten by an arthritic?

REPLY

There are no restritcion in the usual types of arthritis unless the sufferer is too stout and in need of weight reduction. Gouty arthritis is the exception; foods high in purine should be omitted.

BLADDER ULCER

Mrs. A.Z. writes: Can an ulcer in the bladder be cured?

REPLY

Yes, but some respond more easily than others. Hunner's ulcer is one of the most stubborn and relief, but not cure, may follow periodic dilation of the bladder or the use of an indwelling catheter.

COLD SORES

D.M. writes: Are cold sores on the lips contagious?

REPLY

Yes, but kissing is blamed more frequently than it should be. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on cold sores.

NERVE CANCER

Mrs. S. writes: Can cancer attack the nerves?

REPLY

Yes, in the form of nerve tumors or as an extension from neighboring organs.

Four Fined On Drunken Driving

Four men were fined in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

Donald Stevens, 67, of 361 Eldridge Avenue, Mill Valley, was fined $220 and placed on a year's probation. He was arrested on Bridgeway by Sausalito police Jan. 21.

Sherman Rudolph Smith, 59, Bolinas, also was fined $220 and put on one year's probation. He was arrested on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard by California Highway Patrol on Jan. 27.

Merrill D. Kincaid, 21, with the Navy aboard the Hoel, was fined $220, with $70 of it suspended, and placed on a year's probation.

David Charles Stroup, 22, also with the Navy aboard the Coral Sea, was fined $150 and given a year's probation. He was arrested last Saturday by sheriff's officers on Highway 101.

Thieves Pry Coins From March Cards

Burglars who took time to tear about $60 in coins from March of Dimes cards early today broke into Rancho Nicasio tavern in Nicasio.

Sheriff's Inspector Kenneth Irving said entry was by breaking a restroom window. The intruders looted two sets of cards, he said, and also made off with $30 from March of Dimes containers on counters, and $25 in tip change left under the bar.

The burglary ocurred between 12:30 a.m., when the tavern closed, and about 8 a.m. when discovered by employees.

Alvina L. Dont, office manager from C. R. Frederick Co., 320 Deer Island Lane, Novato, told officers someone forced an office sliding window and stole $80 from a cash box in a desk drawer. Also taken, she reported, were several blank company checks.

School Board Cuts Meeting

The San Rafael Board of Education is not scheduled to have any more meetings this month, but there's a full schedule lined up for next month.

Board members last night cancelled the regularly scheduled Feb. 22 meeting because of Washington's birthday.

Then they agreed upon a series of meetings next month as follows: March 1, a closed meeting on "personnel matters"; March 8, a regularly scheduled meeting, March 17, an annual closed meeting on evaluating teachers for employment; March 20, visits to various schools after meeting at 8:30 a.m. at Terra Linda High School, and March 22, regular meeting a San Rafael High School Library.

Burglary Case Probation Given

Robert Charles Morton, 22, was given a suspended 30-day jail sentence and placed on two years probation yesterday in Marin Superior Court for second degree burglary of the home of Fred Ludekens on Cliff Road.

Judge Thomas F. Keating ruled the violation a misdemeanor rather than a felony.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Sometimes Video Is Bit Provincial

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Many viewers across the nation who watched television cover President Johnson's return last night from the Hawaii conference on Viet Nam got a memorable sample of the networks' occasional New York-oriented provincialism.

The President's plane landed in Los Angeles at a reasonably early hour during television's prime time on the West Coast—which meant that the chief viewing hours for video watchers in much of the country still were available.

Furthermore, there was a good deal of natural television drama in the rendezvous nature of the arrival—since the Chief Executive not only was to make a speech, but was also to meet Vice President Humphrey, who was heading on to Asia to carry on the diplomatic task.

Now, it is a simple fact that television executives, like anybody else, like to look good before their home town friends and business associates, not to mention their local critics, who are read by these acquaintances. So can there be much doubt that if the President had landed in New York, the home base of most of those in charge of network television, all three major broadcasting organizations would have busted right into prime-time with all-out coverage?

But this side of the Hudson River is sometimes a distant world psychologically for those whose offices are on the other side. So here is what happened: Only one of the networks, NBC-TV, saw fit to hit the Johnson-Humphrey rendezvous story with extended live coverage here in Los Angeles (and therefore in many areas throughout the nation), from the Chief Executive's landing to his speech.

CBS-TV at least as seen here in Los Angeles (which means some other areas were similarly affected), obviously acted according to its recently enforced view that coverage should be edited pretty much strictly for essentials. Therefore, all this viewer saw on that network during the live coverage was a brief interruption of the "Petticoat Junction" series for the President's short speech —and then a return to the hillbilly opus.

ABC-TV likewise has stepped up its Viet Nam coverage lately. But last night its Los Angeles outlet which means some others as well did not present either the President's arrival or speech live and at length in prime time, giving precedence to "Combat.", "McHale's Navy," "F Troop," "Peyton Place" (which blotted out the speech), and "The Fugitive."

Fourth Entry In Tiburon Council Race

Nomination papers were taken out yesterday for attorney William R. Bremer for the April 12 Tiburon city council election.

Bremer, a five-year resident of Tiburon, is in general trial practice in San Francisco.

Bremer said he is running because "I believe there is a general apathy to government in this country and that it must start to be corrected at the grassroots. I also want to see Tiburon a better place in which to live and raise children. And finally, I have a personal interest in politics."

Bremer, 36, is a native of San Francisco and a graduate of University of San Francisco law school. He is a major in the Marine Corps Reserve and served in the Korean War as a lieutenant.

He lives at 120 Taylor Road with his wife, Margaret; son, Mark, 13, and daughter, Karen, 5.

Incumbent councilmen Jacqueline A. Parnell and Fred C. Hannahs filed their papers this morning at City Hall, along with candidate Alfred J. Azevedo. Three council positions are at stake in the election.

Three Churches Join In Census

An inter-faith religious census of Marin City residents will be taken between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday.

Census takers will be laymen of three churches, the First Missionary Baptist and Village Baptist, in Marin City, and the Star of the Sea, of Sausalito. Star of the Sea Church will also take a census of Catholic residents living in Tennessee Valley, reported James E. Muldoon, publicity chairman.

Rev. J. P. Henry and Samuel L. Banks of Marin City and Rev. James M. Moher of Sausalito are organizers of the census drive.

Sertoma Club Gives Patriotic Documents

The Redwood Sertoma Club will distribute copies of the Declaration of Independence to eighth grade students in the Larkspur School District tomorrow and Friday.

Club President Louis Hawkins said the distribution of the documents is a project of the club to bring the students "nearer to the basic beliefs underlying our democratic way of life."

Fair Condition

Kenneth A. Hulme, 18, of 79 Summit Avenue, San Rafael, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital, following an averdose of barbiturates Monday. The San Rafael Fire Department responded to a resuscitator call to his home and took him to the hospital.

Candidate Would Ban Third Term

A proposal to limit California governors to two terms was advanced yesterday by Robert Finch, candidate for Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

Finch, 39, Pasadena attorney, spoke to the Federated Republican Women's Clubs of Marin at a luncheon meeting this noon at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

"California voters should have presented for consideration, as an initiative on the ballot, a proposal to limit the governorship to two terms," said Finch.

He rapped "monumental failures we have witnessed as a result of inept federal intervention in the fields of urban renewal, farm problems, the socio-economics of poverty and underprivilege.

Instead of federal intervention, he suggested that voluntary, non-governmental associations like churches, labor unions, and fraternal and service groups could play important roles as problem solvers of the future.

"Republicans seek a balanced and harmonious approach to problems and offer cooperative federalism with joint state-local action," said Finch. "Democrats just offer a federal pill for every ill."

THE CUP THAT COSTS

Patrons of the Rocky Roost Cafe in Welds, Kans., can get a good cup of coffee for a dime, but must pungle up another 10 cents for a second cup or a "warm up." Mrs. Charles Worthington, pouring some of the java, says the sign causes lots of comment and stimulates coffee sales. (AP Wirephoto)

Septic Tanks Get Some Oil To Calm Water

A slight amount of oil was poured on troubled waters yesterday in an effort to smooth out septic tank arguments between the Marin County Board of Supervisors and the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

In the past, the regional board had discouraged the use of septic tanks in new development while the supervisors approved their use, subject to the absence of a health hazard.

Yesterday, Roger James, a representative of the regional water board, listened in on a discussion about waste disposal on proposed development at Silver Hills, near Inverness Park, and told members afterwards:

"Really, our two boards are not so far apart as you might think. I hopefully feel we should get together and listen to some of the objections we both have on the subject of septic tanks."

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen replied with a broad smile, "Do you think that is really possible?"

During the earlier discussion, Kettenhofen said the county had one policy on septic tanks, the regional board another, "and one day we will clash and there will be a revolution or something."

San Anselmo Council Passes TV Ordinance

Members of San Anselmo City Council last night cheerfully and quickly passed an ordinance expected to result in better television pictures for residents, if not better television programs.

The ordinance, passed with little discussion, will permit a community antenna television system in the city.

Several changes were made after the first reading, including cutting the time period for the franchise from 20 to 10 years. Members considered the period was short enough to keep any antenna company "on its toes."

City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt said: "There is a precedent. The garbage collection service has a 10-year contract and that's working out very well."

Quipped Councilman John R. Reichmuth: "Are you equating garbage with television?"

The council gave a first reading to another ordinance—to reduce to 72 hours the time limit permitting cars to be left on public or private land before action is taken by the police. At present the time limit is five days, said City Atty. John G. Buresh.

After a public hearing lasting less than a minute, the council agreed a small section of the Sunny Hills property to the city. Councilman Cedric E. Clute proposed the annexation. There was no objections from the public.

Richard White, a subdivider of property on Redwood Road, was granted an extention of 12 months to carry out approved improvements before further consideration is given to revoking approval of the final map.

White said a number of reasons had prevented his completing the improvements to the subdivision since approval of the final map in 1962, but predicted they would be finished "before the end of this year."

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

1. Accepted a $5.647 bid from Ames Ford of San Rafael for three new police cars, after trade-in. Other bidders were Shamrock Dodge ($6.656) and De Long Chevrolet Inc. ($6.897).
2. Agreed to further examinations for an eligibility list for police officers after accepting the resignation of Patrolman George A. Alberigi, who is leaving for another post.
3. Heard a presentation by Richard Phenix of Marin Council of Community Services on a "Master Plan for Older Adults in Marin County."
4. Approved the final map of J. R. Wages and Emmett Slayton Jr., applicants for a two-lot subdivision at 301 The Alameda. Flautt said improvements were acceptable to the city.
5. Adjourned until 8 p.m., Feb. 21—a day earlier than usual because of George Washington's Birthday.

Budget Asks North Bay's Water Funds

Some $2.75 million was included in Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget yesterday for initial construction on the North Bay Aqueduct which some day may bring Sacramento River water to Marin County.

The aqueduct was part of the $355 million the governor proposed to spend this year on the state's water resources. About 97 per cent of the money is scheduled for the sixth year of work on the massive State Water Project, which is scheduled to deliver Northern California water to Southern California by 1972.

Initial phases of the North Bay Aqueduct are to serve only Napa and Solano counties.

Marin County is not expected by the California Department of Water Resources to require water from the aqueduct until 1975.

Jail Inmate Pleads Guilty To Counts

James Albert Sprague, 21, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to two charges of damaging county jail property. Judge Peter Allen Smith sentenced him to 30 days in jail on each count, to run concurrently.

Sprague, of 110 Laurel Place, San Rafael, tore wall padding in a solitary cell Jan. 11, and ripped out a lighting fixture in another cell Jan. 13. He is serving time for forgery.

Bridge Horseman Hogties Squaw, 18, From Fairfax

Justin Littlebit, the 31-year-old cowboy who crossed the Golden Gate Bridge on horseback in October, 1964, with much fanfare, has an 18-year-old bride from Fairfax.

Littlebit and Myra Glew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Glew of 129 Lansdale Avenue, were drawn together by their mutual interest in horses and married in Gardnerville, Nev., Jan. 5.

They met last December while Littlebit was working at Jack Pinkney's Horse Ranch in Novato, where Myra had a class in horsemanship.

The couple is now living in Lida, Nev., where Littlebit is working for the Lida Livestock Co., a ranch operated by Art Linkletter.

Mrs. Glew said her daughter was enthusiastic about horses and wanted to teach riding. Myra is a 1965 graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School.

Littlebit gained publicity when he was blocked from crossing the Golden Gate Bridge on his horse, Dandy Cody, after he had ridden 6,000 miles around the United States. After reconsideration, Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors permitted the crossing.

Dandy Cody has been retired to a pasture in Indiana, Littlebit said.

Gas Chamber Set In Yacht Murder

SAN DIEGO (AP) — William A. Tahl, 27, has been sentenced to death in the gas chamber for the shotgun slayings of a yacht club caretaker and his wife.

Tahl pleaded guilty to two first-degree murder charges in the shotgun slayings of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bowen last April 1. He was sentenced to death after a jury heard testimony linking him with the fatal stabbing of a man in Dallas, Tex., and the assault of an elderly man in St. Louis, Mo., that occurred after he left San Diego.

Tahl was on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted men when he was captured in St. Louis Nov. 5.

New Date Urged For Toll Hearing

Loma Verde Homeowners Assn. members will circulate petitions urging that the California Public Utilities Commission reset a hearing on removal of telephone toll charges between southern Novato and San Rafael.

The PUC recently postponed the hearing indefinitely.

Decision to circulate petitions was taken at a meeting of the organization Monday night, at which County Supervisor William A. Gnoss explained the functions and operations of the Loma Verde County Services Area.

The area, a taxing entity, was set up and is operated by the board of supervisors, Gnoss explained. The board sets the tax rate for the area.

Stores Prowled In Mill Valley

Burglars broke open a skylight on the roof of Santa's Toys at 419 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley Monday night, entered and ransacked the shop and stole $20 in coins.

Burglars also entered Honda of Mill Valley at 473 Miller Avenue, police reported, ransacked the shop but took nothing.

Patrolman J. H. Newton, checking Santa's Toys at 10:55 p.m. Monday, found the rear door open. Checking further, he found an adding machine and file basket had been knocked over in the office and papers inscattered on the floor. The money was reportedly taken from a cash register near the front door.

Appeal Sounded To Locate Dog

The Marin County Health Department today issued a plea for help in finding a curly-haired, light tan dog which bit a 15-year-old Tamalpais Valley girl Feb. 2.

The girl is Marilyn Jones of 413 Maple Street, whose doctor has warned she must begin the painful 14-day series of Pasteur rabies shots Thursday unless the dog is established not to have been rabid.

Dan R. Pelz(health education director for the department, said Miss Jones saw the dog playing with children at the corner of Homestead Boulevard and Morning Sun Avenue, Homestead Valley. She thought it was friendly until it bit her on the back on one leg.

Book Selection Discussion Set

What should be the standards for selecting books to be read by high school students?

This question, root of heated controversy in San Rafael recently, will be considered by two teachers and two parents on the Radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Appearing with program director Kitty Oppenheimer will be Terra Linda High School teachers Donald F. Fearis (social studies) and John T. Staples (English), Terra Linda resident Paul L. Jones and Marinwood resident Rudolph Nelson.

Listeners may call in questions for the broadcast, which will be recorded for replay at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

O'Lazzarooney To Notre Dame? Golfer's 'Miracle' Is Recalled

FIGHTING IRISH: Although he's still undecided, Drake High's all-everything football-track star Dean Lazzarini appears headed for Notre Dame.

Dean, who at one time contemplated entering the priesthood, favors Notre Dame and apparently has the grades to make it. Notre Dame has offered him a scholarship, but the likable San Anselmo youth is listening to all offers (and there are plenty) before making a final decision. "I want to see all the schools before I make up my mind," he says.

If he goes to Fighting Irish land the first thing we'll have to do is fix up that name. How about Dean O'Lazzarooney?

In the meantime, the Dashing Dino is still visiting campuses on weekends. Other schools still in the running are Oregon State, USC, UCLA, Colorado, Iowa and Illinois.

Besides his brilliant gridiron credentials, Lazz is quite a track star in the sprints, placing fifth in the state meet's 100-yard dash last spring.

TIME MAGAZINE'S last issue recalled San Rafael native Mat Palacio's classic quip some years ago while playing the trecherous 18th hole at Pebble Beach. When he hit a drive in the general direction of China, Palacio muttered: "Only God can save that one." Whereupon the waves miraculously rolled back and the ball caromed off a convenient rock straight back onto the fairway. Mat sighed, "Thank you, God."

Mat was the 1936 California State amateur champion and still is one of the fine simon pure shotmakers in this neck of the woods.

LYNN LIVIE, College of Marin's all-time basketball scoring champion (1961-62), hasn't lost the touch. Matter of fact, he's improved on it, as judge his 51-point performance in Sacramento State's 114-104 victory over San Francisco State last weekend. Ten of Lynn's points came in the overtime period.

SAD SIGHT at Santa Rosa's Sports Celebrity Banquet the other night: Hugh McElhenny sitting out in the audience. Just a few short years ago he was the king of all he surveyed in pro football and guest of honor all along the pot roast and peas circuit. Now, just another spectator.

Williams Wins With Knockout

HOUSTON (UPI) — Heavyweight Cleveland "Big Cat" Williams, who doctors said would never fight again because of a bullet wound in the stomach, knocked out Ben Black of Chicago in two minutes and 43 seconds of the first round last night in a comeback appearance in Houston.

For Williams, it was the first step toward the heavyeight crown since he was shot 14 months ago by a highway patrolman who arrested him for driving while intoxicated.

Williams, weighing 214 pounds, decked Black for a nine-count in the round, then used a snappy short right uppercut to put him down for keeps. The crowd of some 8,000 in Sam Houston Coliseum gave Williams a standing ovation.

TAMING OF A LION

Detroit Suspends Cogdill

DETROIT (AP) — For the first time in their 31-year history the Detroit Lions have suspended a player.

Veteran end Gail Cogdill was given an indefinite suspension by the National Football League club yesterday for remarks he reportedly made about the club's head coach, Harry Gilmer, its management and about other players on the team.

Gilmer, announcing the suspension in a two-paragraph statement backed by club owner William Clay Ford and General Manager Edwin Anderson, said, "After a thorough investigation of remarks publicly made by Cogdill at a meeting in Flint (Mich.) last Wednesday, the weight of the evidence is that he did make positive statements detrimental to the best interests of the Detroit Lions management, its coaches, some of its players in particular, and to professional football in general."

Gilmer said he took the action against Cogdill with regret.

The suspension was the first made by the Lions. Alex Karras, a Lion defensive tackle, was suspended in 1963, but his was a league and not a club suspension.

"I'm not going to say anything. I'll take care of this myself. I have nothing to say," Cogdill said after the announcement.

At a meeting of the Flint, Mich., Junior Women's Club, Cogdill reportedly said Gilmer "doesn't know how to handle men and he's not ready for a coaching job. If Gilmer comes back at all, he might be the only one who does."

The 6-foot-2, 190 pound end later denied making such statements, but Lions' officials ordered an investigation.

A reporter who attended the Flint meeting quoted other statements reportedly made by Cogdill about player salaries, controversial halfback Joe Don Looney and Gilmer.

"A coach almost has to be a psychiatrist. The men have to be able to discuss problems with him and establish rapport before they can have confidence in his coaching ability," he was quoted as saying.

Cogdill reportedly told the meeting Lions' officials told players "the Lions were the highest paying team in the league, but we did some investigating. The team rates 10th."

Problem halfback Joe Don Looney "did not turn out so well as we thought he would. We're taking him back next year on a trial basis. We can't trade him because nobody wants him," Cogdill was quoted.

The Lions did not amplify what was meant by an indefinite suspension. "Our statement is self-explanatory. Indefinite means just that — indefinite," a spokesman said.

NFL officials in New York refused comment, saying it was a "club affair."

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said although club-initiated suspensions are rare, there have been at least four in recent years.

"The Chicago Bears suspended Ronnie Knox in 1959," he said. "While I was with Los Angeles (as general manager) Duane Putnam was suspended and just this season the Washington Redskins suspended Rick

Venturi May Have To Skip Phoenix Open; Hands Hurt

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Ken Venturi says he may have to pass up the $60,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament which begins tomorrow because his hands are bothering him again.

Venturi, winner of this year's Lucky International at San Francisco, came off a practice round yesterday complaining of cold hands caused by a circulatory ailment.

"Even with gloves, my hands hurt," said Venturi. "I'm colder here than I was in San Francisco. If it gets colder I may not be able to play."

Cloudy skies were forecast for today's $2,500 pro amateur prelude to the 72-hole tourney at the 6,765-yard, par 36-35—71 Phoenix Country Club course.

All five 1966 tour champions will be in the field — Palmer, Venturi, Bill Casper, Doug Sanders and Don Massengale.

Among those taking part in the pro-am event are Bob Hope and Barry Goldwater, the 1964 Republican presidential candidate.

MARCH 29

Clay-Terrell Title Go Officially Scheduled

CHICAGO (AP) — Everything has been guaranteed for the world heavyweight boxing championship between Cassius Clay and Ernie Terrell in Chicago's International Amphitheatre March 29.

The fight itself was guaranteed when the Illinois State Athletic Commission formally approved the contract and renewed Clay's Illinois boxing license.

The billing of "the fight for the undisputed world heavyweight boxing championship" was guaranteed since Clay is generally recognized as the champion and Terrell is the titleholder as far as the World Boxing Association is concerned.

Clay was guaranteed $450,000 from all facets of the 15-round bout.

Terrell will receive 20 per cent across the board with a $50,000 guarantee from the live gate, plus $12,500 training expenses and $100,000 minimum from closed circuit television.

The Black Muslims, an organization to which Clay belongs, were guaranteed something since the closed circuit television showing is under the auspices of Main Bout, Inc., a five-member group including two representatives of the Black Muslims.

The Illinois State Athletic Commission was guaranteed little peace because no sooner had the contracts been signed before Clay wondered if he would get a "fair shake."

Commissioner Joe Triner assured Clay, "There is no such things as a home town decision in Chicago — if Muhammad Ali wins, he'll get the decision; if Terrell wins, he'll get the decision."

Clay guaranteed he has not lost the art of a fast quip when he answered, "Most of the fights I fight, you don't have to worry about a decision."

The press was guaranteed it will not be lacking for advice or copy when Clay said, "I think it should be noted by the press that I am fighting more than any fighter among the last five or six heavyweight champions.

"I'm doing this to help the fight game — putting my title on the line without any strings attached, like a return bout clause. I think this should be praised."

Co-promoters Irv Schoenwald and Ben Bentley guaranteed they'll be shooting for a better than a half million dollar live gate in the amphitheatre which can seat about 15,000.

The public was guaranteed that to see the fight live tickets can be purchased from $10 to $100 with others going for $20, $30 and $50

NHL Awards Six New Franchises

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Hockey League today awarded franchises to groups representing Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, Philadelphia, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Pittsburgh and St. Louis.

The awarding of the St. Louis franchise is subject to a satisfactory applicant by April 5. Otherwise, a franchise will be awarded to a Baltimore group headed by Zanvyl Krieger, a major stockholder in the Baltimore Orioles baseball club.

The new cities will be part of the National Hockey League's second division which is expected to start operating for the 1967-68 season.

The current six-team set-up includes Montreal, Toronto, Boston, Detroit, Chicago and New York.

The cost of each franchise is $2 million.

The Los Angeles group is headed by Jack Kent Cooke, owner of the Los Angeles Lakers of the National Basketball Association and part owner of the Washington Redskins of the National Football League. Cooke was given the nod over four other Los Angeles delegations.

The San Francisco-Oakland group includes Bing Crosby and George Flaherty, president of Shasta Corporation, which owns the Ice Follies.

The Minneapolis-St. Paul Franchise was awarded to an eight-man syndicate which includes Walter Bush, an attorney, Bob Ridder and Gordon Ritz, television station owners.

Art Rooney, owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the NFL, and State Senator Jack McGregor of Pennsylvania, are among the 31 investors in the Pittsburgh group.

Jerry Wolman, owner of the Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL, and Jerry Shiff, a building contractor, head the Philadelphia group.

NHL President Clarence Campbell said the league was anxious to have a team in St. Louis but so far has not had an application for a franchise in that city.

"We want a team in St. Louis because of the city's geographical location and the fact that it has an adequate building."

The St. Louis Arena, currently used by the Central Hockey League team, seats 14,000.

Warriors Back In 2nd Place

NEW YORK (AP)—Have the San Francisco Warriors found their secret to success by finding rookie Rick Barry with the ball?

Whatever the answer, there is no debating the second-place position today of the club that last season set a National Basketball Association record for losses.

The Warriors jumped back into the runner-up spot in the Western Division last night by beating the Detroit Pistons 113-103 in the first game of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader.

And Barry once again led the Warriors attack with 36 points. The rookie from Miami hit 13 field goals and 10 of 12 free throws. Although he scored only four points, Guy Rodgers set up Barry repeatedly with accurate passes that led to baskets.

Backing up Barry was Nate Thurmond with 20 points. Eddie Miles paced Detroit with 28 points.

TWO HURLERS SIGN GIANT CONTRACTS

Eighteen San Francisco Giants have signed their 1966 contracts, which means that there are still 19 left to come to terms.

Latest to ink pacts, are righthander Ron Herbel and lefty Al Stanek. Herbel, 28, had his best season last year as he went 12-9 for the Giants with a 3.85 earned run mark.

The hard-throwing Stanek, 22, is trying to make the big leagues after performing at Tacoma last year.

Willie Mays signed his $125,000 contract Monday, according to an exclusive story yesterday by I-J columnist Jack Hanley, but official announcement is not expected to come until tomorrow.

Giant Rally Turns Back Terra Linda

By RALPH CHATOIAN

A strong 47-point second half gave the Redwood Giants a 70-61 triumph over the Terra Linda Trojans yesterday and kept the Larkspur boys tied for the Marin Athletic League basketball lead.

A rugged full court press by the Trojans kept Redwood off balance through the first half and helped Terra Linda to a 26-23 lead at intermission. The alert ball hawkers from Terra Linda stole nine Redwood passes in the first half, converting the steals into points.

Playing on their home court, Trojans Brian Perron, Sid Norman, Fred Smith, Fred Daniele and Dave Dukes all helped to score points in the second quarter to erase a 15-14 first quarter lead by Redwood and take over. At one time in the second quarter, Terra Linda had a nine-point lead, 26-17, but baskets by Andre Horn, Chuck Meyer and Dave Strathairn, all from close under the hoop, turned the tide and brought Redwood to within three points of Terra Linda as the second quarter ended.

Then in the third quarter, Jack Fitzhenry's 15-footer and Russ Smith's lay-up— off a pretty shovel pass from Fitzhenry — tied it up for Redwood at 30-30. Redwood went ahead at 33-32 on a free throw by Horn, the first of nine times that the lead was to change hands in the third quarter. When the hectic period finally ended, it was Redwood on top, 46-42.

It was Jim Marc, reserve forward, who came off the bench in the final quarter to blow the game wide open. Within a 40-second spurt, he meshed three straight buckets on two jumpers and a lay-up to boost the Giants in front by 12 points at 56-44.

Late in the game, Terra Linda rallied to within four points of the Giants at 62-58, but it was Fitzhenry's turn to get hot. He hit three straight field goals — all from underneath after faking out defenders with some sharp moves— within a minute and now it was 68-60 with only eight seconds left.

A free throw by Terra Linda's John Ahern and two of them by Horn ended the scoring.

Fitzhenry ended up as top scorer for the game with 19 points, including 9 field goals. Horn scored 14, and Meyer and Smith each chipped in with 11 apiece.

It was a two-fisted punch for Terra Linda's scoring, Perron with 16 markers and Daniele with 15 before fouling out late in the game.

Redwood made 28 of its 55 shots from the floor for 51 per cent and 14 of 20 free throws for 70 per cent. Fitzhenry, playing an all-around good game, led in rebounds with 11. Smith, the team's top scorer, led in a different statistic this game, assists, with 8 of them.

Wildcats Surprise Novato '5'

Guard Brian Grove scored a pair of free throws in the final seconds of play as Marin Catholic upset Novato 36-34 in a Marin Athletic League basketball tussle yesterday at Novato.

Coach Gus Hassapakis' Wildcats were defeated by coach John Panagakis' Hornets when the two teams met earlier in the MCAL's double round-robin schedule, 46-27. But yesterday, the visitors capitalized on 16 Hornet personal fouls and reversed things.

Although the Novato boys cashed in on five more field goals from the floor (15x43) the game was actually completely decided at the charity line. Evidence of this is that Marin caged 16 of 26 attempts, and Novato 4 of just 7 attempts. The Wildcats connected on 10 of 28 tries from the floor.

In the first period, Novato scored only four points while the Marin quint registered 6 markers. In the third quarter, Marin chalked up just 4 markers and the Novato cagers racked up 7 points in the low-scoring game.

The 'Cats' broke away for 17 big points in the second stanza and preserved a 23-16 halftime lead on the strength of Grove's two clutch charity tosses. The little 5-7 guard also turned in an outstanding all-around game as he stole the ball from the Hornets several times during key situations.

Wildcat Ches Bornia, a 6-2 forward, topped all scorers with 13 points.

John Dolinsek, 6-2 guard, tied for scoring honors with Ev Fritz as both boys threw in 10 points and were instrumental in keeping Novato's chances alive until the final buzzer sounded.

The taller Novato quint dominated the boards 21-14 with Dolinsek and center Tom Herrenberger each grabbing 7 rebounds for the home team. Lombardi led the Wildcats with 5.

Indians Rip San Rafael By 74-62

Paced by Steve (Woodie) Woodward's 24-point performance, Tamalpais High defeated the visiting San Rafael Bulldogs 74-62 yesterday in a Marin Athletic Legue basketball game.

It was the second meeting of the season for the two teams, with the Indians clipping the Bulldogs in the first one 44-38 at San Rafael. It was the seventh straight league loss for the Bulldogs.

The Tam quint held a commanding lead throughout the scrap, outscoring the San Rafael cagers 21-11 in the first period and chalking up 25 points in the second to take a 46-28 advantage off the floor at intermission. And "Woodie" who played little more than half of the game, scored 17 points in that big first half.

Coach Ed Chavez' defense-minded Indians threw a full-court press on the visitors in the opening minutes of the game, and its value showed early, as the tight man-for-man guarding forced the Bulldogs into costly ball-control errors.

"It was a tremendous team effort," said Chavez. "The kids played an outstanding defensive game and I'm really proud of all of them." Chavez also noted that mostly his reserves played in the second half.

Once again it was guard Joe Cunningham who sparked the San Rafael attack. Cunningham poured in seven field goals and two free throws for 16 points. Roger Widmer and Chip Tyson aided the Bulldogs' scoring punch with 15 and 12 points respectively, while high-scoring forward Bill Tetu chalked up 9 markers for his best point production since recovering from an ankle injury suffered earlier in the season.

Both teams shot 45 per cent from the field, but the victors had the edge from the charity line, racking up 59 per cent compared to 47 per cent for the visitors.

The Tam boys also dominated the boards 44-30 as Steve Johnson led the way with 9 rebounds for the Indians, and Woodward pulled down 6.

Pete Nelson, Honor Jackson and Johnson contributed vastly to the winners scoring spree by chalking up 12, 10 and 9 points respectively.

Cogdill missed most of last season after breaking a kneecap last September against Green Bay. He underwent surgery last month and still uses a cane.

Redwood Frosh Wins 9th Straight Game

Redwood High School's freshman basketball team stretched its record to 9-0 yesterday with a narrow 42-41 victory over the Terara Linda frosh. Skip Corsini with 14 points and Gary Pilcher with 13 led the Redwood attack.

Drake Upends Petaluma '5' In Close Tilt

Drake High School's Pirate basketballer's, paced by big Bob Tobin, came from behind to edge the Petaluma Trojans 75-72 yesterday in a practice game on the losers' court.

Tobin, 6-5, made 11 of 17 shots from the floor and added 4 free throws for 26 points to lead the Pirates. Chet Carlisle, Drake forward, also had a big time of it, scoring 21 points, including 10 from the field.

Petaluma was on top at intermission, 40-37, but bad Trojan passes coupled with some alert defense by the Pirates boosted the Drake quint to the fore.

As a team, Drake made 31 of 76 shots from the floor for 38 per cent, and luckily, got more shots at the hoop. Petaluma was hot and scored when the boys shot, making 29 of 53 shots for a blistering 54 per cent.

Led by Tobin's nine rebounds, Drake beat Petaluma on the boards, 38-31 in the rebounding department.

Although they won, the Pirates fell one-half game behind Tamalpais and Redwood in Marin Athletic League standings, because yesterday's game was a non-league affair. But in the all-important loss column, Drake is still even with the co-leaders.

The Drake Class B cagers fell to Petaluma's Bees, 61-33 in a lop-sided game. Dave Alvarado and Jim Rodgers led the little Pirate scoring, each with 8 points.

STONEHAM TESTIFIES

'Expansion Not Feasible'

CHICAGO (UPI) — Horace Stoneham, president of the San Francisco Giants, said yesterday he could foresee expansion of the National League only in the future.

He testified in a deposition for the league and its member clubs in the anti-trust suit filed by Milwaukee County against the Braves as a result of their move to Atlanta.

"I don't believe expansion can be done satisfactorily in the next several years," he said. "There are not enough players of the caliber necessary to present major league operation."

Stoneham said that in his opinion expansion in 1966 was "not feasible."

"Expansion in 1966 would throw us into complete confusion," he added.

He declared in addition that "It would not be feasible" to operate an 11 team league.

No Conflict Between Pro And Prep Football

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Spokesmen for professional football have discounted predictions of an encounter between the sport and high schools over Friday night televising of pro games.

Representatives for both the National Football League and American Football League said in New York yesterday that no plans have been made to televise regular professional football games on Friday nights.

The executive secretary of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, Cliff Fagan of Chicago, said here yesterday that such an encounter was brewing and that high schools "are going to try to get some protection and relief from this conflict."

Fagan said the AFL and NFL have scheduled telecasts "that will be in conflict with some of our September games." He added that "we're going to try to get statutory protection."

The representative for high schools said pro football telecasts would reduce the interest in the high school program "when we need it most." Fagan said the proposed Friday night telecasts "will reduce the interest (in teams) when the weather is inclement in the northeast, it will reduce the interest when a team is having a mediocre season."

The spokesman for the NFL said, "We have no plans to televise regular season games on Friday nights. We will televise four pre-season games on Friday nights, but the latest of these is Sept. 2 and there shouldn't be any conflict with the high schools there."

The AFL said it has never televised regular season games on Friday nights "and we have no plans to televise on Friday nights.

Wills Going After His Own Mark

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Someone's after Maury Wills' record of 104 stolen bases in one season—and it's Maury Wills.

"After I set the record in '62, I felt that it eventually would be broken, but I didn't think I'd be the one to do it," the Dodgers captain said yesterday at a news conference.

"But after last year," he added, "when I missed tying it by only 10 steals, I feel that Maury Wills is the guy who's going to break it. The reason I say this is because even with the hemorrhaging in my leg that slowed me down for five weeks or so, I still stole 94.

"The Dodger trainers did a terrific job to keep me going. This season I plan to wear sliding pads right from the first day, and I think this will help," Wills explained.

Quite A Sale At Boat Show; $60,000 Worth

Three Dorsett-Trailorboat fiberglass fire boats, designed by Victor Lenci of San Rafael, have been sold for a total of $60,000 at the San Francisco Sports and Boat Show in the Cow Palace.

The City of Richmond, Grays Harbor of Aberdeen, Wash., and San Francisco Bay Naval Shipyard at Mare Island were the three buyers of the boats, all selling for $20,000 each. It is the only production fiberglass fire boat made in the United States.

Lenci is now in charge of sales in the Dorsett-Trailorboat Co. in Santa Clara, the company that manufacturs the fire boats. They can pump 3,000 gallons of water per minute, either from hydrants or surrounding water, and have a speed of 31 knots.

Race Track Bet Increase Seen

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Horse race betting tax revenue of $50.5 million — without night racing or additional days — is expected by the Brown administration in the next fiscal year.

The governor's budget predicts a total of parimutuel take of $657.5 million for 196-667, compared to $635 million for the current year.

The state's share of this is computed on a sliding scale ranging from 5 per cent of the first $10 million of a meet's parimutuel pool to 8 per cent of anything over $125 million.

The budget, noting the expected increase in betting, said wagering volume tends to follow personal income, expected to reach a record in the coming fiscal year.

New Tourney Format May Stymie Tars

By RALPH CHATOIAN

College of Marin's basketball team has a good chance at the Golden Valley Conference championship this season, but under the new setup in the state, the Tars may never get to the state tournament.

Marin has defeated the other six GVC teams in the first half of the round-robin action, and start the second half Saturday night in Kentfield against Yuba Junior College.

Closest to Marin, which has a 6-0 conference mark, is Santa Rosa which finished the first half at 5-1. Then come Napa, 3-2, Shasta and Siskiyous at 2-4, Sierra, 1-4, and Yuba, 1-5.

Tournaments are set up with eight teams, and four years ago things were ideal, with eight conferences in the state. Each champion junior college got a spot in the state tourney. Added junior colleges in the state forced a revamping of conferences last year and now there are 10, five in the northern half of the state and five in the south.

One of the conferences in each north and south half are designated as a "Challenge Conference," without actually having a spot in the state tourney. But the winning team of the "Challenge Conference" has the right to challenge any one of the champions of the other four conferences prior to the start of the state tourney. If the "Challenge" team wins in a playoff game it replaces the team it beats in the state tourney.

Independent-Journal Sports

38 Feb. 9, 1966

The challenge conference this year is the Valley Conference, headed by highly ranked San Joaquin Delta of Stockton, expected to run away with the title. If Delta wins the championship of its conference, it will challenge the champion team from either the Golden Valley, Central, Coast or Golden Gate conferences.

Now here comes the rub.

San Joaquin Delta easily whipped American River Junior College last Friday night in Sacramento. The following night Delta coach Ernie Marcopulos came back to Sacramento to scout the ARJC-College of Marin game. And, as you know, American River dumped Marin by 15 points, 90-85, ending the Tars' 13-game win streak.

According to the schedule for the state tourney, the Golden Valley Conference champ is to meet the champ of the Pacific Southwest Conference, one of the weaker leagues of the southern half of the state.

Now put it all together. If Marin wins the conference title it stands to reason Marcopulos will challenge the Tars. That would really make things quite difficult for Marin, since the Stockton team is one of the powers of Northern California J. C. basketball.

But before we continue, let's stop the calendar at Feb. 18. That's when the Tars take on Santa Rosa once more, this time on the Bear Cubs' court. A win for Santa Rosa would tie it for the lead with Marin, but a Tars' victory would put them two full games ahead in the standings.

Whoever the Valley Conference champs challenge, the game will be played on a neutral court of the "challenged" conference either Saturday or Sunday, March 5 or 6. The state tournament itself will be played in Bakersfield March 10 through 12.

Marin coach Cal Riemcke is in favor of the present setup, declaring, "It's fair and will make it a stronger state tourney. Now there should be eight strong teams in the tournament, since the lower rated team will have to prove themselves."

PRESS BOX VIEWS

By JACK HANLEY

Embarrassing 'Who Said That?' Game May Be Played In Courts

HANLEY

An embarrassing "Who said that?" game may be played with those depositions being made by National League owners in Milwaukee's antitrust action against the Braves and the league. The depositions are in slight conflict with previous expansion statements by baseball brass.

Well aware of this, of course, are Wisconsin attorneys handling Milwaukee's suit which seeks to keep the Braves from moving to Atlanta unless the National league expands immediately and puts another team in Milwaukee.

When Walter O'Malley's deposition opposing present expansion is read, attorneys for the plaintiff may ask "Who said that?" while citing a recent statement by the owner of the Dodgers.

"Who says we have to freeze things in 1966?" O'Malley declared recently in an Associated Press interview during which he envisioned major league expansion to Canada, Central America, Japan and even Australia. "I look for the whole picture to change. We're moving into an explosive era if international politics stabilize."

IF ATTORNEYS for the defendants recall what Ford Frick said in 1961 they won't use any deposition by the former baseball commissioner who five years ago predicted 24 major league teams by 1965.

"We now have the pattern for future expansion," said Frick in 1961. "In the next four or five years I expect to see major league expansion complete with 24 teams. For 50 years organized baseball stood still and the world progressed ahead of us."

ANY PRESENT deposition by Frick opposing expansion would be too vulnerable to a "Who said that?" query.

Particularly vulnerable to the embarrassing query will be the deposition of William Bartholomay who declared only a couple of seasons ago that his Braves were in Milwaukee to stay and he was tired of hearing about any move to Atlanta.

REGARDLESS OF the legal games that might be played in court, any knowledgeable major league baseball fan knows that neither National nor American League has developed enough farm talent to warrant further expansion at this time.

Just watching the Mets the past four years is enough to convince any fan that the 1962 expansion was a big mistake. Only Casey Stengel made the Mets tolerable. And only the Astrodome makes the Astros tolerable.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Deduction Rule Applies To Most Casualty Losses

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

The loss of your property by reason of flood, fire, storm, shipwreck, vandalism and other casualty, or by theft is deductible only to the extent the loss from each casualty or theft exceeds $100. This is like the $100 "deductible" under a casualty insurance policy. The new rule applies to losses sustained after 1963.

If you have two losses from one act, only one $100 deduction is made. Husband and wife filing jointly are treated as one, so separate losses suffered in the same act bring only one reduction.

P. J. Wikel

This does not apply to losses of corporations or business losses of individuals. If the property is part personal, part business, the $100 reduction is made only to the personal part.

Any insurance recovery must be deducted from the amount of the loss before you make the deduction on your tax return. Also, the loss can never exceed the cost or other basis of the property regardless of the fair market value at the time of loss. Usually the loss is the difference between the fair market value of the property before the loss and the fair market value, if any, of the property after the loss.

The costs of repairing, replacing or cleaning up after the casualty are not allowable deductions. However, if the repairs, replacements or cleaning up do nothing more than restore the property to its condition immediately before the casualty, and do not add to the value, utility or useful life of the property, such costs may be used as a measure of the decrease in value.

On your federal return, if the loss is any amount greater than your income for 1965, you would carry the excess back to 1962 and file a claim for refund of the income tax paid for 1962. If the amount of the loss was such that your 1962 income did not absorb it all, then any unused loss could be carried to 1963 and 1964. Any unused excess loss could be carried forward for the next five years and applied against the income of those years.

Money Supply Boom Worrying Economists

BY PETER S. NAGAN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — The country's money supply has sharply increased giving government officials new worries about inflation.

Key price indexes have been rising faster, and business activity accelerating on all fronts. Taking on the trappings of a genuine boom. Economists think these trends and the money supply growth are related.

The money supply is defined as the currency in circulation plus the checking deposits at commercial banks. It is the classic measure of how much buying power is available to bid for the goods the economy is producing.

As of Dec. 1, the currency amounted to $36.2 billion and demand deposits to $129.6 billion, for a money supply total of $165.8 billion.

For the first 11 months of last year, the money supply rose at an average annual rate of less than 5 per cent — faster at some times and slower at others. This was much more rapid than the 3.3 per cent average for 1960 to 1964, but not out of line with the faster, but still healthy, growth the economy has been experiencing.

In December, growth of the money supply accelerated. The daily average rate jumped to a projected 13 per cent a year. As of Jan. 5, the total was $4 billion higher than of Dec. 1. This is after seasonal adjustment — after allowing for the fact that December is a big shopping month, involving normally big increases of money in circulation and the use of checking accounts.

Some decline has taken place in the last week or two but far less than expected in a post-Christmas period, when the money supply is supposed to shrink drastically.

The reason for the rise in the money supply is not hard to find. People are in an optimistic free-spending mood — aided by easy credit.

To date, the increased buying power has merely spurred industry to grind out a greater volume of goods and services to meet the demand. But orders have now brought production up to capacity. Any additional increases in demand — which credit can spur — cannot produce an equivalent increase in output. But it can send up prices.

Recent price increases have centered on food, mainly meat. These are heavily a result of the interplay of weather and other natural supply and demand factors — not necessarily the kind that respond to too much credit.

But a substantial range of goods and services — industrial raw materials and manufactured items — do respond in price to the amount of buying power bidding for them. And in this area worrisome price increases have lately begun to accelerate.

Recent moves by the Federal Reserve Board to discourage borrowing have mainly increased the price of money — that is, interest rates. If the money supply and the buying power it generates continue to grow at anything like the recent rates, the reserve is sure to reduce the amount of additional lending that banks can do.

Inevitably, a shrinkage in the money-supply will tend to slow down the buying power of consumers and business firms. In normal times, this might suggest a recession. But these are not normal times. With spending for Viet Nam going up, some restraint on the civilian sector is viewed as necessary.

Contract should be let and construction started on a new 9,000-square-foot commercial building at 220 Greenfield Avenue San Anselmo, by March 1.

This will be the Marin home of Shoe Fair and the first branch operation of a 13-year-old business located on Junipero Serra Boulevard, Daly Ciy, owned by Monti Ambinder of Greenbrae.

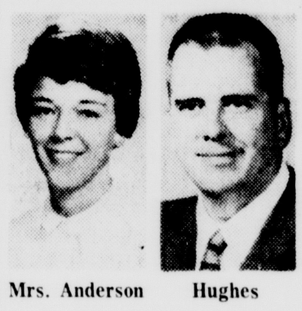
The store will handle various name brands in shoes and will occupy about 7,000 square feet. Other space in the building will be leased. Another Greenbrae resident, Ruben Graff, will be San Anselmo manager.

The building, with a fieldstone exterior, was designed by Sausalito architect Don K. Olsen. It will have offstreet parking for 32 cars. Completion is not expected before opening of the fall school semester.

MRS. LOUISE M. ANDERSON is first woman staff member at Bank of Marin to become an officer in the company—and possibly the first woman to attain that distinction in this banking area.

Manager of the note department since Bank of Marin opened in 1962, she has been appointed an assistant cashier. She began her banking career with the former First National Bank in San Rafael in 1956. With her husband John, who is with Western California Telephone Co., and their two children, she lives in Novato. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Gnoss (Marin County supervisor).



Mrs. Anderson Hughes

DR. RICHARD R. HUGHES of Kentfield has been made head of the chemical engineering department of Shell Development Co., Emeryville. He joined Shell in 1949, was appointed supervisor in the chemical engineering department in 1958 and head of the mathematics department in 1962.

WILLIAM L. BLAIR of Fairfax has been made manager of employee relations for Chevron Chemical Co. With Standard Oil organization since 1941, he has served in a variety of staff and managerial positions —most recently with Western Operations, Inc. For five years his career with Standard was interrupted by World War II when he served with the Air Corps. He is a lieutenant colonel in the California Air National Guard, holding the position of director of personnel in the 144th Air Defense Wing.

PAUL WIDDESS of Ignacio, who has been merchandising manager of the Emporium's Northgate store since its opening, is scheduled to become manager of the new store in Santa Rosa. He will leave Northgate soon to take over work preparatory to the store's opening this summer.

LEWIS N. HYATT, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Hyatt, Mill Valley, has won his wings as an American Airlines flight officer, qualified both as co-pilot and flight engineer. Formerly a naval officer, he held commercial and instrument pilot's certificates before joining American. He has been assigned to flight duty at Nashville, Tenn., and with his family will make his home in that area.

REAL ESTATE. Veteran San Anselmo realty broker Farrington L. Jones, 75, oldest living past president of the Marin County Real Estate Board, is celebrating a half century in business this year. He doesn't remember the month he started, but recalls the year was 1916. For 36 years he has been in the same building, 224 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard (originally 224 Main Street). Before that he was right next door. Son Roy has been with him 20 years. . . .

FUNDS DEBATED IN SENATE

Humphrey To Press Viet Policy

Ho's Peace Talk Letter Discounted

COMBINED AP & UPI

A "declaration of Honolulu," chilled hopes over a peace talks signal from Hanoi, a Senate committee hearings on funds for the Viet Nam war and continued attacks on President Johnson's Southeast Asia policies all figured heavily today at the sidelines of the actual growing conflict in South Viet Nam.

In Washington, the President returned to his desk confident "we shall prevail" in the battle against the aggression in Viet Nam. He said he would meet again with South Vietnamese officials within the next few months.

ON THE WAY

Vice President Humphrey headed for Saigon to carry out action in the redefined strategy in Viet Nam hammered out by the president and South Viet Nam leaders the past few days in the "declaration of Honolulu."

The declaration called for broad programs to create a "true social revolution" in South Viet Nam. Its theme was that progress in agriculture, education, health and building democracy are essential to winning the war.

COLD WATER

In New Delhi, the Indian government threw a bit of cold water on the hope that a letter from North Viet Nam President Ho Chi Minh may have had a peace feeler awaited in Washington.

As the president returned to the capital the Senate Armed Services Committee held a closed session on Johnson's request for an additional $12.3 billion to fight the Viet Nam war. The request contained a warning of a coming battle in Thailand and possible reopening of the Korean conflict.

As the committee met, Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., spokesman for 16 senators opposed to resumption of bombing in North Viet Nam, predicted nearly unanimous Senate approval of the measure. But he added that "doesn't mean that we won't continue to criticize the policies that have put" U.S. troops in Viet Nam and "which threaten to expand the war."

The Senate Foreign Relation Committee laid aside for the day its continuing inquiry into Southeast Asia policies. Yesterday the committee heard retired Army Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin predict that any massive increase in U.S. troops in Viet Nam might spur the Communists to reopen the war in Korea. "We can't afford to pull out," he said, "but we shouldn't escalate."

Humphrey pledged" immediate and continuing action" to carry out the aims of the President for political, economic and social progress in South Viet Nam.

The vice president made this pledge in a statement prepared for his departure on a 10- to 12-day mission to Viet Nam and possibly five other Asian countries.

Flying from Honolulu with Humphrey were South Viet Nam's top leaders, who gave evidence yesterday that they wanted a tougher war against Communist North Viet Nam along with the programs to better the life of the people.

Officials here said they did not yet know Humphrey's next stop after South Viet Nam.

Sources in Washington said Humphrey's tour would include the capitals of Thailand, Malaysia, Australia and India. Prime Minister Keith Holyoake of New Zealand said the vice president also would go to Auckland. Informed sources in Bankok said the vice president would fly to the Thai capital from Saigon Friday night and would stay until Saturday afternoon.

TO SPUR EFFORTS

The first job assigned him by the President is to familiarize himself with the various economic, social and political improvement projects, to spur the efforts on, and to return to the United States in a position to help nurture the work at the Washington end.

In the other capitals on his itinerary, the vice president will "explain what was done at Honolulu and its meaning and ask for the support of others," Johnson said in Los Angeles.

In the midst of worldwide speculation over the meaning of Ho's Jan. 24 message to Indian President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, an official government spokesman said it was "mostly concerned with stating the position of his country."

NOT BEYOND

Except for emphasizing India's special position as chairman of the International Control Commission, the Indochina peacekeeping agency, Ho did not go beyond previous proclamations from Hanoi, the spokesman said.

Nevertheless, he said, India was continuing its talks with "friendly countries" to find a way to end the fighting.

Hall Of Justice Bid Much Lower

Board Members Elated

A low bid of $8,959,560 on construction of the Hall of Justice addition to the Civic Center, lower than anyone had hoped, was submitted to Marin County supervisors yesterday.

Robert E. McKee Construction of San Francisco offered the lowest of four bids.

It was the second time bids were received. On Dec. 21 Haas and Haynie of South San Francisco was lowest of five bidders at $9,529,000.

Supervisors rejected all the earlier bids as being too high and ordered some deletions from the job, including delaying interior finishing of a portion of the top floor of the three-story building.

UNDER FIGURE

With these deletions, the bidding was expected to be at about $9,171,000, according to an estimate by County Auditor Controller Michael Mitchell and Aaron Green, resident architect of the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation.

All four bids came in under that figure yesterday.

The bids were:

Robert E. McKee, $8,959,560; Carl W. Olson of San Mateo, $9,064,065; Haas and Haynie, $9,072,350, and Rothschild, Raffin and Weirick in joint venture with Williams and Burrows, both of San Francisco, $9,117,800.

NO REBID

Donald M. Drake and Co. of San Francisco, highest of five at the first bidding, was the only firm not to attempt a rebid.

Supervisors, elated at the results, asked for a recommendation as soon as possible on award of the contract. Country Administrator Alan Bruce said a recommendation probably will be made next Tuesday.

Mitchell said after the bids were opened that $145,689 that was anticipated from additional property taxes for the hall of justice will now probably not have to be raised.

With furnishings and landscaping, the total cost will come to $10,786,586, Mitchell figured.

BOOK ACTION GETS BOARD'S SUPPORT

Television Cameras Record Meeting As Residents Defend Kerouac, Teacher

By FRANK FARRARA

The San Rafael Board of Education last night unanimously backed the removal of Jack Kerouac's novel "On the Road" from the assigned reading list for senior honors English students at Terra Linda High School.

After hearing speakers pro and con, the board brought the two-month book controversy to an official close with its decision before a packed house of more than 200 persons.

There were pleas against "book burning," and arguments for academic freedom offered by some speakers, and the procedure used to remove the book was challenged.

Others spoke out against "academic license" and defended the right of the administration and board to "insist on quality, not mediocrity."

The hearing was filmed for showing on television station KQED (channel 9) next Monday at 9:30 p.m. on the "City Beat: Mel Wax" show, which is produced by Melvin S. Wax, Sausalito city councilman and San Francisco newspaper reporter.

It opened with a statement by Supt. Bert C. Corona that the decision to drop the book from the reading assignments was an administrative decision.

There is no senior honors English class now in session and "the book is not being used," he said. The book has not even been in the school library, but was a supplemental book, Corona reported.

Then came comments from 10 residents who spoke from a lectern at the front of the room in the full glare of the television lights.

First was Laurence B. Thomas, an unsuccessful candidate for the board of education last year, who said, "I have no brief for any book, but I'm against book burning, book ban-

30-Acre Pond Is Envisioned For Mill Valley

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Borrowing an idea from the Dutch, William A. Hamilton yesterday proposed that Mill Valley build a dike and create a 30-acre "bath tub" in the city's marshland.

The large lake, he said, would provide flood control, fishing and boating, create a new avenue for sports for Tamalpais High School students, add to the area's esthetics, and promote wild life.

Hamilton, a former Mill Valley city councilman, a real estate broker and a dedicated conservationist, made his presentation to about 60 persons at a meeting of the Mill Valley Rotary Club at Sabella's of Marin.

Flood control is the prime importance, Hamilton noted, admitting his idea was spurred by the Army Corps of Engineers recommendation last year for a $4,310,000 concrete channel to follow Arroyo Corte del Presidio from the City Hall to the bay.

Hamilton visited Holland two years ago and got his diking ideas from that country.

"For $4,310,000 we should get something better than a concrete ditch," he said.

Hamilton suggested Mill Valley and Marin County jointly hire a consulting civil engineer to investigate his plan for feasibility. He suggested Otto von Seggern, a consulting civil engineer who lived many years in

Commuters Flee Blazing Train

LONDON (AP) — A car on a commuter train hurtling toward London burst into flames today and scores of passengers leaped through windows.

More than 30 people were injured—four seriously—as flames completely enveloped the coach in the eight-car train. About 700 passengers were aboard the train.

Many of the 150 trapped commuters jumped onto the track about six feet below. Some were left injured on the line more than a quarter of a mile back when the 70 mph train finally ground to a halt.

U.S. Casualties Climbing; Viet Cong Rice Discovered

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. jet fighter-bombers stepped up their attacks in North and South Viet Nam today while the Viet Cong still sidestepped the big Allied ground forces trying to hunt them down.

While the ground war tapered off significantly, the U.S. Military Command announced that the number of Americans killed in combat last week rose by more than 50 per cent. A spokesman said 89 Americans were killed, 499 wounded and eight missing in action compared with 57 Americans killed, 281 wounded and 11 missing in the previous seven days.

In separate sweeps, American and Australian troops stumbled onto Viet Cong caches of rice totaling 335 tons — enough to feed thousands of men for weeks — and stores of howitzer ammunition.

U.S. Marines located about 50 well-armed Viet Cong in huts on the outskirts of the helicopter base for their 12-day-old Operation Double Eagle, about 20 miles south of Quang Ngai City. The Marines, planes and artillery killed 27. The only Marine casualty as one man wounded.

In Vientiane, capital of neighboring Laos, a spokesman for the Laotian Defense Ministry reported North Vietnamese tanks had been seen for the first time on the Ho Chi Minh Trail through eastern Laos, en route to South Viet Nam. Qualified military sources in Saigon, however, were skeptical of the report. They said tanks might be more of a liability than an asset to the Viet Cong.

The Strategic Air Command's eight-engine B52s from Guam joined the air offensive in the past 24 hours, pounding Viet Cong concentrations in Tay Ninh Province near the Cambodian border and in Phu Yen Province on the central plains, U.S. spokesmen said.

No American planes were reported lost in the double-barreled air action on both sides of the 17th Parallel.

The Seventh Fleet carriers Ticonderoga and Ranger sent 17 jet missions against the North. The Navy planes smashed four road and rail bridges and cut several highways in the Bong Hoi and Vinh areas, spokesmen said. Pilots claimed they destroyed the Tam Da highway bridge, where reconnaissance planes spotted heavy southbound traffic during the 37-day bombing pause.

Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs and F4C Phantoms cratered roads, damaged two bridges and blasted a truck pool area south of Vinh and in the Thanh Hoa sector on 10 combat missions over North Viet Nam, spokesmen said.

San Anselmo police will cite four 16-year-old San Anselmo girls, all juniors at Sir Francis Drake High School, for possession of marijuana, Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said today.

The girls have been implicated, in testimony given to police by themselves and other students, as part of a ring of student marijuana smokers and peddlers at the high school, the chief said.

Chief Buchignani announced yesterday that a Lagunitas brother and sister, aged 17 and 16 and both juniors at the high school, had been cited to juvenile authorities for possession and sale of the drug.

Students questioned by police identified this pair as the source of marijuana being sold and smoked on and near the campus in San Anselmo as long ago as last spring, he declared.

Chief Buchignani said his department decided to cite the other four girls after a meeting yesterday afternoon of police, school and juvenile authorities.

He said one girl who will be cited made a lengthy statement to police in which she admitted smoking "pot" on an average of once a week, and said her

Morse Blocks Vote On Vaughn

WASHINGTON (AP) — Protesting against the administration's Latin-American policies, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., blocked the Senate Foreign Relations Committee from voting today on the nomination of Jack Hood Vaughn as Peace Corps director.

Vaughn has been assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs and thus was one of the officials involved in the decision to send U.S. troops to the Dominican Republic during the bloody revolt last year.

Today's hearing on Vaughn's nomination lasted only 90 minutes. After it broke up, committee chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said Morse had raised the point of no quorum, putting off a vote until tomorrow or later.

Teen-Age Boy Blamed For 30 Arson Cases

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police said today that a 15-year-old boy who had a craze to "watch the fire engines" is the firebug long sought for the more than 40 fires set in the Haight-Ashbury district.

Officers said the junior high school boy admitted he set at least 30 of the fires since he and his mother moved into the district from Vallejo a year ago.

Phyllis Diller Divorces Again

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) —Comedienne Phyllis Diller filed divorce proceedings yesterday in Superior Court seeking an end to her brief marriage to entertainer Warde Donovan on grounds of mental cruelty.

The night club and television actress gave no details to amplify the cruelty charge.

Miss Diller married Donovan a month after she divorced her first husband, Sherwood Diller, to whom she had been married for 25 years. She is the mother of five children by her first marriage.

'King Cotton' Dies At 86

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — At an age when most men were looking forward to retirement, Will Clayton resigned as head of the world's largest cotton business and went into government service.

Clayton

William Lockhart Clayton was a multimillionaire and known as "King Cotton Himself," when he joined the New Deal in 1940 at the age of 60.

In 1944 he became assistant secretary of state for economic affairs. He developed the concept of the Marshall Plan for European recovery after World War II and administered the program.

Clayton, who proved himself adept in the fields of economics, politics and national affairs, as well as cotton, died in a Houston hospital yesterday after suffering a heart attack at his home. He was 86.

Clayton, a native of Tupelo, Miss., and grew up in Jackson, Tenn.

Critic Of Reds Reaches London

MOSCOW (UPI) — Valeri Tarsis, author of the violently anti-Soviet novel "Ward Seven," arrived in London today as a leading Communist party newspaper denounced him as a "psychopath" and urged government officials to "let him go . . let him go."

Tarsis

Relatives said Tarsis left Monday for Britain via Warsaw. He had been granted a Soviet passport for an indefinite stay abroad and planned to lecture at Britain's Leicester University.

The bitter attack on Tarsis by the newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda lent weight to speculation here that the Kremlin hoped he would not return. Tarsis' defection, it was said, would be considered as "good riddance" by Soviet officials.

In the partly autobiographical "Ward Seven," which became a best seller in the West, Tarsis told how he was put in a mental hospital after publishing abroad an earlier anti-Soviet book, "The Bluebottle."

Kupferman Wins Lindsay Seat

NEW YORK (AP)—In the manner of the man he will succeed in Congress, liberal Republican Theodore R. Kupferman goes out today to thank the voters for his victory in a special congressional election.

Kupferman

Kupferman won a narrow victory yesterday over Democrat Orin Lehman in a special election to fill the seat left vacant by the election of Republican John V. Lindsay as mayor.

Kupferman, 45, a city councilman and attorney, won in Manhattan's 17th Congressional District.

Complete but unofficial returns from the 361 election districts showed Kupferman with 44,225 votes; Lehman 43,230; and Jeffrey St. John, 7,810. St. John, 35, ran on the Conservative party ticket.

The district runs from Greenwich Village up through the wealthy East Side.

Lehman, 46, is the grandnephew of the late Sen. and Gov. Herbert H. Lehman.

Brown Tax Request Brings Discontent

$4.6 Billion May Exceed Any Other State In U.S.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown formally submitted California's biggest budget today and quickly encountered legislative discontent with the income tax boost he seeks to balance the $4,606,838,000 spending plan.

Requiring $143 million in additional taxes, the Democratic administration's budget for the 1966-67 fiscal year exceeds that of any other state.

New York State will spend about $3.98 billion. Pennsylvania is considering more than $2 billion and Illinois is in the midst of a two-year $4.4 billion program.

Brown disclosed the details of his fiscal plans yesterday in a special "state of the state" message outlining what he hopes to accomplish in this election-year session.

Today he gave them the formal document, a book of more than 2,000 pages.

This budget is up $222.3 million, or 5.1 per cent, over the 1965-66 estimated spending bill.

Appropriations to run the various state departments and to help local governments pay their bills increased by 10.6 per cent. But there's 11.6 per cent less money allocated for new construction.

Education, as usual, takes the biggest slice, $1.78 million or 45 per cent of the total.

"California's local public school enrollment exceeds the total population of" 39 states, said Brown.

In addition, the 17 state colleges will have 173,000 students and the nine-campus University of California 80,777.

Health and welfare spending is the second largest chunk, using 21.6 cents of each budget dollar.

Brown's plan to help pay for all this with a boost in state income taxes drew the opposition of a fellow Democrat, Senate President Pro Tem Hugh M. Burns of Fresno.

He said "I'm certainly not ready to agree" with the plan and added that he would rather obtain the money needed to balance the budget by extending the sales tax base.

Faced with a deficit of almost a quarter of a billion dollars, Brown proposed to balance the books with this plan:

He would raise $140 million by eliminating these state income tax deductions: $3,000 for married couples, $600 for each of their children and $1,500 for single people. Smaller deductions would be substituted. The tax hike wouldn't be payable until next year, after the elections.

Another $3 million would come from cutting down the deductions of people who live and work in California only part of the year.

The administration seeks to add $115 million more to this by revising accounting methods and counting expected tax dollars before they arrive in the treasury.

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D - Inglewood, said he "generally agreed" with one of Brown's biggest proposals, more than $50 million to improve employment and education in poor areas, including Los Angeles districts where Negroes rioted last summer.

But Assemblyman Mervyn M. Dymally, D-Los Angeles, whose district ecnompasses part of the riot zone, said the plan was "inadequate." He Called for more money for "programs to eliminate unemployment, the root of the Watts riot."

Assembly Republicans withheld comment, saying they wanted to make a point-by-point reply at a news conference Thursday morning. Assembly Minority Leader Robert T. Monagan, R - Tracy, noted Brown's speech was "43 minutes and 42 seconds long" and he asked the news media for "equal time."

Prison Construction Proposed By Governor

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature was asked today to approve spending $163 million on California's corrections programs, including construction of two new prisons, during 1966-67.

Gov. Brown's budget proposes $129 million to operate the State Corrections Department and California Youth Authority during the year starting July 1.

The youth authority includes $350,000 for a new campaign of delinquency prevention designed to reach the child "before a delinquency pattern is established."

An additional $29 million, more than double the current year figure, is requested for construction, including the start of work on a new maximum security facility at Vacaville for 1,250 inmates and a Southern California Medical Facility for 1,600.

The two facilities are scheduled to open in 1969, with the state's prison system crowded to nearly 4,000 inmates above capacity.

The southern medical center will cost $23.3 million, of which $1.43 million for initial work is budgeted for the coming year. The $20.5 million special security facility, adjoining the existing medical facility at Vacaville, will get started this year with a $650,000 appropriation.

Clubs, Helmets Requested In Bigger Highway Patrol

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Riot clubs and safety helmets would become standard equipment for the sharply boosted number of California Highway Patrolmen, under the budget Gov. Brown called for today.

He asked lawmakers to give the patrol $70.84 million in fiscal 1966-67, a jump of 26.2 per cent from the $56.12 million expected to be spent when this fiscal year ends June 30.

The big boost is accounted for mainly by a 1965 law commiting the legislature to double the patrol's size by 1968, paid for mainly by increased motor vehicle registration fees.

Expansion of the patrol by 1,409 positions is planned in 1966-67, with well over 1,000 of those new patrolmen. The patrol now puts more than 2,600 officers in 1,666 cars rolling up 68 million miles annually to safeguard motorists.

HERE IS BUDGET AT A GLANCE

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Here is the state budget at a glance:

Budget total—$4,606,838,306, up $222,333,297 or 5.1 per cent from estimated spending for current fiscal year ending June 30.

Where it goes—State operations, $1,352,377,900; assistance to local governments, $2,325,070,800; capital outlay, or construction, $929,389,600, including $558,277,692 in bond funds.

Biggest single item—Education, $1,787,348,345 or 45 per cent of budget total.

Biggest increase — Health and welfare, up $91.1 million or 12½ per cent to total of $811,196,879, including construction.

Additional revenue — Increase income tax by charging deductions and exemptions, $143 million; change accounting methods to include money due but not yet collected, $110 million.

State payroll—Up 12,347 to total of 166,533 positions with total payroll of $1,317,112,936.

$17 Million Sought For Fish, Game

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Citing "a growing public concern for our fish and wildlife resources," Gov. Brown today recommended spending $17.7 million for state fish and game programs during the year starting July 1.

The total outlay, up about $2 million from the current year spending, includes $14,379,668 for operations of the Department of Fish and Game and the Wildlife Conservation Board.

Another $3.28 million would go for construction, $850,000 by the department and the remainder by the Wildlife Conservation Board—the bulk of it to continue modernizing state fish hatcheries.

The department's capital outlay funds would be used mainly to continue replacing the statewide radio network used for law enforcement.

Duke Attends Film

PARIS (AP) — The Duke of Windsor chatted last night with the Parisian audience attending the film premiere of "A King's Story," about the 72-year-old duke who abdicated the British throne in 1936. The film is a combination of newsreel clips, family album pictures and modern-day sequences.

Welfare Jumps $91.1 Million In State Funds

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Spurred by new federal programs such as medicare, California plans to spend a record $811,196,879 to ease the woes of its sick, handicapped and impoverished in the 1966-67 budget presented today by Gov. Brown.

The proposed total for health and welfare spending—including $15.72 million for new construction—is up $91.1 over this year and represents the second biggest single expenditure in the budget, trailing only education.

MENTAL HYGIENE

The Mental Hygiene Department will get the single biggest slice—$197.9 million, up $5.1 million. Increased costs of treating the mentally ill and retarded, despite decreasing state hospital populations, is behind the hike.

New state support for local care programs for the mentally ill or handicapped—the source of dwindling hospital population—is reflected in a $6.75 million or 30.5 per cent jump in the budget of the State Rehabilitation Department, which will receive $28.91 million to oversee the local projects.

SHORT-DOYLE

A total of $18 million is earmarked for helping local mental health programs with Short-Doyle Act matching funds, while federal money will finance a $750,000 residential rehabilitation project, a $1.75 million program to help the disabled young and a $1 million program to help disabled prisoners in state penal institutions.

A mammoth chunk of the overall health and welfare budget will go toward implementing the new federal medicare program, under a new law passed late last year by the legislature.

The state will spend $151.9 million as its share of medicare, with the federal government chipping in $291.9 million for a total package of $443.8 million. Of this total, the counties will contribute $140 million.

Earthquakes Kill 11

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Authorities today were evacuating the Quetta area of West Pakistan after two more earthquakes which killed at least 11 persons and injured 40.

Congolese Graft

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — A Congolese military court has sentenced 15 minor government officials to prison terms ranging from 4 to 10 years for pocketing $200,000 in public funds.

HOW STATE'S SPENDING GROWS THROUGH YEARS

SACRAMENTO (AP) — How California's state budget has grown over the years:

1947-48	$ 645,281,151
1948-49	$ 941,372,010
1949-50	$1,035,930,193
1957-58	$2,088,435,264
1960-61	$2,476,819,137
1962-63	$2,899,659,367
1963-64	$3,304,128,515
1964-65	$3,670,891,953
1965-66	$4,174,682,653
1966-67	$4,606,838,306

All budgets except the proposed 1966-67 figure are as signed by the governor; all include bond funds for capital outlay.

Governor Requests Increased Payroll

SACRAMENTO (AP)— California's state payroll would increase to 166,533, costing $1.32 billion a year, under the budget proposed today by Gov. Brown for the year starting July 1.

That's an increase of 12,347 positions, or $83.3 million over the current state payroll, already California's largest.

The budget includes $52 million for pay raises averaging 4 per cent for state employes, but calls for savings by a 2 per cent speedup in productivity.

As usual, the biggest single increase would be in higher education, with 4,598 new positions at a cost of $37 million. That would bring total employment at California's fast-growing college and university campuses to 50,300 with an annual payroll of $404 million.

The Transportation Agency, boosted by the first phase of a 1965 program to double the strength of the California Highway Patrol, would get 2,594 new positions at a cost of $12.5 million for a total of 33,001 with a $236 million payroll.

The Resources Agency seeks 1,556 new positions for a total of 11,970, mostly for the Department of Water Resources for work on the State Water Project; corrections would get 1,050 for a total of 10,599; the Health and Welfare Agency 573 for a 26,070 total; and employment 572 for a total of 9,195.

Sonoma State Hike

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Governor Edmund G. Brown's $4.6 billion budget for 1966-67 included $2,533,063 for operation of Sonoma State College at Rohnert Park, an increase of $761,480, or 42.9 per cent from the

ning or putting it on the shelf."

The issue is not an isolated book, he said, "the issue is academic freedom. I think this board should defend academic freedom."

Thomas said "the teacher is low man on the totem pole," and if he is "harassed and raked over the coals" because some individual complains, he will leave the district.

Mrs. Max Thelen Jr. of 199 Mountain View Avenue said this is not an instance of the board "banning or taking off the shelf," but of the board "looking for quality instead of mediocrity."

DISTRICT POLICIES

She said she did not believe that elementary and high school teachers were "free to do anything they wish" but had agreed to abide by district policies when they signed their contracts.

Mrs. James A. Rowen of 360 Johnstone Drive, Marinwood, said she felt that there is more involved than just the book, and the board "deserves the backing of the community."

Norman Gurin of 628 Bamboo Terrace, Terra Linda, said "censorship by whatever form is one of the greatest sins mankind can impose on itself." He said he deplored the manner in which the issue was handled.

Robert Guthrie of 217 Arias Street, said, "I feel it is a sad day when a parent who has a complaint has to be required to file a formal complaint."

Mrs. Walter J. Tait of 71 Lochinvar Road said academic freedom should not be confused with academic license. "Academic freedom demands responsibility," she said. "Academic freedom is not a license to do what you want."

VOYDAT'S JURISDICTION

Mrs. Bella Aaron, attorney for Local 1077, Marin County Federation of Teachers, claimed the board did not abide by its policy in this case, and that Corona and Asst. Supt. Mitchell Voydat "took upon themselves a function that belongs to the elected board."

Mrs. Bryce W. Anderson of 304 H Street countered that it is in Voydat's jurisdiction to decide on subject matter. Voydat is assistant superintendent of secondary instruction.

Paul Haerle of 163 Holmes Avenue, Santa Venetia, said the issue is whether the teachers have an unqualified right to make decisions and not have the decisions questioned.

If the decisions are not questioned there are no standards, he said. If they are questioned, then the board has the responsibility to "consider, exercise reason and come to a conclusion," he contended.

Walter Belden, of the American Federation of Teachers, asked what teachers can expect in the future concerning selection of instructional materials if the board acts "outside policy."

Corona said there had been no violation of policy in the procedure used.

During the controversy, there were protests because no one had filed an "official complaint form," but Corona said the lack of a formal complaint did not bar the board from proceeding.

The board two weeks ago appointed a citizen committee to review policy on controversial material and make recommendations as to whether any change is needed.

The hearing ended after Carl J. Brown, acting chairman, read a statement which noted that the board sets policy, the administration carries out the policy, and the teachers provide students with the opportunities to develop their potential for knowledge.

Brown admitted "the situation could have been handled differently," but said it "has been a learning experience for all concerned."

He concluded, "I believe that the best learning takes place when teachers can teach with academic freedom, tempered with good judgment, when the administrators are consistent in their interpretation of board policy, and when the board honestly reflects the feelings of the community."

Board member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. said: "The issue of the book is over. What has come out of it is a look at our policy and our internal procedures."

Kramer said the board must have a clear statement of policy. Board member Walter R. Castro Jr. noted that policy must be adhered to.

The session provided a warm introduction for the newly-appointed board member, Herman L. Childress, who was appointed to the board by the San Rafael City Council Monday night to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of former chairman Walter J. Doll.

Reed Trustees Establish Rules For Pupil Discipline

The Reed School District board last night unanimously adopted a strict policy for pupil discipline.

Trustees agreed that teachers should be backed up by some sort of written policy when troubles arise in classrooms or on school grounds, Supt. C. Pino reported.

Pino said three of the main points made in the new code were:

1. Trustees will back the use of corporal punishment by principals and teachers when it is considered necessary. Corporal punishment must be administered with an adult witness present under state law. But, Pino said, with the backing of the board, it will probably be used more.

2. Any pupil guilty of misconduct such as talking out of order or bothering other pupils at study should be immediately sent to the principal's office.

3. The board endorsed the regulation of appearance and dress as established at each school by the principal.

The board also adopted a library policy whereby when any book is questioned by a parent, a form will be given the parent to fill out as to why the book is considered objectionable. A committee of the principal and two teachers will study and make a recommendation on the book. Trustees will review the recommendation and rule on whether the book shall remain in the library.

The board received its annual audit from the firm of Dalton, Graupner and Barber of San Rafael, showing a deficit of $8,148 as of June 30 in the general purpose portion of the general fund.

It was suggested that the board take more care in the future to increase reserve funds.

officials in Washington by surprise yesterday. A State Department spokesman said the Indians had not apprised the United States of the letter, nor had the text been made available.

Although many U.S. officials suspected the note differed little from others sent to various capitals by the North Vietnamese chief 17 days ago, the possibility of a peace feeler from Hanoi rocked the New York Stock Exchange. Defense issues were hardest hit in the heaviest trading in months.

In Ottawa, Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, who also received a letter from Ho, told the House of Commons yesterday that Canda has been conferring with India and Poland on possible use of the International Control Commission as a possible vehicle for negotiations. They are the three members of the commission.

Although the communique issued in Honolulu emphasized the nonmilitary programs for economic and social improvement, South Viet Nam's leaders made it plain in a news conference that they favored stepped-up air operations against the chief North Vietnamese port of Haiphong and other industrial targets.

Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu said he would be unwilling to sit down at a conference table with representatives of the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong guerrillas. U. S. officials have said NLF representation would not be a roadblock to the start of negotiations.

Among the points in the communique were these:

1. The two governments will "take further concrete steps to combat inflation."

2. High priority will be given to an "intensified program of rural construction."

3. Efforts will be stepped up to bring agricultural knowhow "to the farmer in the fields" and for "more rapid land reform."

4. "Programs in health and education would be intensified."

5. Americans will assist programs to care for refugees including providing schools for refugee children.

In other developments:

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson made plain his government's support for U. S. policies would not extend to bombing Haiphong and Hanoi.

—Private consultations at the United Nations aimed at arranging peace talks continued, but divisions were reported among Security Council members.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said "one cannot take seriously" the American Honolulu conferences proposals.

The meeting, it said, was "the site of a collusion between the United States and its Saigon puppets on a new escalation of the dirty war against the people of Viet Nam."

Because of "the statements and obligations made and undertaken by both sides in Honolulu," it said, "one cannot take seriously the assurance in the official communique on the intention . . . to continue the peace offensive."

Mill Valley and is familiar with water problems. Von Seggern now lives in Sacramento.

"An over-simplification of the flood control solution," Hamilton told the Rotarians, "is to visualize a bath tub with controlled water level and the outflow equal to the inflow.

"If you could conceive of a bath tub where water came in at 10 gallons a minute on one side and was pumped out on the other side at the same rate, you would have achieved instant flood control." This would also apply to 1,500 cubic feet of water per second, he added.

Hamilton did not think it would be expensive to run the pumps, citing there have been but three bad floods in 40 years, the last and worst in December of 1955.

The proposed lake would be bounded by Miller Avenue, Camino Alto and the railroad tracks, and the Methodist Church. Much of this land is filled, but not the city's 18 acres. Bothin estate owns nine acres; Herb Shapiro, seven. Land not owned by the city could be obtained by condemnation, Hamilton said.

"The Holland dike could well be along where the (Northwestern Pacific) railroad track is now," he continued, "and we could construct spillways and a number of pumps to pump the lake dry."

Hamilton said he inspected the entire creek bed from Gardner Street to the bay recently.

He described a poor drainage plan where the cemented channel running under Throckmorton Avenue near Philip Planert's photo studio narrows into an "hour glass"—from 14 feet wide to four feet, nine inches wide. This could have caused flood damage to stores in that area in 1955, he suggested.

The business man compared the proposed lake to a miniature Lake Merritt and to Belvedere Lagoon.

"I say if Holland can take care of the rainfall and pump it back into the North Sea, we ought to be able to take care of a dinky little 30-acre pond so we don't have any floods," he declared.

Storer Shows Douglas Letter From Nelson

County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer today produced a copy of a letter written last Nov. 5 to John M. Douglas, now the county's director of economic development, which he said confirmed his statement yesterday that Douglas had once been told he was ineligible for the job.

The letter, by Martin E. Nelson, personnel analyst in the office of County Administrator Alan Bruce, said in part:

"Due to the large number of individuals who appear to have qualifications more in concert with the job description, we will not be able to invite you to appear before the oral review board at this time . . .

"We wish to emphasize this action is necessary because of the parameters passed on to the personnel department by the board of supervisors and has nothing to do with your otherwise superlative qualifications."

When Storer asserted at yesterday's board session that Douglas had once been told by letter he was eliminated from consideration, Bruce retorted that was not so, that he had been told he was in a "marginal" group of candidates who would be called for interview if others ahead of him dropped out.

Fairfax Trustees Begin Review Of Policy Book

The Fairfax School District Board last night began a review of its policy handbook, anticipating the transition in July from retiring Supt. Homer L. Sisk to his newly appointed successor, William Trevethick.

"It's a long, hard job bringing the handbook, which expresses your entire educational philosophy, up to date with the changes in thinking which you've made over the years," Sisk explained.

The board spent several hours reviewing the first eight pages of the 28-page book, but no major policy change was made, according to Sisk.

The board approved a warrant for $43,000 as the district's share of payment in the construction of an access road to the White Hill School site.

Commission Asks Pay For Chief

The Marinwood Fire Commission last night recommended that Fire Chief James Cameron receive $225 for filling in during a three-week period when the department was short one fireman.

The recommendation will go to directors of the Marinwood Community Services District.

The Pope has extended the use of the altars to bishops leading large pilgrimages, cardinal archpriests of the Basilicas or their delegates and the abbots of monasteries attached to the Basilicas.

first contact with the drug came after the Lagunitas girl passed her a note in class, asking if she would like to try marijuana.

These girls and two of the others who will receive citations were the first persons whose names were given police by a concerned father, whose daughter had told him of marijuana sales and possession on the school campus. His complaint touched off an investigation which eventually implicated 13 students at the high school.

Another girl slated for citation said she smoked the drug for the first time in Carmel, along with the two girls just mentioned. The next time, she said, was on a hill near Greenfield Avenue in San Anselmo, when she and the two girls rolled their own cigarettes.

Another of the girls allegedly came to the police station with her mother and told officers she smoked the drug twice in New York and once on Mount Tamalpais, when she was alone. She said she purchased the marijuana in San Francisco.

Still another to be cited is a girl who went to the police station with her father and recounted purchasing a box of the drug from the Lagunitas brother, then waiting several weeks for its delivery. When it arrived, she said, she sold it to a fellow student in the high school little theater.

Chief Buchignani today said his report to county juvenile authorities was incorrect when it stated the father of the Lagunitas brother and sister team had once told school Principal Francis P. Shafer that he and his wife smoked the drug in front of their children.

The man never made that statement, the chief said. It got into the report because of a misunderstood telephone conversation between police and the vice principal, Chief Buchignani said.

At yesterday's meeting, the chief said, county juvenile authorities said they would try to talk with the Lagunitas parents and their children Friday. Police hope the ultimate source of the drug will be revealed in this and other interviews with implicated students and their parents.

Chief Buchignani said no student, other than the 13 junior students at the high school already mentioned, has been implicated in the case. He said his department will want to talk with those of the 13 who have not already been questioned.

Vice Principal Shafer today said the school will take no action on the case until juvenile authorities have ended their interrogation of students and parents.

Discipline, he said, "will probably vary, depending on the youngster and the degree of the seriousness of his involvement in the case."

The police investigation, he said, "has served as a good jumping off point for teachers" in classroom discussions of drugs and drug addiction.

"It gives them a chance to discuss the problem a little more specifically," he commented.

Bernard M. Weinstein was reelected last night as president of the Homestead Valley Improvement Club.

Leo Liederman was elected vice president; Jack Jones, reelected treasurer; Lettie Erringer, elected secretary, and Christopher Bratt, building manager.

New directors elected for two years are Bruce Cunningham, Morris Finisy, Glen Robinson and Juanita Vincent. Re-elected directors are Mary Baker and Charles Oldenburg. Holdover directors are Gail Bilsborough, Martin Rosen, Jo Schlesinger, Betty Shelmerdine and Othell Mallouf.

The club endorsed the Marin County Housing Authority's plan for 20 units of housing for the elderly at Montford and Evergreen avenues and Linden Lane. Only two persons voiced objections, said Weinstein.

Woman Vanishes After Return From Red China

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mrs. Beverly Reilly, who disappeared into Red China for 19 days, returned last night to America—and vanished again.

She arrived in San Francisco by airplane from Hong Kong via Honolulu, and then slipped away by automobile.

Flash bulbs and a crowd of newsmen and curiosity seekers greeted Mrs. Reilly, 38, as she stepped from the plane. She repeatedly said "No comment. No comment" as she hurried along an airport ramp.

The fullest explanation Mrs. Reilly has given of her visit to Red China was a remark to newsmen just before leaving Hong Kong.

She said she "wanted to make a living in China as a human being." She refused to elaborate or to say anything about the time she spent in Communist country from Jan. 11 to Jan. 30.

Novato Chief Reports Solicitor Ban Works

Novato's anti-soliciting ordinance is working very well, Police Chief Robert Di Grazia last night told the Novato City Council.

In the six months prior to its adoption, police received 40 complaints about solicitors, Di Grazia said. In the six months since it was adopted, they have received only 22 complaints. Of these, 10 were in the first month, he added.

Marvin Marrs of 29 Flamingo Drive, Mill Valley, complained to Corte Madera police yesterday that someone stole a grinder tool, valued at $70, from the floor of his pickup truck parked in front of Campbell Bishop Chevrolet at 5880 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera, yesterday.

SOVIET BUGS HELPFUL, IF USED RIGHT

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Barber B. Conable Jr., R-N.Y., says that "talking to a wall in the Soviet Union is not as fruitless as at home."

During a recent trip to Russia he was warned by U.S. officials that his every word would be surreptitiously monitored. He decided to test this out later when his flight to Tashkent was canceled and he got nowhere at the airport trying to arrange alternate passage.

"Returning to my hotel room, I complained in a loud voice about how bad a system must be that treated visitors so shabbily," he said in a report to his constituents yesterday. "Shortly afterward, there came a call from the airline, offering a seat on the next plane."

Jury Trial Scheduled In Possession Case

San Rafael Planners Favor Revoking Auto Yard Permits

After an hour and 40 minutes of hearing, complete with court reporter, five members of the San Rafael Planning Commission last night recommended that the city council revoke the use permits of two auto storage yards on Jordan Street.

Permits were issued Aug. 24 to Richard Isi and Sept. 20 to Robert L. Thompson and Louis P. Aquilino. Each was issued by the city council after denial by the commission, and it was the council that ordered last night's hearings.

Only dissent came on the vote over Thompson and Aquilino's firm at 51 Jordan Street. Commissioner V. Judson Klein urged that the firm be given a month to start complying with conditions of its permit.

Besides bringing in a court reporter, Chairman Fred C. Robbins swore in witnesses and drew heavily on the advice of City Atty. David Menary Jr. for the "quasi-judicial" hearings.

Commissioners dealt first with Isi's permit, and were warned by Menary that there was "some question as to the validity" of the seven conditions attached to it, because he failed to receive word of them until about three weeks after the council approved the permit.

Menary urged that the commission's decision be based solely on whether Isi had violated "laws, ordinances or provisions of the municipal code" in using his permit.

When Commissioner Carl S. Brown questioned Menary on why he and his colleagues had to overlook the conditions of the permit, Commissioner Klein interjected that Menary was in effect saying Isi would have an unconditional permit if it were not revoked. Menary agreed.

Menary issued no such warning in the second hearing, in which Thompson complained he was not given the cooperation of the planning department when he tried to find out if he was complying with conditions of the permit.

One condition called for painted wooden fencing all the way around the lot. Linthicum produced photographs showing this had not been done. Thompson said he thought the redwood fence across the front, with wire fencing elsewhere, was sufficient.

Another condition said the firm must not dismantle cars. Menary said Thompson violated this by taking off the hoods, trunk lids and tires. Thompson insisted this was not "dismantling."

Commissioner Pat Hetherton was absent. Commissioner Thomas R. O'Toole, who was present for the rest of the meeting, stayed outside the chambers during the junk yard hearings.

Mrs. McMahon Leaves Board

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mrs. Clarissa Shortall McMahon has resigned from the Board of Supervisors.

A supervisor since 1953, she cast the decisive ballot that scuttled the controversial Panhandle Golden Gate Park freeway last year.

Mayor John F. Shelley said Mrs. McMahon gave no reason for her resignation, but that illness had forced her to miss some board meetings.

Shelley said he received her resignation Tuesday afternoon.

Neighbors Again Oppose Rezoning

Residents of San Rafael's Dominican area demonstrated last night that they are just as opposed to the latest plan for use of the old Coleman School property at 1711 Grand Avenue as they were to two previous plans which were turned down by the city.

They turned out in force at the first hearing on a plan to use the site for professional offices and headquarters of the Marin Crippled Children's Society.

Owners of the old school, which was used for 20 years by the county as an office building, are Richard R. Pelton of Ross, Nat S. Burmeister of San Rafael and the San Rafael law firm of Bagley, Bernt, Bianchi and Sheeks. They have asked that the site be zoned as a planned community district, and have applied for a permit to replace the old building with at least two new structures.

John C. Bernt, a partner in the law firm, said he hoped the new plan would not stir up fears that it would establish a precedent of commercial development. He argued that the school was the only building in the area which had been used for 20 years as offices and said the triangular site was "100 per cent unusable as a residential site" due to the closeness of Highway 101.

The opponents, however, made it clear their fears had never subsided. A spokesman, Merle Greenblat of 23 Grand Court, said residents were "in total, diametrically opposed again to any rezoning."

Greenblat challenged the owners' claim that 10,000 square feet of the property had been donated to the crippled children's society, and contended that society's membership had not been given a voice in the decision.

"I am ashamed that the Easter Seal Society can be used as a wedge," said Greenblat.

This, in turn, brought denials by Rev. Fred C. Braunschweiger, acting society president, and Harry J. Cooper Jr., its vice-president.

"I have the feeling," said Braunschweiger, "that somebody thinks we are being used. This is not the case."

Cooper said society directors had sought a new home because its present headquarters at 629 Mission Avenue is to be torn down by the Division of Highways.

Another spokesman for the opponents was attorney Max Thelen Jr. of 199 Mountain View Avenue, who took strong issue with Bernt's statement that approval would set no precedent.

"There is nothing unique about it at all," he said. Many other home sites in the area, he said, are just as close to the highway or the nearby Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks, and could be turned into commercial sites.

"In other words, they are saying 'approve this for me, then slam the door'," said Thelen. "If that's not spot zoning, I don't know what you call it."

Mrs. Carter B. Smith of 250 Linden Lane warned that allowing "creeping commercialism" along Grand Avenue would result in an "exodus of your middle class" from the area.

At the hearing's close, Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. praised the 40 or 50 opponents for their good conduct during the sessions. Previous hearings on the site were spiced with emotional audience participation.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

1. Recommended to the city council, on the advice of City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen, that proposed zoning of the courthouse square site be shelved until the county gets the results of its studies on the property, which will be sold in connection with construction of the Hall of Justice wing at Civic Center.
2. Held first hearing on the application of Robert L. Menzies to rezone 1428 Mission Avenue, in one of the new "B-D" districts so he can put apartment units on it. The parcel is now split between single family and apartment districts.
3. Approved subdivision of the new KTIM-FM transmitter site on San Rafael Hill into two lots, subject to city council approval. Vote was 5-1, with Commissioner Carl S. Brown dissenting as he felt it should not require council action.
4. Postponed action on a use permit for the San Rafael Co-Operative Nursery School at 224 Picnic Avenue.
5. Granted a use permit and approved plans submitted by M and T Inc. for a motion picture theater in the Northgate Shopping Center.
6. Granted a permit for a figure salon and physical and mechano therapy outlet on Professional Center Parkway at the frontage road.
7. Approved plans of Brandon Tire Supply for a sales, service and warehouse building on the south side of the Lincoln Avenue extension near the railroad tracks.
8. Postponed action for two weeks on plans of Jack's Heating and Plumbing for an addition to a warehouse on the Redwood Highway frontage road south of Joseph Court.
9. Approved plans for an addition to the Fairchild Semiconductor plant on the Redwood Highway frontage road north of Joseph Court.
10. Approved plans submitted by Phil Smith for a warehouse in Northgate Industrial Park, on Carlos Drive.
11. Set for March 8 and 22 hearings on a permit sought by Aureguy and MacKenzie for a theater and shopping center across Highway 101 from Terra Linda.

Pope Alters Book Listing Procedures

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI has abolished the Curia office that judges writing for the Roman Catholic Church's index of forbidden books.

The Pope's action did not mean an end to surveillance of books by Church authorities, but Vatican sources said it signified a totally new approach.

The Curia office known as the Section for the Censure of Books was omitted in the listings of the 1966 pontifical yearbook which came out today.

In line with this program, the title of "Supreme Congregation of the Holy Office" was changed in the new pontifical yearbook to "Sacred Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith."

By dropping the adjective "supreme" the Pope put the office on the same level with the other congregations in the Curia, the central administration of the Roman Catholic Church.

Sanitary Board Assures Service

The Tiburon Sanitary District Board Monday night assured the Southern Pacific Co. that sewage facilities can be provided for subdivision of the abandoned Northwestern Pacific Railroad yard in Tiburon.

The board authorized hiring C. B. Dunning of Tiburon as part-time employee at $3 per hour.

The district's attorney, Lawrence Jensen, was instructed to see whether federal funds can be obtained to aid in purchasing a sludge vacuum filter for the treatment plant at Paradise Drive and Mar West Street. Estimated cost for the filter is $30,000.

Pennell Declares For Mill Valley Council

WILLARD H. PENNELL
Doctor for council

Dr. Willard H. Pennell announced today he is a candidate for the Mill Valley City Council in the April 12 election. He is the fifth person to announce for the two seats at stake in the election.

Today also, Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks, on the council since 1957, announced he will not be in the race.

Pennell, 40, is a consultant in neurology at Stanford Medical School, for the San Francisco Board of Education and the Crippled Children's Service. He is also chief of the neurology clinic at Presbyterian Medical Center, San Francisco. He is in private practice in San Francisco.

A resident of Mill Valley for 10 years, Pennell lives at 70 Longfellow Drive, and is president of the Enchanted Knolls Homeowners Assn.

He was graduated from University of California at Berkeley, and from the university's medical school. He served his internship and residency in Boston and New York hospitals and served in the Air Force during the Korean War, stationed in Tokyo as neuro-psychiatric consultant for the Far East Air Force. He was discharged as a major.

His wife, Joan, is a registered nurse and American Red Cross instructor. The Pennells have three children, Marilyn, 12, Robert, 11, and Richard, 10.

"I feel it is time to yield to others who will doubtless bring new vigor and fresh ideas to our city's government," said Sheeks in announcing he would not run for re-election.

Sheeks became a city planning commissioner in 1956 and a councilman when the late T. J. DeLasaux resigned to take a position on the Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission. He was elected of the council in 1958 and again in 1962, and served as mayor, 1962-64. Sheeks is an attorney with the San Rafael firm of Bagley, Bernt, Bianchi and Sheeks.

Board Approves Revisions In Plans For Auditorium

County supervisors yesterday approved several revisions in the proposed Veterans' Memorial Auditorium, including provision for a fixed balcony which would add 500 seats.

William Wesley Peters of the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation said there would be no change in cost of the first phase development, still estimated at $2,163,200. This would provide an auditorium with 1,960 seats and give structure support for the balcony, to be finished later at $200,000 more.

Peters also said the building would have a dome, similar to the dome above the county library at the civic center, rather than the flat roof as originally proposed.

Other changes include provision for acoustic curtains on side walls of the auditorium and a shell that would slide across the stage loft during musical performances.

The auditorium, to be built on the Civic Center grounds, will have 800 fixed seats, with the rest movable.

Final plans are expected in July.

Mill Valley Employees To Fete Four Retirees

Four City of Mill Valley employees, who are retiring this year, are to be honored at a party from 5 to 7 p.m. today at the Community and Youth Center by the employees' association.

They are Joseph F. Penders, Mrs. Ina Sloan, Victor Paulsen, and Edwin C. Giesecke.

Penders will retire Friday on his 60th birthday. He started working for the city in 1949 as golf course superintendent and, for the past 14 years, has been park superintendent. His position will be covered by Don Dimitratos, hired last July as park and recreation director.

Penders, who lives at 93 Buena Vista Avenue with his wife, Marjorie, plans to remain in Mill Valley and will work for a private landscape construction company.

Mrs. Sloan, secretary at the Mill Valley public library, will retire next April 1. She has worked at the library about 15 years.

"I'm a grandmother and I hope to enjoy my children and grandchildren and a nice garden and be free to have some trips with my husband," said Mrs. Sloan. She and her husband, Richard Sloan, live at 65 Hillside Avenue.

Victor Paulsen, senior groundsman, will retire on his birthday next Aug. 17. He has worked nine years for the city and lives at 544 Marin Avenue.

Giesecke, senior treatment plant operator, who has been employed by the city 15 years, is to retire next Dec. 1. He lives at 425 Throckmorton Avenue and says he plans to live in the Sierra Nevada after retiring.

Lagunitas Parents Due To Hear McCabe

George E. McCabe, dean of the school of education at Sonoma State College and potential candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress, will speak on "Education by the Heels" at 8 p.m. Feb. 16 in the multipurpose room of Lagunitas School.

McCabe's appearance will be as part of a Founders' Day program of the Lagunitas School Parent-Teacher Assn. The observance will include honors to past P-TA presidents and a short business meeting. Coffee and refreshments will be served.

Utility Ordinance Delayed For Lack Of Right Name

Adoption of an ordinance requiring undergrounding of utilities in connection with street widening projects on designated streets was held up for lack of a name at yesterday's meeting of Marin County Supervisors.

Supervisors and department heads were unable to think of what the streets should be called.

The ordinance, prepared by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney in cooperation with Publics Works Director Donald R. Frost, used the term "parkways." But the county's new planning director, Paul Zucker, objected that this name has other connotations in both legal and planning nomenclature.

Supervisors wrinkled their brows and came up with such things as "county ways," "cable ways," "view ways," "Marinways," and so on. None was accepted.

Supervisors asked that someone come up with a name by their meeting next Tuesday.

The ordinance, already revised once, would require utility companies to bear the cost of underground in their rights of way in connection with street widening or major improvement.

The board hopes to get the ordinance adopted in time for it to have effect in the San Pedro Road improvement project, a joint city-county job. The city of San Rafael has already adopted a similar ordinance, but it is based on areas rather than on designation of a street with some kind of special monicker.

Legion To Fete Boy Scout Units

The program is for Cub Scout Pack 1, Boy Scout Troop 1, Sea Scout Shop 1 and Explorer Post 1, all of which the post sponsors.

Newton Stacey, commissioner of tourism and trade for Canada, will show colored films on Canadian recreation. Paul J. Dunn, scout executive, Marin Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be the main speaker, and Woodrow Smith, assistant executive, will present charters to the four scout units. Refreshments will be served. Post Commander Theodore Greubel reported.

Mossler Trial Figure Raps Sex Motive

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A friend and protege of Jacques Mossler testified today that Mossler's wife, Candace, tried to convince the witness after her husband's slaying that the victim had been a homosexual.

"Was Mr. Mossler a honosexual?" the witness, Vincent Caltagirone, was asked.

"Definitely not," he replied.

However, this exchange was stricken from the record shortly afterward when Caltagirone testified under cross-examination that he could not himself define homosexuality.

Caltagirone, 39, a former employe of Mossler, was divorced in 1961 from the sister of Jack Valenti, a close aide to President Lyndon B. Johnson. His relations with the Mossler family preceded and followed the divorce. At one time, he shared an apartment with Mossler.

Mrs. Mossler, who gives her age as 39, is on trial with her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, 29, for first-degree murder in the June 30, 1964 bludgeon-stabbing of her multimillioanire husband. The state describes Mrs. Mossler and her nephew as lovers.

Caltagirone, of Houston, Tex., testified that about a month after the slaying of the 69-year-old Mossler, Mrs. Mossler telephoned him. "She told me Mr. Foreman (defense attorney Percy Foreman) was coming to Miami to investigate Mr. Mossler's death. She asked me to cooperate with him and I assured her I would," he testified.

"She said Mr. Foreman would be interested in the names of gay (homosexual) people her husband knew of gay places he had gone to, or phone calls or knocks on the door at night.

"I said there wern't any of those things and she said but there must have been. I said there wasn't. She said he must have kept it from me."

"It's a mean, nasty case, your honor," State Atty. Richard Gerstein told Circuit Judge George Schulz Tuesday after a day of turbulent, legal infighting.

Novato Boys Club To Be Discussed

Organizational meeting for a boys club for Novato will be held at 7:30 p.m., next Wednesday in the Novato Community House, according to Joseph Bonomolo, who is working for such a club.

E. L. McKenzie, regional director of boys clubs, presented slides and spoke on the boys clubs activities before a small group Monday night in the Novato Community House. It was decided then to go ahead and get a temporary board of directors for a non-profit corporation to start the boys club, Bonomolo said.

Mill Valley Planners Grant Church Permit

Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, in the planning stage for many years, got the go-ahead last night from the Mill Valley Planning Commission with 5-1 approval of a use permit and variances permitting a 140-foot spire, 50 parking places instead of 180, and a six-foot front yard setback.

Commissioner Mrs. Alan F. Kappelman voted "no". Commissioner Richard J. Hiatt was absent.

Plans, which include church and rectory, are to go before the City Council Feb. 21, said Planning Director Harvey E. Bragdon.

Opposition was voiced in three letters, two objections being to parking and one against the size of the church. About six persons voiced opposition from the audience, mainly objecting to proposed cuts and fills as related to their property.

The commission agreed to begin showing planning films at the start of each second meeting of the month, the first to be Mar. 22, to be followed by discussion of the film.

It was agreed to meet, tentatively Mar. 15, at the Outdoor Art Club with businessmen and property owners to discuss for the second time planning in the city's three commercial areas in connection with federal planning funds approved by Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Public hearing was set Mar. 8 on a one-way street system, going south and east, for a portion of Woodbine Drive, and the general circulation plan for the North Ridge.

Plans were approved for Larry Brink to add on another "half" to the Del's Liquor Store building at 653 East Blithedale Avenue, the new addition to contain a used car business, real estate office and added storage for Del's. Plan approval was also given Dill and Sederberg for an addition to their building at 290 Camino Alto.

Coins Stolen

Approximately $100 in coins from the collection of Larry D. Van Aman, 12, were stolen during the weekend from the library of Davidson Junior High School, Vice principal Herbert J. Witt told police Monday. The coins were locked in a display case in the library, but the key was taken from a desk drawer in the room.

TB Tests Given In Mill Valley

Tuberculin tests were administered to 2,932 pupils of Mill Valley elementary schools Monday, according to Helane Anderson of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

This was about 85 per cent of the 3,459 pupils enrolled.

The team of 16 doctors which gave the tests is expected to know their results Thursday, she said. An average of one per cent of the youngsters has shown a reaction in past tests.

Drivers Escape Hurt In Novato Collision

James Richard Wilson, 30, of 84 Trish Drive, Novato, was examined and released with no apparent injury at Novato Hospital following an accident at 4:50 p.m. Monday at San Marin Drive and San Carlos Way.

Novato police reported that Wilson's eastbound car on San Marin Drive collided with a westbound pickup truck driven by John Donald Hughes, 48, of 55 Half Moon Road, Novato, as it made a left turn onto San Carlos Way.

Plush Homes Fall As Cliff Slides

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The second earthslide in six years has damaged or destroyed homes on a hillside in suburban Pacific Palisades.

The slow-motion slide began after the hillside was drenched by weekend rain. Two houses in the 700-block of Enchanted Way were demolished and one was injured.

The houses, ranging in price from $50,000-$60,000, had been evacuated.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., will address California Republicans at a San Francisco dinner tomorrow sponsored by the San Francisco County Central Committee.

Gym, Library Job Approved By Board

After receiving a protest from Ideal Construction Co. of Novato, second low bidder, Supt. Bert Corona recommended that the contract for the base bid only be awarded.

Page bid $175,900 on the base bid and $2,200 on the alternate for a total bid of $178,100, while Ideal bid $176,579 on the base bid and $1,764 on the alternate for a total of $178,343. The third bidder, Crown Development Co., had a total bid of $206,000.

The board also received word that San Rafael High School District will receive $18,346 in Vocational Education Act funds for a business education project.

The board also authorized an agreement with the state Department of Rehabilitation for setting up a vocational rehabilitation program in the high school district, at no cash cost to the district.

The program is slated to operate under a cooperative agreement between the department and the Novato Unified, Tamalpais and San Rafael high school districts and the Marin County Schools Office.

Russell K. Bowden, rehabilitation supervisor of the State Department of Education, said the project will serve physically and mentally handicapped students of employable age.

The resolution was passed by a 4-0 vote with Lawrence I. Kramer abstaining because the Department of Rehabilitation is a client of his.

The San Rafael Board of Education also:

1. Received a report from staff members on special programs offered, such as athletics, adult education, counseling and transportation, as a preliminary step toward forming 1966-67 budgets.

2. Approved hiring the firm of Abbot A. Hanks, San Rafael, as testing laboratory for the rehabilitation project at San Rafael High School and the library and gymnasium addition at Santa Venetia Junior High School.

3. Approved a change order in the Davidson Junior High School gymnasium construction, deleting folding partitions and plastic panels at a saving of $8,665.

4. Accepted a gift of electronic parts and equipment valued at $400 from Victor E. Sloman to Terra Linda High School.

5. Approved hiring of Mrs. Lorraine Benoit as half-time special education secretary at $1,820 a year; Alice Hutchinson, teacher at Laurel Dell Primary School, $5,500 a year; Floyd Newgen, building inspector for rehabilitation project at San Rafael High School, $750 a month; Mrs. Lena Phillips, bus driver, $2.22 an hour; Rolf Singlemann, custodian at Coleman School, $4,520 a year, and Mrs. Patricia Sweeney, teacher, West End School, $8,800 a year.

6. Accepted resignations of Mrs. Narbeth Powell, third grade teacher at Short School, and Mrs. Carol Whitelaw, physical education teacher at Terra Linda High School, effective June 30, and Richard Mastin, bus driver, effective Jan. 21.

7. Adjourned to a closed session on a matter which Supt. Bert C. Corona refused to disclose other than to say he had advice of the county counsel that it could be discussed in secret.

Other Car Blamed For Fatal Crash

It was not the Lawrence car—in which Marie E. Lawrence of San Rafael was killed in Alameda County last Thursday—which spun out of control and crossed a dividing line, a California Highway Patrol investigation has disclosed.

Wallace Moss, deputy Alameda County coroner, had first reported the westbound car driven by her husband, contractor Frank Allen Lawrence had crossed the line in the fatal head-on collision with an eastbound car driven by Hon Toe Lee, 39, of San Francisco.

Actually, according to the highway patrol, Lee's car spun out of control after passing another eastbound automobile and entered the westbound lane.

Lee was cited for driving at an unsafe speed on the wet and slippery stretch of Highway 50, two miles east of Livermore.

Mrs. Lawrence, 54, was dead on arrival at an Alameda hospital. Lawrence suffered broken ribs and other injuries in the accident. The Lawrence home is at 111 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia.

Richard F. Conefry, 24, of Brockton, Mass., was convicted of sending a message April 23, 1965, that a vessel was sinking in Yarmouth Harbor.

Los Angeles Warned Flu Epidemic Likely

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The director of the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Assn. says influenza may reach epidemic proportions in the county soon.

Dr. Peter Kalich, a pediatrician, said yesterday that flu cases are steadily increasing. But school officials said absenteeism is running about normal for this time of year.

American Style Nut Rolls Are Popular With Drop In Guests

Here comes an American version of an old-world recipe that has been popular for years.

These nut rolls are made with a yeast and sour cream dough. The recipe is a big one, so it's good to bake when lots of company is expected.

When we tried these nut rolls, and after our tasters had gobbled up as much as they could comfortably eat, we carted off the rest as a weekend gift. Our hostess stored them in the refrigerator and before serving them, heated them in the oven or sliced and lightly toasted them.

FOUR NUT ROLLS

½ cup warm (105 degrees) water
2 packages active dry yeast
6½ cups unsifted regular flour
3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup (2 sticks) butter or margarine, melted
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup commercial sour cream
Pecan Filling or Maple Walnut Filling

Grease 2 large cookie sheets (each 15½ by 12 inches).

Into a small warm bowl, pour the warm water; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved.

In a large mixing bowl, stir together the flour, sugar and salt; stir in the melted butter, slightly beaten eggs and sour cream. Add the dissolved yeast and mix well; let dough stand for 10 minutes.

Divide dough into 4 equal pieces. On a lightly floured board, roll out each piece, one at a time, into a 14 by 12 inch rectangle. Spread each with one-fourth of either the Pecan Filling or the Maple Walnut Filling. Roll up each from 12-inch side; seal edges by pressing together. Place 2 rolls, sealed edges down, well apart from one another, on each of the prepared cookie sheets. Cover with a clean cloth; let rise in a draft-free, warm (80 to 82 degrees) place until doubled in bulk—about 1 hour.

Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven about 35 to 40 minutes. Using 2 wide spatulas, remove to wire racks to cool; may be served warm or reheated. Rolls are not sweet, so if you like, you may sprinkle confectioners sugar over those you are going to serve immediately.

PECAN FILLING

7 cups finely ground pecans (four 6-ounce cans)
1 cup (2 sticks) butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
4 tablespoons vanilla extract (yes, this amount is correct)

Use an electric blender or the fine blade of a food chopper to prepare the pecans; turn them into a large mixing bowl. In a small saucepan, over low heat, melt the butter. Remove from heat and stir in the sugar and vanilla; add to the pecans and mix well. Use as filling for Four Nut Rolls.

MAPLE NUT FILLING

5 cups finely ground walnuts
¾ cup (1½ sticks) butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
4 tablespoons maple extract (yes, this amount is correct)

Use an electric blender or the fine blade of a food chopper to prepare the walnuts; turn them into a large mixing bowl. In a small saucepan, over low heat, melt the butter. Remove from heat and stir in the sugar and maple extract; add to the walnuts and mix well. (If you do not like maple extract, substitute 3 tablespoons of vanilla extract for it.)

A really hearty salad!
Tossed Sardine Salad Rolls
Fruit Beverage

TOSSED SARDINE SALAD

3 medium tomatoes
2 cups torn salad greens
½ of an 8-inch cucumber, pared and thinly sliced
¼ cup thin strips cheddar cheese
Tomato Dressing, seasoning salt, salt, pepper
1 can (3¾ ounces) brisling sardines

Remove skins from tomatoes; halve and squeeze out seeds; cut into thin strips. In a shallow serving bowl, toss the tomatoes with the salad greens, cucumber and cheese; add Tomato Dressing, seasoning salt, salt and pepper to taste. Drain sardines and arrange over tossed salad. Makes 2 large servings.

If some of the teen-age argot heard in recent years were used to describe the quality of a food recipe, just picture the puzzled reaction of a large portion of the adult population.

Take the words "tough" and "cool," most flattering adjectives as used by the younger set. Apply these words to "Seafood Ring-a-Ding," and Granny girls and Beatle boys alike would know immediately that it's a top-notch main dish — a real "swinger." But English language traditionalists, convinced that something tough is hard to chew and that a cool entree won't fill the bill when they want a hot one, would avoid it like slang.

Actually, the ring of shredded western lettuce which stunningly sets off this platter is cool—chilled to put it literally. Chilling accents the crispness and delightful crunchiness of the monarch of salad greens. However, the delightfully seasoned mixture of shrimp, oysters, mushrooms and tomatoes inside the iceberg ring is heated to provide a highly satisfying meatless treat.

SEAFOOD RING-A-DING

1 head western iceberg lettuce
1 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 can (14½ oz.) solid pack peeled tomatoes
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon cornstarch
⅓ cup dry vermouth or ¼ cup water plus 1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 can (4-oz.) mushroom buttons, undrained
1 can (4½-oz.) medium deveined shrimp, rinsed, drained
1 can (8-oz.) small whole oysters, rinsed, drained

Core, rinse and drain lettuce. Chill in plastic bag or saran. Saute onion and garlic in butter in skillet until golden. Add tomatoes, salt and pepper; simmer 5 minutes. Blend cornstarch and vermouth; pour into tomato mixture and bring to boil, stirring constantly. Add mushrooms, shrimp and oysters; bring to boil. Cut lettuce lengthwise into halves; place cut-sides down and shred enough to measure 6 cups. Refrigerate any remaining lettuce for use another time. Arrange shredded lettuce ring on round serving platter. Pour hot mixture into center of ring. Serve at once.

Makes 6 servings.

For Sweet Dreams Of Cupids Try Creamy Cherry Desserts

The deep cold days and somber skies that herald the coming of February in most of our land bring little promise of spring. There's a waning interest in winter sports and little desire to challenge the slippery city streets. This is the time to move into a warm kitchen and cook up unexpected treats for family and friends. There's time to leaf through cookbooks, to unearth almost forgotten recipes and to search papers for new ideas. Happy chance gave us three holidays to celebrate and to help speed the second month along.

HERE ARE IDEAS bright with tart red cheries, the fruit of February's special days. We may be hard pressed to prove that the fence rails Lincoln split were really cherrywood, but the attachment of Washington to the cherry tree is a legend of our country. Look a bit further and you'll find it takes little imagination to tie the ruby fruit to Valentine's Day.

School children still cut the black paper silhouettes of Washington and Lincoln to celebrate their birthdays. Let their cutouts grace the table while mother serves one of these cherry inspired foods. We suggest a tricky ham loaf, seasoned with stuffing mix, scored with a wooden spoon handle to make individual loaves and topped with cherry sauce. Children love the idea of their own little meat loaf and it is a clever way to divide a company-sized casserole. You will know exactly how many servings you set before the hungry crowd. Little chance of running short when the food is portion controlled. Or bake a spicy cake, moist and tangy with cherries, frost it with fluffs of white icing and call it a birthday cake.

FOR A NIGHT of sweet dreams of cupids and things, end the dinner on Valentine's Day with a special dessert. A creamy bavarian, cherries afloat, can be poured into a glass bowl and allowed to set. It can be made even more spectacular by crowning it with a pyramid of whipped cream pushed through a large star pastry tube. For the pie lover in your house, try this creamy cherry one. Easy to do, the crust is fashioned of gingersnaps; the filling made of pudding mix. We suggest cooking your own cherry mixture but cherry pie filling would make a perfect substitute. The cream rosettes can be made with a leaf tube and a pastry bag.

CHERRY BAVARIAN SUPREME

¾ cup sugar
Dash salt
1 3-ounce package cherry-flavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
1 6-oz. can (⅔ cup) evaporated milk, chilled icy cold
1 2-ounce package dessert topping, whipped as directed OR 1 cup heavy cream, whipped and sweetened

Combine cherries, sugar, salt and gelatin; heat, stirring occasionally, until gelatin dissolves. Remove from heat and add cold water. Remove cherries and set aside. Chill remaining mixture until partially set. Add icy milk and beat with an electric mixer at high speed until fluffy and softly peaked. Fold in cherries, reserving a few for garnish. Pour into a serving dish or a 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. At serving time, decorate with a swirl of whipped topping or cream and the reserved cherries.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

SNAPPY CHERRY PIE

2 cups gingersnap crumbs (about 40 cookies)
⅓ cup melted butter

• • • •

1 cup sugar
2½ tablespoons cornstarch
1 1-pound can red tart cherries
½ teaspoon almond extract
Red food coloring

• • • •

1 3-ounce package vanilla pudding mix
2 cups milk
Whipped dessert topping OR heavy cream

Combine gingersnap crumbs and melted butter; press evenly onto bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate. Chill. Combine sugar and cornstarch in a saucepan; add cherries. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Add extract and coloring; cool. Prepare vanilla pudding mix as directed on package, using 2 cups milk; cool. Spread 1 cup of cooled cherry mixture in bottom of crumb crust; top with pudding and remaining cherries. Refrigerate for several hours. At serving time, decorate top with whipped cream put through a pastry bag to makes leaves. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CHERRY JUBILEE CAKE

1 1-pound can red tart cherries
1 cup sugar
¾ cup shortening
¾ cup brown sugar
3 eggs
2½ cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
¾ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
1 package fluffy white frosting mix

Combine cherries and sugar in a saucepan; bring to a boil. Cool and drain. Cream shortening and brown sugar; add eggs and beat well. Sift dry ingredients together, add to creamed mixture alternately with cherry juice. Beat until smooth. Pour into 2 greased and floured 8x1½-inch cake pans. Sprinkle cherries over the batter. Bake in a 350° oven for 25 minutes or until done. Cool. Prepare frosting mix as directed on package. Frost cake, putting the layers together with the bottoms in the center.

A TOUCH OF SPRING

NEW SUNNY HILLS JUNIORS

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Cupid Will Reign Supreme Over Marin Weekend Events

By MOLLY MARIN

Hearts and flowers will be the prevailing motif for events on the Tiburon Peninsula this weekend. First party of the year for the San Francisco Yacht Club members will be the St. Valentine dance at the Belvedere clubhouse Saturday. Cocktails will be served at 6 p.m. and dinner at 8 o'clock. William E. Fisher, entertainment chairman will be assisted by Mark Noble, Mike Shea and Robert Rey; Jerry Gillin is reservations chairman.

Among those planning to attend the party are the newly elected commodore, Patrick Kirrane and Mrs. Kirrane, and the retiring commodore, Jeff Capell and Mrs. Capell. Reservations have also been made by Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Smith, Messrs. and Mesdames John Ostrum, Bernhard Baumeister, Joseph Madrigali and Heinz Newman.

MR. AND MRS. ANGELO MIRATA hosted a reception for 75 recently at their home in Tiburon to introduce their future daughter-in-law, Janet Nyberg of Chowchilla, to local friends. Janet will become the bride of Michael Mirata at 3 p.m. ceremonies in Sunnyvale on Saturday (Feb. 12). Assisting at the reception were the Mirata daughters, Peggy, Jean and Nancy.

THE BELVEDERE LAGOON'S Lido fleet members will attend a Valentine dinner dance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Levison on Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Law are assisting with plans for the event.

FASCINATED WITH the stories of their travels in the Middle and Far East are friends of the Kent O. Seymours, who returned to Mill Valley the end of January from a trip begun on Sept. 13. Except for disappointments in not being able to visit the Angkor monuments in Cambodia and Abu Simbel in Egypt where the statues are being lifted above the waters behind the Aswan Dam, Mrs. Seymour said the trip was perfect, with spring-like weather everywhere they went.

They especially enjoyed the beauty of Darjeeling in India, but their most interesting experience in India was visiting their daughter and her husband, Susan and Louis Werner, who are there for two years to do research—she in anthropology and he in political science.

The Seymours were with them at Christmas in Poona, where Susan was studying languages, but she and her husband are now in Bhubaneswar in the state of Orisso, where their research will actually be done.

Rice was rationed because of the situation which has now resulted in widespread starvation, but those who could afford it bought their own wheat and had it ground. On Christmas morning Mr. Seymour, according to his custom at home, prepared pancakes made of this wheat and buffalo milk, all that was available.

The Seymours visited Japan, Hong Kong, Singapore, Thailand, Ceylon, Nepal, Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan and Israel and flew home from Athens after spending two days there.

Auxiliary To Tour Historical Museum

The Women's Auxiliary to the Marin County Pharmaceutical Assn. is planning a program on the history of Marin County on Feb. 24.

Cocktails and luncheon at noon at West End Villa in San Rafael will follow the tour.

Mrs. Helen Van Cleave Park, and authority on the history of Marin, will be the guest speaker. Her topic is "Interesting Women in Marin History." Mrs. Park is a history instructor at College of Marin and a member of the Marin Historical Society.

Assisting Mrs. Kane will be Mrs. William Peterson, public relations chairman; Mrs. John P. Harvey, luncheon arrangements; Mrs. Henry Puccinelli, hostess; and Mrs. James Normandi, publicity.

Lucas Valley Guild Elects New Officers

Mrs. Richard O'Brien has been installed president of the Lucas Valley Guild of Sunny Hills for the year.

Peacock Gap Group Plans Ball Saturday

Peacock Gap Homeowners Assn. will hold a Valentine's Ball on Saturday evening at the Country Club beginning with an 8 p.m. cocktail hour in the lounge. Dinner and dancing in the main ballroom will follow.

Members of the decoration committee are Mesdames Gabriel Raab, Milton Cerf, Frank Dill, Reginald Jones, Toby Perry and John Reininga. Mrs. Donald Schweitzer is in charge of gifts.

Mrs. George Thomas, telephone committee chairman, will be assisted by Mesdames Fletcher Bonham, Robert Findlay, Edward Doner, Kimball Kauffman, Jack Rowe, Robert Haskell, Wilmer De Petris, Charles Madsen, William Breen, William Pearson, M. B. Johnson, David Hudson, John Armstrong, Gene Baumgarten, Oonagh Perdue, Edward Kadel, James Frush Jr., Robert Metzger, Harold Himmelsbach, Harry Stommel, Carl Carlson, Charles Dittero, John Wolfe and James Maloney.

Mrs. Russell Shatz, general chairman, is also assisting Mesdames Gabriel Raab, Constantine Carpou and Murray Powers with Valentine invitations. Reservations co-chairmen are Mrs. William Bowcock and Mrs. Edward Doner.

A SHOW OF CHAPEAUX

Valentine Ball Planned Friday At Country Club

The annual Valentine Ball sponsored by the Episcopal Church Women of the Church of the Nativity in Marinwood will be held on Friday evening at the Marin Golf and Country Club in Ignacio.

Mrs. James Williams is chairman for the ball assisted by Mesdames Phil Kilian, John Taylor, Clayton Huey and Glenn O. Hendrix.

State Officer Will Visit YLI

Miss Mary Pimental of Hughson, state president of the Young Ladies Institute, will make an official visit to St. Anselm's YLI at 8 o'clock tonight. Miss Claire Skidmore, district deputy of Larkspur, and Mrs. Leo Quadros, institute deputy of Sausalito, will also be honored guests. The institute will welcome seven new members.

Mrs. Jack Benz is chairman with Mrs. Walter Milani in charge of food, and Mrs. F. F. Wilson in charge of entertainment.

MODERN MATH 3

The Four Arithmetic Basics

By Prof. W. F. Lloyd
University of Tampa

There are four fundamental operations in arithmetic: Addition, multiplication, subtraction and division.

We have all spent hours learning the addition and multiplication tables—the addition and multiplication facts.

A person just had to memorize the facts in the tables. Of course, many explanations or illustrations were made to ease individual acceptance of these facts.

You put down 3 pencils and then placed 2 more pencils beside them and counted 5 pencils to verify that 2 plus 3 equals 5. To keep from getting the idea that the tables applied only to pencils, similar experiments were tried with other objects. Pieces of chalk, wooden bleks and other articles were laid down and then counted.

THESE CAREFULLY planned experiments plus the fearsome force of adult authority soon got you to the point of accepting the tables wholeheartedly so that you memorized them half-heartedly.

Of course, your teachers were careful to work only with such objects so that the experiments came out the way they wanted.

They never tried pouring 2 buckets of water over 3 buckets of dry dirt. You do not get 5 buckets of mud. Two cups of hot water poured over 3 cups of sugar will not give you 5 cups of syrup.

These and similar experiments were carefully avoided because they were messy. They were misleading, and they tended to defeat the purpose of the experiment.

In the first instance there were not 3 buckets of dirt, merely 3 buckets filled to the brim with dry dirt and millions of tiny air spaces between the grains.

In the second instance the sugar is not added to the water; it is dissolved in the water. In the modern texts this handling of objects is largely replaced by pictures of familar objects in sets.

Now let us consider the remaining two operations, subtraction and division. These are defined operations. That is, subtraction can be defined in terms of addition and division in terms of multiplication. Remember that you never studied a subtraction table or a division table.

Subtraction has a doozy of a definition: Subtraction is the process of finding a number called the difference, such that the sum of the difference and the subtrahend equals the minuend. Is that all clear to you? Just try teaching that to a child in the lower grades.

The definition of subtraction is entirely too wordy and obscure, so that the subtraction algorithm is resorted to:

"a minus b equals c if and only if c plus b equals a" where a, b, and c are any numbers.

This does not look much better to many people, but the kids, bless their open little minds, do not fight it the way adults do. They accept it and learn to live with it after careful introduction.

In Modern Math textbooks, for the lower grades, will be found numerous problems similiar to these.

7 plus x equals 15
or 7 plus 0 equals 15
or 7 plus — equals 15
or 7 plus equals 15
(No, this is not algebra)

These problems are designed to lead the child into subtraction. He is supposed to mentally scan through his addition table for 7 until he comes to 7 plus 8 equals 15 and then place 8 in place of x, or of the zero or on the line, or in the blank space. After attaining reasonable proficiency, he is shown that this problem is another form of the problem 15 — 7 equals 0 and that the correct answer is 8.

The child is soon willing to accept the definition that 15 — 7 equals 8 if and only if 7 plus 8 equals 15. From here to the general form a — b equals c if and only if b plus c equals a is not a difficult step for his elastic little mind.

Now let us examine division, the other defined operation with its equally verbose definition. Division is defined as the process of finding a number called the quotient such that the product of the quotient and the divisor equals the dividend. This mess of words is bypassed in favor of the division algorithm: a divided into b equals c if and only if c times b equals a.

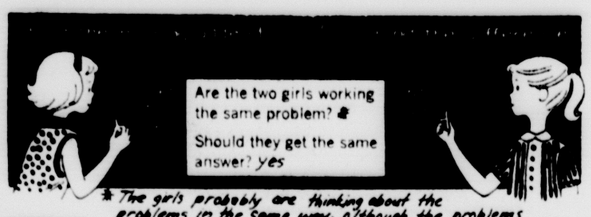
This algorithm is introduced by giving problems like 6 times 0 equals 18. The student mentally reviews his 6 table until he comes to the line 6 times 3 equals 18. He now knows that replacing the zero with a 3 will make the statement true. After practice with problems of this form the equivalent form 18 divided into 6 equals 0 is introduced. This algorithm 18 divided into 3 equals 6 if and only if 6 times 3 equals 18. The general form, a divided into b equals c if and only if c times b equals a, is the only step that seems to follow naturally.

This may appear to be a roundabout method to adults who have already learned to subtract and divide, but if you stop to analyze your own experiences you will find that this is essentially the method you used.

Our modern method is very useful when new kinds of numbers such as fractions, decimals and negative numbers are introduced. These algorithms prove helpful in algebra and other advanced mathematics courses.

Tomorrow: THERE IS A LAW

Differences and missing addends



* The girls probably are thinking about the problems in the same way, although the problems are written differently.

EXERCISES

Copy each exercise on your paper. Then fill in the missing numbers.

[A] 32 + 43 = 75 [B] 43 + 46 = 89 [C] 56 + 31 = 87 [D] 43 + 35 = 78 [E] 33 + 46 = 79 [F] 75 + 12 = 87

Find the differences.

[A] Since 23 + 35 = 58, we know that 58 − 35 = □
[B] Since 42 + 37 = 79, we know that 79 − 42 = □
[C] Since 24 + 61 = 85, we know that 85 − 24 = □
[D] Since 32 + 45 = 77, we know that 77 − 45 = □

Find the differences.

[A] Since 65 + 21 = 86, 86 − 21 = □ and 86 − 65 = □

[B] Since 34 + 25 = 59, 59 − 25 = □ and 59 − 34 = □

Division and multiplication

Subtraction and addition are related.

When we subtract, we find a missing addend.
7 − 2 = □ → □ + 2 = 7
These two numbers are the same.

Division and multiplication are related.

When we divide, we find a missing factor.
12 ÷ 4 = □ → □ × 4 = 12
These two numbers are the same.

EXERCISES

Find the quotients.

[A] Since 2 × 4 = 8, we know that 8 ÷ 4 = □
[B] Since 3 × 3 = 9, we know that 9 ÷ 3 = □
[C] Since 5 × 2 = 10, we know that 10 ÷ 2 = □
[D] Since 3 × 5 = 15, we know that 15 ÷ 5 = □
[E] Since 5 × 3 = 15, we know that 15 ÷ 3 = □
[F] Since 4 × 5 = 20, we know that 20 ÷ 5 = □
[G] Since 5 × 4 = 20, we know that 20 ÷ 4 = □
[H] Since 6 × 3 = 18, we know that 18 ÷ 3 = □
[I] Since 3 × 6 = 18, we know that 18 ÷ 6 = □
[J] Since 9 × 8 = 72, we know that 72 ÷ 8 = □

Book Review Set As Benefit For Fellowship Unit

"The Future of Man" by Pierre Teilhard de Chardin S.J., will be reviewed by the Rev. Benton Gaskell at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Community Congregational Church of Belvedere-Tiburon. The book review, second in a series of five, is sponsored by the Women's Fellowship of the church.

Author Teilhard de Chardin, who died in 1955, was a Jesuit scholar who lived in China for a number of years and was credited with a major role in the discovery of Pekin Man. The scientist, philosopher and theologian, noted for his research into man's past, was also greatly concerned with the future of mankind.

Tea will follow the lecture. Dr. L. Jean Bogert and Mrs. Mabel Griffith are tea chairman; Mrs. Frank Neer, reservations chairman.

Swing To Velour

The big swing to velour for spring will be augmented further by a new all synthetic knit velour that both stretches and provides the easy-care of other miracle fabrics. The new knit is a combination of polypropylene and nylon, said the manufacturer, Stretchnit, Inc., and is machine washable, needing only a brief air drying after laundry. The fabric comes in solids and stripe combinations, and is guaranteed against bleeding, cracking, or fading.

Silvery Look

It's the silvery look for the sun-seeking set. The metallic glint dominates long gowns, sweaters, pants suits, dresses, shoes—even shows in stockings worn at winter resorts.

ADMIRAL'S LETTER—Dr. James S. Browne of Greenbrae, a manuscript collector, opens his scrapbook to show a letter from Adm. George Dewey to Mayor J. D. Phelan of San Francisco in which Dewey declined to appear for the dedication of his statue in Union Square.

HUMANIZING HISTORY

Greenbrae Doctor Collects Documents From The Past

By FRANK FARRARA

A bill of sale from a slave auction . . . a letter by Charles Dickens just before his death . . . a shilling of Continental money.

This is the stuff of history that has kept Dr. Jomes S. Browne of Greenbrae working at his hobby of manuscript collecting for 10 years.

"All human relations can be reduced at some time to a paper or document," he said.

By collecting such papers, letters and documents, Dr. Browne believes he can develop a period in history "as something human, rather than dates."

In a current display at Redwood High School Library, he presents a mixture of newspapers, manuscripts, letters and documents that touch the era of slavery in the U. S.

One of items is a "fredom paper," a document used by a runaway slave to prove that he was established as "a free person."

There are announcements of slave auctions, and several bills of sales.

Dr. Browne said he is now working on a Civil War exhibit for the school.

"I used to collect books, but I lived in an apartment and ran out of space," he said.

His first interest was in 18th Century England, and then the Revolutionary War.

The evidence is in his scrapbook: notes signed by people who tought in the Battle of Bunker Hill . . . an ordinance from the House of Parliament banning stage plays during the English Civil War . . . a bill of lading signed by John Hancock.

Dr. Browne said he is thinking of tackling a broader scope and gathering material "which will show how man regulates relationship to man."

He explained that the contents of the note or letter or document "are important," and the hardest material to get is that writtten by "persons who became famous after death."

The big draws in the manuscript collecting field are Presidents George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, he said.

Browne is a member of the Manuscript Society, a national organization, and has purchased most of his collection from catalogues.

One of his letters which reflects a little of San Francisco history is from Adm. George Dewey to Mayor J. D. Phelan of San Francisco from aboard the flagship, Olympia. In it Dewey declines to attend the dedication of a statue in his honor at Union Square, generally on the grounds that it would be too much like blowing his own horn.

Dr. Browne has a surgeon's chest of instruments from the Civil War, a letter from a soldier telling of President Lincoln's visit, Continental money engraved by Paul Revere, and numerous other signatures from the past.

He explained that his study expands beyond the letter or doucument itself. "I try to find out what was going on the day the letter was written; whether it was just before or just after some big event."

Dr. Browne, a psychiatrist, also reported an interest in obtaining some items relating to early day rulers who were said to be insane.

Festival Theater Drama Readied

"All My Sons," Festival Theater's fourth production of the 1865-66 season, will open a six-week run Friday at the theater at 2 Kensington Road, San Anselmo.

Arthur Miller's Critics' Circle Award-winning study of man's responsibility to his family and his society has been directed by Elizabeth Berryhill and features Douglas Saxby, Betty Fuller, Conrad Knudsen and Joan Fritz.

It is presented by the theater as a part of its current "Project Five" programming of American drama of the last five decades.

The production will play Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. and Sundays at 7:30 through March 20.

Harpsichord Concert Will Be Given Again

The Atheneum Arts Foundation will present harpsichordist Margaret Fabrizio in a repeat performance of J. S. Bach's "Art of Fugue" at 8:30 p.m. Friday at the Palace of the Legion of Honor, San Francisco.

The second concert has been scheduled because of the great interest in the premiere performance on Jan. 14.

Gnoss Serves Highest Urbanite Percentage

Which Marin County supervisorial district has the greatest percentage of city dwellers? It is the Fifth District, which includes the city of Novato and a vast area of farmland in northern Marin.

New estimates prepared by the Marin County Planning Department as of Jan. 1 show that the First Supervisorial District, traditionally thought of as the most urban of all, has the fewest city dwellers.

This is due in part to the construction in the unincorporated portions of the district and the fact that a large portion of San Rafael was transferred to the Fourth Supervisorial District.

The figures show that the First District, represented by Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, has 18,750 residents of unincorporated area and 20,746 incorporated, or 52.5 per cent city dwellers.

The Second District, represented by Ernest N. Kettenhofen, has 11,981 in unincorporated, 26,164 incorporated, or 68.6 per cent city dwellers.

The Third District, represented by Peter H. Behr, has 19,855 in unincorporated, 25,731 in incorporated, or 56.4 per cent city dwellers.

The Fourth District, represented by Thomas T. Storer, has 12,093 in unincorporated, 22,579 in incorporated, or 65 per cent city dwellers.

The Fifth District, represented by William A. Gnoss, has 8,011 in unincorporated, 25,932 in incorporated, or 76.4 per cent city dwellers.

The planning department's Jan. 1 estimate shows total county population at 191,843, with 63.2 per cent being city dwellers.

B'nai B'rith Sponsors Drama For Synanon

The Northgate Lodge of B'nai B'rith will sponsor a performance of "Witness for the Prosecution" by the Ross Valley Players for benefit of the Synanon Foundation.

The Agatha Christie play will be presented at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross, at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Symbolic Film Slated

"Dog Star Man," a symbolic film by Stan Brakhage, will be shown Friday and Saturday at 11 p.m. at the Gate Theater in Sausalito. The two-hour film consists of a prelude and four parts and constitutes the central portion of Brakhage's "Art of Vision."

Coleman Asks Shoreline Road In San Rafael

By ALAN P. CUNNINGHAM

A "shoreline boulevard" running along the east shore of San Rafael's diked tideland area was proposed last night by consultant Daniel P. Coleman as he showed the city planning commission details of a preliminary plan for the area, intended to become part of the city's general plan.

Consideration of the tideland plan is the first phase of a whole new look at the general plan, which the city council sent back to Coleman last March for revisions.

Coleman said the four-lane boulevard could have a dredged boat channel running beside it and could eventually be extended north along Marin County's east shore until it connected with Atherton Avenue in Novato.

SEVERAL DOCKS

He said the boat channel would permit several docks along the boulevard and would make it a waterfront thoroughfare even when the tide was out.

Coleman envisioned the boulevard as one of the key ideas in development of the area to include motels, shopping centers and 1,000 new residential units, as well as industrial uses.

He predicted the shoreline road could go a long way toward solving many of Marin's transportation problems. He said Canal Street, Bellam Boulevard and a connector road from Greenbrae, bridging Highway 17, could serve as links between the boulevard and other areas.

A "strip park" along the easement where high voltage power lines now run could be a barrier between industrial firms and residential or other development, he said.

PRIME PROPERTY

Yacht harbors along San Rafael Canal, plus a regional park which the county is considering at Paganini Point, would combine to make land in the area "prime property," Coleman predicted.

He proposed a drainage canal to serve a section not included in a newly formed assessment district. He said the proposed plan shows about 250 single family and 750 apartment units in the area.

Parts of the bay outside the levee are left alone in the plan at the city council's instructions, Coleman said, but he promised to discuss later what might be done if that area is eventually developed.

Commissioners continued the hearing to March 22 to give citizens a chance to look over the plan which was put on display in the city council chamber.

Cal-Vet Loans Interest Rate Will Stay Same

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Interest rates on Cal-Vet farm and home loans will remain at 3¾ per cent despite interest rate increases elsewhere, the State Veterans Finance Committee said yesterday.

"We have decided to hold the line for our California veterans," said Joseph M. Farber, director of veterans affairs. The finance committee confirmed the low rate yesterday.

Farber reported there is no prospect for radical change in the Cal-Vet program.

"Even with the addition of Veterans from Viet Nam and cold war expeditions and the 100 per cent increase in the amount of our farm loan, we will be able to maintain the program at its present rate without asking for another bond issue," Farber said.

Don't Be Duped By Sales Pitches Of Bunko Artists

Don't be duped by door-to-door salesmen who come unannounced with "free" or "bargain" offers or a promise to "pay you money for every name you refer to us."

These could be baits for various bunco schemes currently being practiced.

This is the warning that comes from the state Consumer Counsel's office, headed by Helen E. Nelson of Mill Valley.

The reputable businessman established in your community, who has a reputation of long-standing to protect, is your best safeguard, Mrs. Nelson explains. "One of the staunchest protections for the consumer is the honorable, conscientious merchant whose business dealings reflect a genuine desire to serve rather than exploit the needs and desires of consumers."

A little booklet issued by the Consumer Counsel gives pointers on "How to spot a swindle." Here are a few of the tips:

1. The sales pitch that offers you money for supplying names of prospective customers or for letting your home be used as a "model" to demonstrate a product. It could be a gimmick to get your signature on an installment sales contract. This "referral racket" has victimized countless California families.

2. The smooth approach that opens with, "We are making a survey" or "Congratulations, you are the lucky winner . . ." The goal is usually the same—get your signature on a contract.

3. Be wary of publications offered "free," except for weekly "handling" or "postage" charges. Some consumers have been stunned to find they've signed an agreement to pay $40 or $50.

4: Don't be rushed into signing any papers. Take time to investigate. If a salesman says a "good bargain" won't wait until tomorrow, be cautious. Ethical sellers and established businesses are willing to have you investigate their product.

5. Find out the cash price of the product or service. Never mind if you can't pay cash. Ask anyway, to get a basis for comparing similar goods. Don't be satisfied with a figure quoting monthly payments.

6. Beware of swindlers posing as "inspectors" checking on termites, plumbing or heating equipment. Their trick is to claim some unsafe condition, then offer to do the job. If approached by an "official inspector," check his credentials.

7. Know your rights. Don't be tricked into believing you must pay a penalty for legally exercising your right to cancel an installment sales contract. If you think you have legal grounds for canceling, consult a lawyer.

If the seller refuses to give clear-cut answers, check with the police, the district attorney, or the Better Business Bureau.

When sharp or fraudulent practices are allowed to flourish, both the consumer and the reputable businessman stand to lose.

The Month Called February

What does February mean to you? Lincoln's Birthday? Valentine's Day? Longer days and warmer weather? The early wild-flowers?

To most Nature buffs and garden lovers, it is the month of the madly-blooming acacias, sprinkling their allergenic pollen to the four winds; of the sweet-smelling daphne, filling the air with its fragrance; and of the gentle, mysterious knowledge that under the soil and inside twigs and buds miracles, millions of them, each perfection in itself, are occurring as spring in Marin gets underway.

Nitrogen Process Saves Food During Long Trip To Market

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — It is something of a relief to find out that progress is being made in shipment of perishable commodities from the point of origin to the dinner table.

During the past 20 or 30 years, the trend has been toward elimination of the home garden, as well as the elimination of raising produce near points of distribution.

The result is that the finer and more eatable produce picked at the proper degree of ripeness, becomes increasingly harder to procure for the ultimate consumer.

However, perhaps in another few years, this problem will be whipped with the development of a process for shipping perishables, such as produce, meat, fish, vegatables, fruits and flowers, without deterioration.

THE PROCESS has been developed by the Occidental Petroleum Corp. of Los Angeles. It is known os Oxytrol, and involves the displacement of oxygen from a truck trailer, railroad car, or ship's hold. The oxygen is replaced with pure nitrogen gas.

The company says that with control of oxygen levels to close tolerance during transit, perishables can be shipped without deterioration. It has proven out the process during four years of testing. Shipments up to six weeks have shown no signs of spoilage.

One of the phases of the test period involved shipments of strawberries. The company says that during 1965, a fourth of the strawberries consumed in the nation were shipped to market under Oxytrol. Shipments originating in California were unloaded at points as far east as New York and commanded premium prices.

UNDER THE process, shrinkage of meat substantially is eliminated. Fish can be shipped without ice. Tomatoes are picked and shipped ripe rather than green. Shipment of this highly perishable product have been made from Mexico to New York in a satisfactory manner.

The company points to the potentials of expanded markets for agricultural produce as a result of the new process. This is a highly important item, as far as growers are concerned.

However, also important is the fact that the consuming public may once again be able to obtain naturally ripened produce through betterment of distribution methods, which retain the time necessary to transport the product from the farm to the consumer, but at the same time protect the product from spoilage.

ALL KINDS of possibilities can be envisioned when and if the process is widely adopted, the primary one being that the consumer can make a selection of fruits and vebetables which are ripe off the tree or vine, rather than picked green so they would not spoil during shipment.

The shipment problem is one that contronts all growers of perishables, producers of meat, and the fishing industry. Icing, developed many years ago, solved some of the problem and made fresh fruit available in distant markets. But the product still had to be picked nearly green.

Modern technology, however, could revolutionize the methods of production and shipments, and at least give the consumer a much more satisfactory product.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Reader Likes Ross Police Secrecy

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . It used to be the newspers were the champions of law and order, and could tell the Good Guys from the Bad Guys.

Lately, however, the policy seems to be reversed, and it must be that the I-J is so scared of the criminals that it goes all out to ridicule and harass all law enforcement agencies, and weep and wail over the lot of the law breaker . . .

Stop needling towns like Ross that try to solve their own problems in their own way without splashing every police call all over the newspaper. This is an old-fashioned method called the American Way, and has just about disappeared elsewhere in our Great Society . . .

What Happened To Woodacre Courtesy?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

What happened to courtesy?

On Monday night, Jan. 31, 1966, the San Geronimo Valley Association had a discussion, with speakers both pro and con, on the issue of the Woodacre School site. Robert Lea spoke for the proposed school site and Jack Barnes opposing it.

Mr. Lea was the first speaker. During his presentation, there was complete silence throughout the multi-purpose room. When Mr. Barnes presented his arguments, much snickering, laughing and loud whispering emanated from a group that favored the issue. Now I ask you, was this discourteous behavior necessary or called for? When Mr. Lea spoke, we who are against the issue had the common sense to remain silent and listen to his presentation. Wasn't Mr. Barnes entitled to the same type of response?

This tops it all! On Feb. 6, 1966, Sunday, after the 9:30 morning mass at Ct. Cecilia's Church in Lagunitas, a parishioner who is on the "Committee for Neighborhood Schools in the Valley," was handing out literature favoring the proposed school site. I don't object to distributing mimeographed literature, but in front of the church? Bring politics to the church? Was this the right place?

I strongly recommend a "No" vote for the bond issue election on Feb. 15, 1966.

New Unification Plan Draws Fire

Editor, Independent-Journal:

While the new proposal to unite the area from Sausalito to Ross into one school district and to join the people from San Anselmo, Fairfax and ALL of West Marin into another district is an improvement over total unification, it still does not meet the criteria of sensible unification. This plan would divide the county into four areas; whereas, preferably eight, and certainly not less than six, districts are needed to assure adequate support for education and citizen control over costs.

We are led to believe this proposal provides for the smallest unified districts the State Department of Education (Dr. Ronald Cox) will now recommend for approval. If this be the case, the County Committee's action may turn out to be a brilliant strategic move. These plans, like hundreds of similar plans throughout the state, are being, and should be, rejected by the electorate. Such action serves notice upon the Legislature to modify its nonsensical laws. The people should have the opportunity, without the pressure of bribes and penalties, of providing for logical school reorganization.

Although this new proposal was drafted "reluctantly" by County Committee members who have formerly endorsed sensible unification, it has not been supported by Citizens for Sensible Unification.

Sophomore Defends Kerouac's Novel

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I am a sophomore at Redwood High School and have just read "On The Road" for our school book review magazine . . . It is the only book with any meaning that I have read in a long time. If the people who tried to keep people from reading this book think they have succeeded, let them try to buy a copy in any bookshop in Marin. It is completely sold out . . .

I found nothing shocking about this book. If one didn't read it just for the "four letter words" they would find that it presents one of the many arguments for non-conformity among college students or people of their age. Perhaps this is the reason the person who brought up this issue wanted the book off the reading list; she didn't want her poor child to be exposed to such "deadbeat" thinking . . . I think these people were scared of the ideas presented in this book, not the words used to express them.

I suppose there will always be people like this, rabble-rousers, who have nothing better to do than stir up trouble, and feel oh, so patriotic, protecting American youth from IT. They must learn that by 17, their children must learn to be independent of their parents, and think independently, or they'll never get anywhere in life. That is not to say that certain things aren't rubbed off on one's children, such as respect, values, morals, etc. . . .

Telling a teacher he can't teach something is as serious to him as a doctor involved in a malpractice suit . . . He cannot feel safe to teach anything controversial again for fear his colleagues might turn against him.

When a teacher is hired by the state, it is on a professional basis. He has to pass examinations . . . sign an Oath of Loyalty . . . A professional educator hired by the state should never fear teaching anything.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

MRS. KADISON, determined to prove what a careful driver she was, stopped her car dead before a railroad crossing, stuck her head out of the window and cupped a hand to her ear to see if she could hear anything. She heard something, all right: a truck smacking into her rear fender.

FOR WEEKS, a six-year-old lad kept telling his first grade teacher about the baby brother or sister that was expected at his house. Then, one day, the mother allowed the boy to feel the movements of the unborn child. The six-year-old was obviously impressed, but made no comment. Furthermore, he stopped telling his teacher about the impending event.

The teacher finally sat the boy on her lap and said, "Tommy, whatever has become of that baby brother or sister you were expecting at home?" Tommy burst into tears and confessed, "I think Mommie ate it!"

Goldberg Selection For U.N. Seat Has Helped In Behind Scenes Talks

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon B. Johnson's surprise decision to take Arthur Goldberg off the Supreme Court and make him ambassador to the United Nations is paying good dividends.

In the judgment of most of the foreign diplomats who have worked with him and watched him at first hand during the six months he has been on the job, Goldberg is proving to be the most effective representative the U. S. has had at the U.N.

This is solid praise from experienced professionals who are by no means biased in favor of the United States. But this does not keep them from esteeming ability when they see it, especially when it comes quickly into view.

Bluntly put, the consensus on Goldberg at the U.N. is: Poor orator, great negotiator.

THE REASON Goldberg is so useful is that his special talents are specially adapted to what is most needed to get things done—or at least moved ahead—at the United Nations.

He is a negotiating craftsman He is patient, tireless, calm and affable.

As a lawyer who usually had labor as his client and as Secretary of Labor who had the government as his client, Mr. Goldberg had long used his skills at mediation and reconciling deeply held differences. These skills are signally useful at the U. N.

Those who have listened to Goldberg's public speeches at the General Assembly and at the Security Council would not describe them as other than dull and boring, delivered in a flat voice and at too great length.

Few things are less important at the U. N. than public oratory.

THOSE WHO have worked with and watched Goldberg as a private negotiator and as a persuader in the corridors of diplomacy, agree that he is articulate, lucid and succinct.

Few things are more important at the U. N. than off-stage negotiation. One ambassador from a neutral country put it to me this way:

"Good oratory at the U. N. is about 7 per cent of the job. Ninety-three per cent of the job is behind the scenes talking privately with delegates and winning support. This is what makes Goldberg so valuable to the U. S.—and to the U.N. We're impressed."

Obviously nobody accomplishes anything singlehandedly at the United Nations. It takes a convergence of events and at least a near censensus of will within which a negotiating craftsman can work.

Within such consensus Ambassador Goldberg has already contributed significantly to three major U. N. accomplishments.

HE HELPED greatly to bring about the 9-to-2 vote (four abstentions) which put the Viet Nam war on the agenda of the Security Council. The Security Council may not act further, but this very step holds a prospect of opening up new avenues for negotiation.

More than anyone else, he reconciled the differences which at different stages threatened to prevent the Security Council from reaching a unified action on both the India - Pakistan war and Rhodesia.

He contributed to ending the dues deadlock which had immobilized the U. N. for an entire year.

His fellow ambassadors at the U. N. know that Goldberg has all doors open to him at the White House and State Department, that he helps to shape as well as expound U. S. policy.

President Johnson is now more sure than ever that the unorthodox Goldberg appointment was the right one.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Abrams May Take Westmoreland's Job

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The possible replacement of Gen. William Westmoreland as U.S. Commander in South Viet Nam is under discussion in inner White House councils.

Most likely successor is Gen. Creighton Abrams, Army vice chief of staff.

Westmoreland is on the final leg of a normal tour of dtuy. He arrived in Viet Nam in January 1964, assumed full command in August of that year. The 52-year-old artilleryman is highly regarded by President Johnson, Defense Secretary McNamara and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

ABLY AND unassumingly he has coped with tremendous problems in building up in little more than a year a battle force of 200,000, from some 20,000, in the midst of widespread guerrilla attacks and terrorism.

But with the war entering a new phase, the question has been raised of the desirability of a change in command. Westmoreland has indicated the wish to continue in Viet Nam. A decision on this matter is not imminent.

Gen. Abrams, 51, like Westmoreland a West Pointer, has a notable fighting record. As a young officer, he commanded a tank battalion and combat command of the famed fourth Armored Division.

The fourth was General George Patton's favorite assault force, and spearheaded his historic drives through France and Germany. In the Korean war, Abrams was chief of staff of a Corps.

AMONG THE NUMEROUS contradictions and inconsistencies of President Johnson's stupendous budget, one of the most glaring directly concerns Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy.

Under this budget, the former First Lady would get $50,000 for "clerical expenses", the same amount voted her for the current fiscal year. Also under this budget, funds for lunches and milk for school children throughout the country would be drastically slashed.

School authorities estimate that millions of needy children now covered by these programs would be eliminated.

In the President's budget message he sonorously proclaimed that the needy and children would not be called on for "sacrifices" to meet the soaring costs of the Viet Nam war. Bipartisan members of Congress are bitterly pointing out the hollow ring of this righteous avowal.

NONE HAS YET publicily commented on Mrs. Kennedy's untouched $50,000 for clerical assistance. But privately indignant comparison is being drawn to the heavy axing of funds for lunches and milk for needy schoolchildren.

It is being pointed out that the proposed $50,000 is not the only grant the one-time First Lady gets from the government. She also receives a $10,000-a-year pension as the widow of a President, franking (free mail) privilege and has a squad of six servicemen to protect her and her two children. These guards accompany them wherever they go, with the government paying travel and other expenses.

Paris Designers Have Got Onto Knees For Next Fashion Battle

A few weeks ago I wrote about the bosom and how the fashion designers had moved it from the front to the side. It appears that, while this had caused some raised eyebrows, the big battle going on now in the fashion world is what to do about a woman's knees.

The Paris designers have moved the hemline above the knee, some as high as two and three inches, and the American dress manufacturers are not sure it will sell. I went out to speak to the man on the street the other day and asked him what he thought about this controversy.

The first person I talked to said, "I'm a knee man myself. I could sit for hours and look at a woman's knees."

"What makes a woman's knees so interesting to you?"

"Well, a bosom is a bosom, but a woman's knees are constantly changing. Every time she moves her legs, the knees take on a new expression."

"Do you prefer a woman's knees when she is sitting or standing?"

"I THINK if you're a knee man it doesn't make that much difference. I like a knee that's firm and strong and stands on its own."

A second man I interviewed said, "I think it's dangerous to allow women to show their knees in public. There are some women who have very attractive knees, but many women might resort to subterfuge."

"You mean they might wear false knees?"

"They fooled us with other parts of their bodies. Suppose a man was very attracted to a woman, particularly to her knees, and she married him. Then he discovered that instead of the nice round firm knees he thought she had it turned out she had thin knobbly knees. That wouldn't be fair, would it?"

"No, it wouldn't," I agreed. "She'd probably have to get down on her knees and ask your forgiveness."

"EXACTLY," he said, "and that wouldn't do much good for her knees either."

The third man I talked to was not even aware that a controversy was raging. "I thought with all those new detergents the dresses had shrunk. I didn't think it was planned that way."

A fourth man said, "Look, mister, I don't want to get involved. I mind my own business."

"But as a citizen you must have some opinion on this."

"I pay my taxes and I do as I'm told."

An elderly man I talked to said, "When I was a boy the ankle was the sexiest part of a woman's body. I guess we're moving up in the world."

"Do you think the knee will ever replace the ankle?"

He looked at me sadly and said, "Why would I care?"

I ASKED the final man I talked to if he thought American women should wear skirts above the knees.

"I think that's for the President to decide. He knows what's best for the country."

"How would he decide?"

"He would ask Dean Rusk and McNamara and leaders of Congress. Then he would take a poll. If the majority of the people are in favor of short hemlines, then I believe it's to the national interest to support the President's Knee Policy."

"Wouldn't this be a form of escalation?" I asked.

"It would be. But what other choice do we have?"

Police Protection Brewing As Main Issue Of Tiburon Council Campaign

City council elections are coming up in April for Tiburon and other Marin communities.

Tiburon's election will be unique because it is the first since the city was incorporated in June of 1964, when the first city council was elected.

One of the issues stressed by successful candidates during the incorporation and council campaign was for improved police protection.

Before Tiburon became a city the area's police protection came from the county sheriff's substation in Marin City, a good 15 minutes away.

SINCE INCORPORATION, Tiburon has contracted with the county for a sheriff's substation to act as a city police department. It is located at 1640 Tiburon Boulevard.

Police protection has improved, but can—and should—be better.

This is meant as no reflection on the sheriff's men who are policing the city. They are doing their best, but they are only four men covering a city of about 6,000 persons.

"Many people—especially older ones — have told me how much more secure they feel having a 'police station' out here," said Sgt. George R. Barnes, who has the duties of a small town police chief, "but we're understaffed.

"The state recommends one and one-half man per 1,000 population. Some cities do better. Belvedere has two men per 1,000; Sausalito two and one-half.

"We have about half a man, but taken as a 'whole' they are good men," Barnes said. "But we need at least two more officers for night duty.

TIBURON IS a quiet, good community for the most part. And having us here has been successful as far as lessening the crime rate. For example, there wasn't one burglary in the city during the month of December," Barnes declared.

"My job is mostly administrative and patrolling during the day. And I think we've set up a pretty good filing system for the time when the city gets its own police force.

"Our main work is traffic and keeping an eye on juveniles — and of course the 415s, that's the code number for disturbing the peace, and the big reason I feel we need more men.

"More police officers have been killed answering 415s in this country when they were alone than in any other way. We've had 78 such calls ourselves since August.

"Tiburon, as well as being a bedroom community, is also a tourist town, so, of course, we do have some small problems on Main Street once in awhile on weekends. By the time the officer arrives the trouble is usually over and there are few citizens' arrests.

"BUT THE BULK of the calls are from homes where a family disturbance is going on — as I said 78 since August. With two officers you have less chance of some drunken husband trying to clobber a patrolman.

"Fifteen minutes frofm Marin City is a long way off when a guy needs a backup officer in an emergency. Again most of these matters are usually settled peacefully and there are few citizens' arrests.

"But there may be that one time . . . I don't want any of my men killed. Killed. That means dead, you understand? I want two more men for night duty!"

So it looks like better police protection will again be a campaign issue in the coming campaign for Tiburon City Council, unless something is done before April.

Which is unlikely — For Tiburon.

Marin City Finance Bid Is Accepted

Low bid of Bank of America was accepted yesterday by the Marin County Redevelopment Agency on notes of $3,320,000 for continued financing of Marin City redevelopment. The bid is 2.75 per cent with a $7 premium.

Other bidders, reported agency executive director Donald O. Stutsman, were Wells Fargo Bank, Crocker Citizens National Bank, and United California Bank of Los Angeles.

Stinson Beach Center Elects

The full slate of officers of the Stinson Beach Community Center board were re-elected Monday night for a one-year term.

They are: Ralph W. Sigmund, president; Edward E. Leary, vice president; Mrs. Harriet M. Greene, secretary and Ruth Miller, treasurer. The board also elected Louis De Ghelder as director-at-large, Sigmund reported.

CRIME UP A BIT IN SAN RAFAEL

Crime in San Rafael last year advanced slowly on all fronts except two—auto thefts and assaults. By far the largest number of offenses involved the theft of goods and money amounting to less than $50, according to figures released by San Rafael Police Department.

Total crimes of all kinds reported was 1,532, an increase of 140 over 1964, and of last year's number, 302 were cleared off the books by arrests compared with 294 in 1964.

In 1965, charges were brought against 1,232 persons and 676 were found guilty, among them 187 juveniles. During the previous year, 996 persons were charged and 507 convicted, including 171 juveniles.

Larceny of under $50 accounted for 686 cases, an increase of 88, and 143 of the cases were cleared by arrests. Cases involving the theft of over $50 totalled 363, an increase of 46 over 1964.

The thehft of cars dropped by 17 to 126 cases and 18 were eventually cleared by arrests. The 102 assaults reported during 1965 showed a decrease of 15.

Burglaries increased by 39 cases to total 277, and robberies from 11 to 16.

The single case of murder last year involved the slaying of a bartender at the Mission Inn in downtown San Rafael. Two men were subsequently arrested and charged with the crime.

Other major crimes, with the 1964 figure in brackets, were as follows: Passing bad checks, 244 (236); rape, 3 (1); narcotic offenses 6 (3); vandalism 681 (589); and driving while drunk 57 (46).

Marin Residents Like Credit Cards

The people of San Rafael, Mill Valley and Larkspur are no longer Guys-on-the-Outside-Looking-In. They are in . . . right in . . . with one little item in their pockets which binds them as close as members of a club.

It is that American symbol outranking all other symbols . . . that measure of society acceptability . . . that something that sets a man a notch above his cash-conscious friends: the credit card.

One in every 5.5 residents in each of the three cities holds a Bank of America credit card, compared with the statewide average of one in every 14 Californians.

And according to figures issued by the bank, most other Marin County communities also show a high membership to the buy-now-pay-later fraternity.

In Sausalito, one resident out of 6.3 holds the bank's credit card; in Fairfax the figure is one in 8.5, and in San Anselmo and Corte Madera, one in nine.

In Ross, where deviates from the norm have actually been seen to pay for goods in cash, the ratio is a disappointing one in 13.

Novato, manages only a one in 14 ratio.

Why do more Marin County people hold the Bank of America credit card than residents in most other parts of the state?

"This apparently heavier usage probably reflects the greater prosperity and urbanization of much of the county compared to many other parts of the state, said Donald R. McBride, Northern California manager for BankAmericard.

Dixie Trustees To Study Loans

Trustees of Dixie School District tonight will discuss application for $8,651 in federal money to purchase books for school libraries and $1,039 on behalf of two parochial schools to purchase books on the basis of a district loan.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. at the district office, 35 Trellis Drive, San Rafael.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis will also recommend application for $57,000 in federal money for book purchase for a reading program in elementary schools.

Trustees will consider Principal John Lucas's request for a sabbatical leave, setting of summer school from June 27 to July 29, and policies on class size and sick leave.

For 19 seasons the Chicago Cubs have never finished out of second division.

One Sanitary District Urged For Peninsula

Consolidation of the Tiburon and Richardson Bay sanitary districts was advocated by secretary James Murray of Tiburon district at the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting yesterday.

Murray said he felt too many small districts in the county cost the taxpayer too much money. He also suggested it might be good if the county consolidated all fire departments.

"As a member of a district board—and we all like our little empires—I'm in favor of one sanitary district for the Tiburon Peninsula," he declared.

Tiburon City Councilman Fred C. Hannahs, who is a volunteer fireman, objected to the suggestion of one fire department for the county, saying: "We have a pretty good working arrangement with Belvedere. They back us up and we back them up. I believe this works all over the county, too.

Chamber President William L. Howell reported $250 was still needed for completion of the bus stop on Tiburon Boulevard across from Juanita Lane being built by the chamber and the Shark Lions Club. William W. Creighton III of Belvedere arose to say Howell could "expect a check for that amount in the mail tomorrow."

Creighton, who said he recently moved to Belvedere from Arizona with his partner, Herbert Heiser, and expects to go into the land development business on the Tiburon Peninsula, said he felt the donation was the least he could do to show how much he enjoyed his new home.

Driver Fined $500

George Richard DeLine, 42, of 135 Prince Royal Passage, Corte Madera, was fined $500 and placed on a year's probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested by California Highway Sept. 7.

End In Sight For State's Public School Explosion

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's public school enrollment through grade 14 will jump 1.7 million students in the next 15 years, a state school official predicted today.

"But despite this awesome increase, it represents a dramatic reduction in enrollment growth," said Ronald W. Cox, associate state superintendent of public instruction.

Cox's findings, based on a recent population report released by the Department of Finance, were made available in a report to the California Teachers Assn.

Cox said school enrollment increases are expected to decline sharply during the next 15 years.

"This slowdown in the percentage increase," he said, "means that California is approaching a period of golden opportunity — about five years aay—when it can begin directing public school funds now being used just to keep up with sheer growth into better education."

Woman Pleads Guilty In Shoplifting Case

Guilty plea to petty theft with a prior conviction was entered in Marin Superior Court yesterday by Kathleen Cowart, 26, of Richmond. Judge Thomas F. Keating scheduled sentencing for March 1.

Mrs. Cowart was arrested Sept. 10 by Corte Madera police and had been convicted in Marin County for petty theft from Montgomery Ward and Co. on March 23, 1964.

Novato Approves New Master Plan

The Novato master plan, which cost $82,600 and took three years in preparation, was adopted by the Novato City Council last night, with a few exceptions.

Left for study later were the streets and highways element and four specific areas.

The council conducted public hearings on the plan, then ruled to eliminate the following: The area between Grant Avenue and Novato Boulevard, south of Novato Boulevard between Diablo and Tamalpais avenues, the Nave Gardens area, and the area between Virginia Street and Novato Boulevard between the Catholic Church and Simmons Lane. These will be filled in later.

Councilman William Jack Adams asked that the text include a statement that the council reserves the right to change the zoning anywhere int he master plan for a valid reason.

Alfred Bellucci, real estate leader and former member of the planning commission, objected to this.

"What of the vested interests of the property owner?" he asked.

Adams contended that the council did not always have to grant the greatest density of land use shown on the plan.

Mayor Robert D. Carrow said the master plan was intended as a guide and could not be relied upon as to future zoning of any specific parcel.

Bellucci argued that it should be inflexible.

After the council adopted the plan, its next item of business was to approve planned commercial zoning for Bellucci and John Novak on 11 acres south of Clausing Avenue on Highway 101.

"How was that area zoned on the 1955 county master plan?" Carrow asked.

"Single family," Bellucci answered.

"See?" Carrow retorted.

Novato Airport Taxes Retained By County

Marin County supervisors yesterday adopted in principle a joint powers agreement with the city of Novato which would allow the county to retain sales and excise taxes from the county airport and surrounding territory even if the city should annex it.

The Novato City Council, however, asked last night that City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. and City Mgr. J. Julien Baget look at the document and report back Feb. 23.

In addition to allowing the county to retain sales tax, the agreement calls for the city to continue contributions for development of the county airport. The city contributed $2,000 last year and will contribute $4,000 this year. Future contributions were not specified in the proposed agreement.

The area designated covers nearly 2,000 acres and stretches from Highway 101 to the Petaluma River.

Supervisors earlier in the day sent back proposed planned industrial zoning on 111 acres around the airport, asking further study east of the proposed runway.

The county planning commission's recommendation would extend the industrial zoning only 200 feet to the east of the runway, and supervisors agreed there should either be no industrial use there or it should be more extensive. The land is presently zoned for agricultural and heavy industrial use.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Authorized a $2,000 executive training program for the personnel of several departments under the Executive Management Institute. Supervisors asked that personnel from the county administrator's office be included.
2. Adopted a policy on employee training to the effect that the county will put up half of the tuition for courses in the employee's field.
3. Learned that detailed recommendations on implementation of the federal medicare program will be presented to the board next Tuesday.
4. Agreed to remount the Bolinas Beach mounted sheriff's patrol starting Sunday. The patrol will continue on weekends and holidays.
5. Referred to the planning commission a proposed ordinance in connection with land divisions.
6. Put off again consideration of a master plan to allow three single-family dwellings on a small parcel next to Bel Air subdivision and on the north side of Tiburon Boulevard. Developer Leonard B. Fleishman is asking access to Tiburon Boulevard, but Board Chairman Byron W. Leydecker asked a week's delay to give him a chance to look at the property.
7. Hired Robert M. Gaddini as a deputy sheriff at $536 a month; Delfin J. Lugo Sr. as draftsman in the public works department at $536 a month, Larry L. Galligan as programmer at $650 a month, Koyuki Tsukamoto Gels as clerk-typist at $345 a month, and Phillip W. Steinhart as clerk at $345 a month in the social services department.
8. Agreed to endorse the forthcoming Marin Youth Conference but declined, for the time being, a request by Lawrence Lindberg, of the county schools office, for a contribution of $250 toward it.
9. Gave formal authority to County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to take whatever action necessary to represent the county's interest in a suit filed at Marin Superior Court challenging the county's planned community zoning ordinance.
10. Adjourned ta 8 p.m. today when supervisors will sit as the Marin Transit District Board at the Civic Center.

Man Charges San Anselmo Lot Split Part Of Swindle

If San Anselmo City Council members had worries over Victor Rubon Sr., and his alleged illegal subdivision of land at 453 Laurel Avenue, they were nothing compared with the worries of Rubon.

Appearing at last night's meeting of the council, Rubon claimed he had been the victim of a state-wide swindle.

His attorney, C. Fitzgerald Eschwig of San Francisco, said: "He knew nothing about this property. It was bought and subdivided by someone else . . . in Rubon's name and behind his back."

The attorney said there were actions pending in several counties against the other person who, he claimed, had been signing Rubon's name to checks and letters over a long period.

Rubon, who now lives in a motel in San Carlos, declared: "He has wrecked my credit, my reputation, my family and everything else. He has got me in debt to the tune of between $60,000 and $70,000."

City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt said the land had been recorded illegally as two parcels.

Rubon said he paid no money for the land and whatever was done to it was without his knowledge.

City Atty. John G. Buresh asked, "If you come to court will you be willing to swear to that?" Rubon said he would.

Corte Madera Housewife Files To Run

Mrs. Ellen M. Wirth, 38, of 25 Alta Way, Corte Madera, housewife and mother of three children, has filed papers of candidacy for election to the Corte Madera town council.

Mrs. Wirth, wife of Ted C. Wirth, has lived in Corte Madera for 10 years. She listed a four-point program on which she will base her campaign.

1. Senior citizens and the youth of Corte Madera should be provided a recreation program.
2. The sub-division ordinance should be amended to require a contractor or subdivider to pay a portion of the cost of repaving and widening roads to meet town standards, thereby avoiding costly assessment districts.
3. Fences should be required by ordinance for all lagoons and sloughs in the town.
4. Motions and resolution made by the board of adjustments, and planning commission and town council should be followed through and carried out.

Blackie Wins Continued Peace, Calm

About 25 residents of Tiburon turned out last night to protest to the city council the use of mini-bikes on six waterfront acres the city plans to lease from the state for recreation.

Mini-bikes are small bicycles equipped with a gasoline engine. They can reach speeds of 45 miles per hour.

The proposal for use of the bikes on the land, which runs from the Richardson Bay sewage plant to Pine Terrace, came in a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Azevedo of 1875 Centro West Street. A letter from Del Mar School Principal Robert Gaw also endorsed the plan.

But the 25 residents present were unanimous in opposing the idea.

President M. Arthur Gensler of the Little Reed Heights Improvement Club said, "Those things are noisy, dangerous and raise a lot of dust."

James F. Johnston said, "It will be a black day for Blackie (the swayback horse whose pasture is nearby) if all that noise starts. He went through enough torment when they were building the highway."

Councilman John S. Hoffmire Jr. was applauded when he said, "I can't see that area as anything but for walking, fishing and perhaps a tennis court."

Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge suggested City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose meet with sheriff's deputies and the city's insurance carriers on the safety and legality of the mini-bikes on public lands. This was noted, with Hoffmire and Ellinwood dissenting, and wanting the idea dropped.

Rose was instructed to draw up a uniform traffic ordinance along the lines proposed by the League of California Cities.

Five New Men Named To Board In Greenbrae

Members of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. last night elected three incumbents and five new candidates to their organization's board of directors.

New directors are: E. J. Clishan of 13 Bretano Way, Barranca, Mrs. Gloria Maltzahn of 330 Vista Grande, Mrs. Ruby Streiff of 250 Via Barranca and Chuck Michals of 71 Via Chepparo.

Incumbents elected were Bruce F. Gordon of 55 Via Barranco, John E. Koster of 86 Via Barranca and Victor Donati of 101 La Cuesta Drive. Association President Arend L. Horstmeyer Jr. will automatically serve another year on the board.

First meeting of the new board will be next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Greenbrae Realty Office, when new officers will be elected, Horstmeyer announced.

Association members also heard an annual report from Horstmeyer and a talk on the war in Viet Nam by Maj. John Brennan of San Rafael.

Two Youngsters Tell Of Long Crime Spree

A three-week crime spree, which included three car thefts, five burglaries and 13 auto tamperings, ended yesterday with arrest of a 17-year-old Novato boy and a 15-year-old Marinwood boy, Novato police reported today.

The two were placed in juvenile hall.

The crime spree started Jan. 15, when they took a 1957 car with a Texas license on it, police said. This they used in their prowls for more than two weeks until they ripped out the transmission, according to the police report.

They also admitted taking two other cars in Novato but returning them after joy rides.

The 13 car tamperings were Feb. 1 through 7, mostly in the Nave Lanes and Loma Verde areas. These were basically tampering with the ignition switches in an attempt to start the cars, police said.

The two admitted that they broke into the Stein and Dine at 5949 Redwood Highway on Feb. 5, where a quanity of liquor was taken, police reported. They then broke into unoccupied apartments behind a Texaco station in Ignacio.

Sunday night or early Monday, they broke into the Meadow Park School; Petty and Kroeger Inc. masonry contractors at 5486 Redwood Highway; Ida's Beauty Salon at 5480 Redwood Highway, and attempted to enter Pinky's Pizza Parlor at 5460 Redwood Highway, according to police.

They would not admit ransacking seven cars at the apartment house at 195 Los Robles on Sunday, police said.

Assault Re-Trial Nearing Jurors

Final arguments in the assault retrial of Robert Gene Glover, 32, began today before a Marin Superior Court jury.

Glover, a San Quentin inmate, allegedly used a sharp brass rod to stab another prisoner, Henry L. Wolfenden, 28, on Sept. 18, 1963. He was convicted, but an appellate court granted the new trial before Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

The jury yesterday evening was taken to San Quentin prison for a tour of the attack site, a classroom in the adjustment center. Trial started Jan. 24.

Assault Trial Set For Oak Tree Fight

Dorothy Neil Miller, 23, was scheduled for a May 23 jury trial in Marin Superior Court yesterday for asault with a deadly weapon.

The motel employee, of 69 Cole Drive, Marin City, allegedly stabbed Danny Milton, 23, San Francisco, during a row at Oak Tree Inn near Marin City on Dec. 4. He survived.

Police Search Drains For Death Weapon

A search of the victim's home, 19 Carroll Court, apparently failed to turn up the "heavy but sharp instrument" used in the killing.

Inspector Thomas Cheetham, assigned full-time to the murder hunt, is working on the theory the killer may have tried to hide the weapon after fleeing from the house where he had left Mrs. Rudolph submerged in the bath tub. The weapon may have been a tire iron or an object similar in shape and weight.

The dead woman's husband remained in Marin General Hospital today, where he has been recuperating from major surgery for several weeks. His condition was described as satisfactory.

Mrs. West Flies

Mrs. Anne West, 45, of 21 Crescent Lane, San Anselmo, a housewife and mother of three children, yesterday took out papers of nomination for election to the San Anselmo Ctiy Council.

Announcement of Mrs. West's candidacy appeared in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Larkspur Neighbors Lose Round Against Rezoning

Larkspur planning commissioners last night voted three to one, over objections from the audience, to rezone three lots on Holcomb Avenue near Cane Street from single family to multiple residential.

Residents in the area said they did not want the block taken over by apartments. Applicant George Bertram argued that the area was marked for apartments in the recently adopted general plan.

Commissioner Colin K. White voted no. Robert H. Lee arrived late and missed the vote. William G. Fleckles, Victor Donati and Paul Atkins voted yes. The matter now goes to the city council.

The Larkspur Planning Commission also:

1. Agreed to a shift in multiple family residential and administrative and professional zones in the area above and below South Eliseo drive. Applicant was Niels Schultz Jr.
2. Postponed election of officers for the current year until after the April city council election. Commission Chairman Fleckles and Vice Chairman White have both announced they will run for city council.
3. Approved design of a seven-unit apartment building on Upper Via Casitas. Applicant was John Moran.
4. Discussed raising the maximum allowable area for business signs, presently allowed 100 square feet. Decision was postponed until the building inspector can check the present size of signs in the city.
5. Adjourned to Feb. 15 at 8 p.m. when commissioners will discuss the planned district and planned unit development zones. Next regular meeting was changed from Feb. 22 to Feb. 23, because of the holiday.

Beating In Jail Brings Sentence

Reynold Ashley Fitch, 18, of 116 Mariposa Avenue, San Anselmo, was sentenced yesterday to an additional four months in county jail for his participation in the Jan. 4 beating of a fellow inmate in the jail.

Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court also placed him on a year's probation.

Fitch is serving eight months for two burglaries and an attempted escape. He had pleaded no contest to the assault on James John McElhinney, 43, of 108 Eldridge Avenue, Mill Valley.

Also charged in the beating were Gary John Ammenti, 21, Blaine J. Walters, 19, James Albert Sprague, 21, and Thomas Haskett Thompson, 19.

Teachers Will Report

Larkspur School District trustees, meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the district office, will hear a report from the Larkspur Teachers Assn. on what salaries it feels would be adequate for the next school year. Supt. Milton S. Cohen said decision on salaries probably will not be reached until sometime in April.

Today is Wednesday, Feb. 9, the 40th day of 1966 with 325 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter; the morning star is Venus; the evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The ninth president of the United States, William Harrison, was born on this day in 1773.

On this day in history:

In 1825, the House of Representatives elected John Quincy Adams president.

In 1900, 7,000 construction workers in Chicago voted to strike for an eight-hour day.

In 1943, Japan evacuated Guadalcanal in the Pacific in the face of overwhelming American military superiority.

In 1950, Sen. Joseph McCarthy, R-Wis., charged that the State Department was infested with Communists.

A thought for the day — American poet Joaquin Miller wrote: "That man who lives for self alone lives for the meanest mortal known."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Thinking Bidders Seldom Need To Pull Tricks Out Of Hat

I hate to blow the whistle on bridge experts, but most of us waste time talking about the wrong thing.

Today's hand, for example, has been used by several experts for a lot of solemn nonsense.

1 ♣	Pass	1 ◇	Pass

3 NT	All Pass

Opening lead — ♠ J

West opens the jack of spades, and dummy's queen is covered by the king.

South wins the third round of spades and leads a diamond.

When West follows with the ten, South's only chance is to find the singleton ace in East's hand.

With any other holding, the player with the ace will refuse the first diamond trick, whereupon South is sure to go down two.

South must play a low diamond from dummy instead of covering West's ten.

As the cards lie, East must take his ace; and South makes three notrump.

LITTLE DIFFERENCE

Don't strain your eyes looking for plays like this.

If you always played dummy's jack of diamonds you wouldn't be much worse off than the experts who played a low diamond.

If you played a hundred hands like this in the course of a lifetime, the expert would score a total of some 300 points more than you.

This is hardly worth talking about.

The real problem is how to bid the hand to five diamonds instead of three notrump.

Normally, North makes five diamonds without the slightest difficulty.

Even as the cards lie, North should make five diamonds.

He loses two trump tricks but catches East in a squeeze.

Don't waste too much time looking for the squeeze.

The real point is that bridge is a bidder's game.

If you always get to the right contract you'll seldom have to execute difficult plays.

You can laugh at the expert who has to pick a rabbit out of a hat to avoid going down two at the wrong contract.

DAILY QUESTION

You have opened with one club, and partner has responded one heart.

It is up to you again, holding:

♠ A 7 3 2
♡ A K 6
♣ A K Q 5

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

A rebid of one spade would not be forcing. A jump to two notrump would be dangerous with your weakness in the unbid diamonds.

You plan to show your support for hearts after your forcing jump in spades.

THE NEXT TO THE LAST HURRAH
you give, as you disappear inside the gates of this park-like estate, will be for the peace and privacy you discover inside! A lovlier piece of land would be hard to find. The house is a curious problem—not in its construction, which is excellent and interesting, but in its arrangement, which is, to say the least, unconventional. There are 2 separate buildings — one containing living room-dining room, kitchen and a bath, with cathedral ceilings and tall windows; the other containing 3 bedrooms, a 2nd bath and a laundry room. They are close together, so the challenge is only to figure out how to alter them to fit your pattern of living, or how to alter your pattern of living to fit them! Either course would be worth the effort considering the beautiful setting! THE LAST HURRAH is for the price — $23,500—Not bad for a mostly level ¾ acre!

Lacking foresight,
our eager seller rushed to the country to retire, only to discover in a very short time that all his friends were still in the city! "Sell," he cried, "my house!" Now if you have the foresight he lacks, this is a bargain for you. 3-year-old hill top home with a vast view, huge wrap-around sun deck. 1100 sq. ft. includes huge living-dining room with fireplace, 2 big bedrooms, built-in G. E. kitchen. Beamed ceilings thruout. 700 sq. ft. additional unfinished space. He's already moved back to the city and has put an anxious $21,950 price on his mistake. We can confirm by comparison that this is well below the market value.

Novato Limits Apartment To Four Units

Novato City Council last night decided to stick by a deed restriction in rezoning of a lot for multiple family use.

Robin A. Merrill had asked for a 22-unit apartment on an oversized lot on Park Court, zoned for single family use. The planning commission approved rezoning but limited the apartment to nine units.

Robert McCready, attorney for protesting neighbors, last night told the council there was a deed restriction on the lot which limited use to four units.

Although such deed restrictions do not necessarily govern, the council returned the rezoning to the planning commission with recommendation for a four-unit limit.

The Novato City Council also

1. Rezoned from single family to planned commercial 11 acres south of Clausing Avenue and east of Highway 101 for John Novak and Alfred Bellucci.

2. Introduced ordinances to rezone San Marin Unit 9 from planned community to single family and lot 6 in Jade Gardens from multiple to multiple with highway frontage regulations.

3. Approved the tentative map of Stanford Oaks of 34 lots on eight acres south of Center Road and west of Ormond Court.

4. Set for March 8 hearings on annexation of five acres on Entrada Drive, which includes the Roger-Wilco Shopping Center, and four acres on Eucalyptus Avenue.

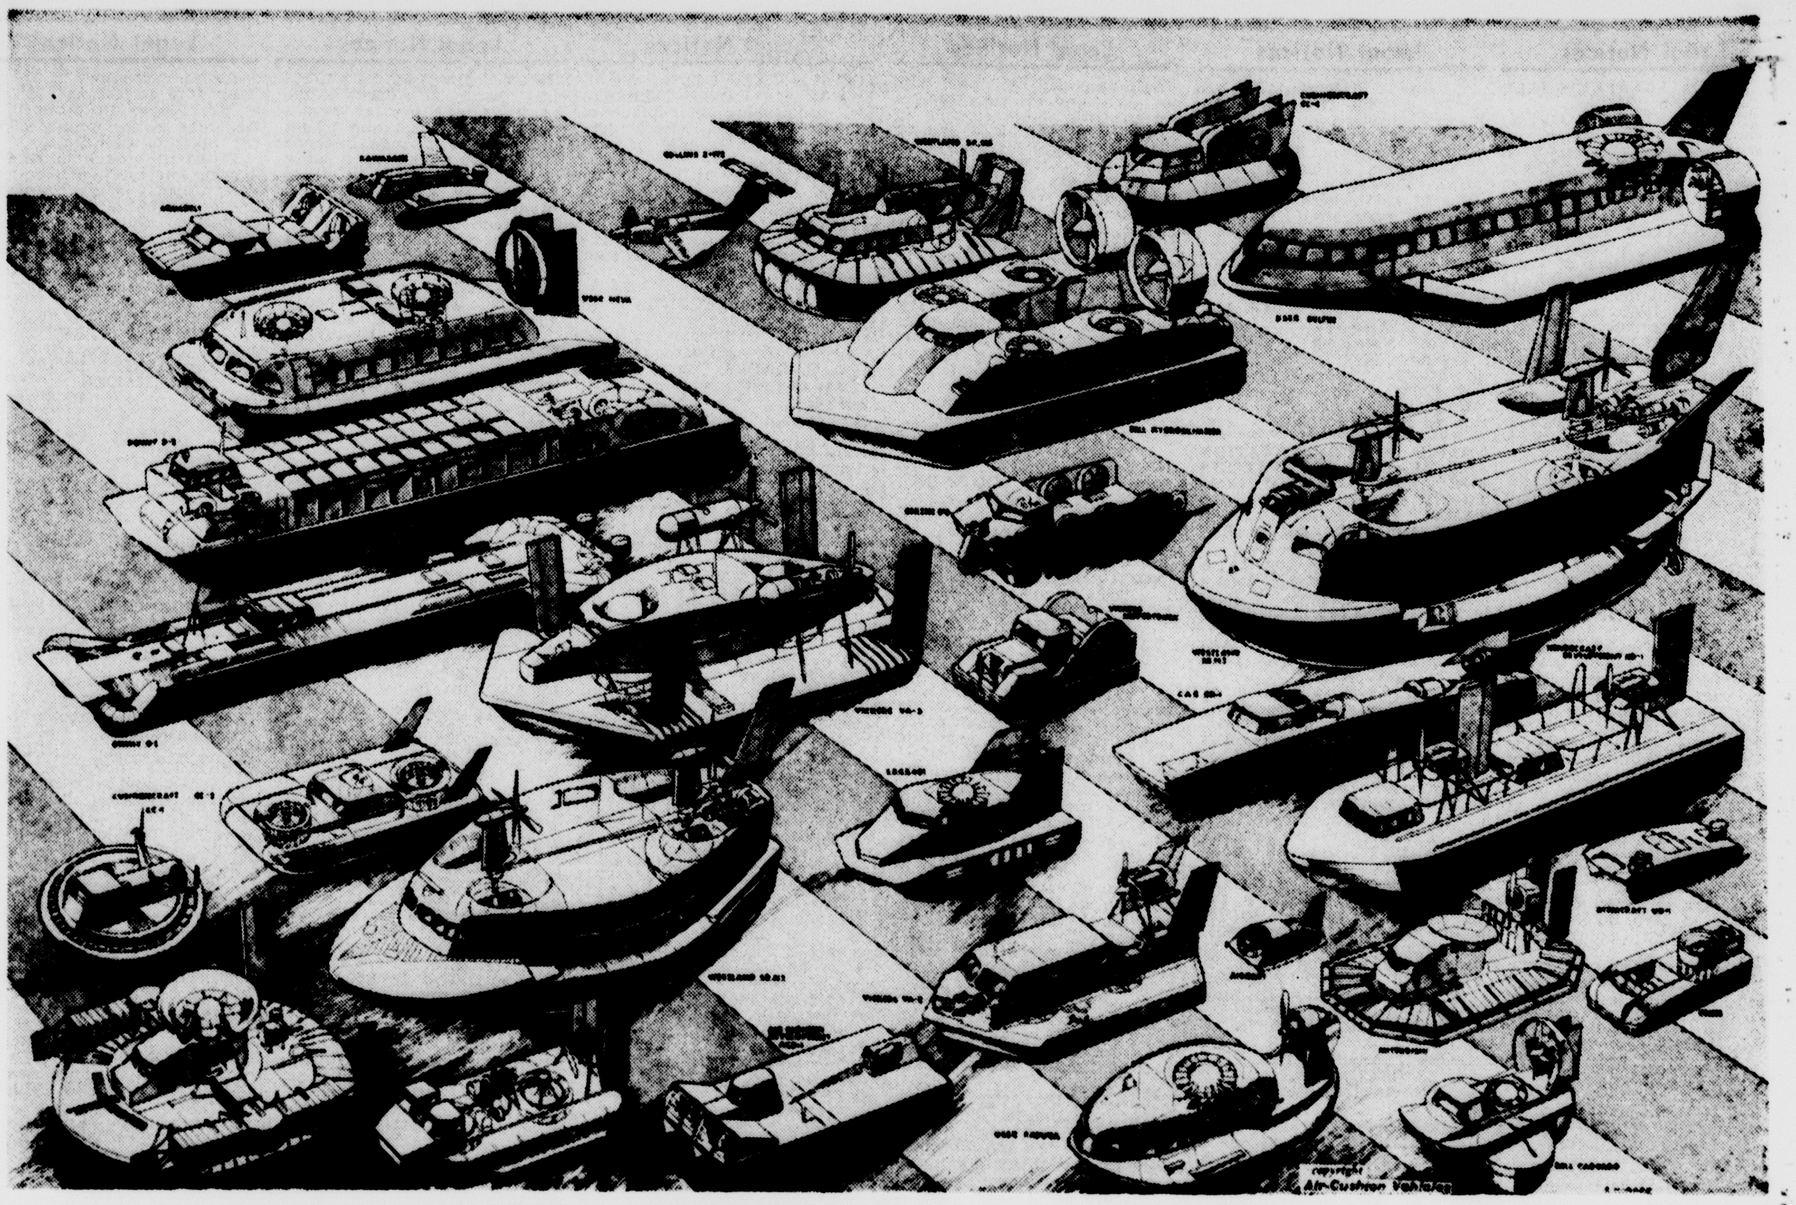
5. Abandoned an unnamed alley between Cain and Blodgett lanes and a section of Cherry Street and Railroad Avenue.

6. Approved the payment of $1,000 to George Morrison for the last year of the lease on his house adjacent to the police station. This will give the city possession on April 1. It will be used as an annex to the police station.

7. Directed City Mgr. J. Julen Baget to start negotiations with property owners for land adjacent to the Rancho School site, the Pioneer Memorial Cemetery, the proposed park in San Marin, and adjacent to the Lions Club Park at Stafford Dam, all for park sites.

8. Received an opinion from the county counsel that the Novato Fire District could not consolidate its election with that of the city. The council then voted to write state legislators asking that all municipal elections be consolidated.

9. Went into closed session, reportedly to discuss complaints about city employees, and set another closed session next Tuesday at 8 p.m.



COMMUTE RUSH OF THE FUTURE

When members of the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission heard reports last week on future modes of getting people where they are going, much of the talk centered on air-cushioned vehicles, which one firm predicted may someday whisk San Rafael commuters to downtown San Francisco in 12 minutes. This drawing shows most of the versions of such vehicles which have been developed to this day, including the type now being used in a pilot program on the bay (top center).

San Quentin Budget Jumps With Funds For Laundry

Gov. Edmund G. Brown's 1966-67 budget includes over a million dollars earmarked for capital improvements at San Quentin Prison.

Of the $1,472,340 set aside for capital outlay, $1,300,000 will go on a major rebuilding and modernization program for the prison laundry. This building is one of the oldest in the prison.

Another $115,000 will go on improvements to the salt water service system. This is to modify and replace lines and build filtering facilities.

The budget also calls for $23,800 to be spent on equipping the refrigerating building, which is described as "badly out of date and inefficient." About $33,000 will also go on minor projects.

The cost of operating San Quentin during 1966-67 is budgeted at $10,277,700, an increase of about $577,000 over the current year. The increase is partly due to rises in the cost of inmate feeding and the general cost of living.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said today about five-and-one-half million dollars in the operational costs figure goes for salaries to the prison staff.

"Some 60 per cent of the staff live in Marin County and as a result about three million dollars stays with the county in one way or another," he commented.

Knocknaboul Annex Try Slated Again

Directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District last night agreed to try once more for annexation of the 40-home Knocknaboul Way area to the district.

Chairman Melvin Warenback said the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission once approved the annexation, but residents of the area did not follow up with the necessary steps. Under its new powers, however, the local agency commission can order the board to hold a public hearing on the proposal.

After the hearing, protests by owners of 10 per cent of the assessed value in the area can force an election of annexation. Protest by 51 per cent of assessed value can block the proposal, Warenback explained. If the protest is less than 10 per cent, the district board can order annexation without an election.

Directors also discussed the problem of speeding by young drivers on district streets, and asked Fire Chief George Walser to gather evidence of violations for presentation to parents. Warenback said that seven drivers are causing most of the trouble.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Rehabilitation Lets Many Join In Life's Activities Once More

VAN DELLEN

What is the difference between convalescence and rehabilitation? All major illnesses, accidents, and surgical operations are followed by a recovery period.

The damaged tissues and organs repair themselves during convalescence in order to resume the stress of normal functioning.

Rehabilitation enters the picture when the victim is left flabby, weakened, and perhaps demoralized by being idle and undernourished during the acute phase of his illness. He must be helped back to his normal way of living and, if that is impossible, be taught to make the best use of what he has left. The success of this aspect of aftercare depends upon the skills and services of members of many professions.

THE MODERN hospital has intensive treatment facilities for the seriously ill and injured, and the obstetrical and surgical patients. Special units also will be available for those with mental disorders.

When "the fever is down and the stitches are out" they are moved to a convalescent section until the wounds are healed. They need less skilled care and many go home when the disease is cured and the wounds have mended. Rehabilitation becomes the third phase and it is here that certain patients are assisted in resuming their place in the productive world.

The amputee learns how to use a prosthesis and to be independent despite the handicap. The stroke victim may be taught to talk, walk, or use his paralyzed hand.

THE PERSON who never thought he could do without a wheelchair may learn how to undress and dress himself, shuffle with a pair of crutches, or walking sticks, and amble about the house under his own power. He may never be able to resume his pre-stroke or-accident activities, but he is able to attend to simple tasks wtihout assistance.

The man or woman must want to be rehabilitated. Many wait too long before asking for help—often resulting from legal advice because it is easier to capture public sympathy and win the case when crippled. They lose in the end because they never learn new skills to circumvent the handicap.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompaiens request.)

FEW RESTRICTIONS

Mrs. I. P. K. writes: Are there any foods that should not be eaten by an arthritic?

REPLY

There are no restritcion in the usual types of arthritis unless the sufferer is too stout and in need of weight reduction. Gouty arthritis is the exception; foods high in purine should be omitted.

BLADDER ULCER

Mrs. A.Z. writes: Can an ulcer in the bladder be cured?

REPLY

Yes, but some respond more easily than others. Hunner's ulcer is one of the most stubborn and relief, but not cure, may follow periodic dilation of the bladder or the use of an indwelling catheter.

COLD SORES

D.M. writes: Are cold sores on the lips contagious?

REPLY

Yes, but kissing is blamed more frequently than it should be. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on cold sores.

NERVE CANCER

Mrs. S. writes: Can cancer attack the nerves?

REPLY

Yes, in the form of nerve tumors or as an extension from neighboring organs.

Thieves Pry Coins From March Cards

Burglars who took time to tear about $60 in coins from March of Dimes cards early today broke into Rancho Nicasio tavern in Nicasio.

Sheriff's Inspector Kenneth Irving said entry was by breaking a restroom window. The intruders looted two sets of cards, he said, and also made off with $30 from March of Dimes containers on counters, and $25 in tip change left under the bar.

The burglary ocurred between 12:30 a.m., when the tavern closed, and about 8 a.m. when discovered by employees.

Alvina L. Dont, office manager from C. R. Frederick Co., 320 Deer Island Lane, Novato, told officers someone forced an office sliding window and stole $80 from a cash box in a desk drawer. Also taken, she reported, were several blank company checks.

Marilyn Hickman, 3 Adams Court, Novato, reported a bowling ball, bag, and bowling shoes taken from her unlocked car parked at Nave Lanes, Ignacio.

Mexican X-ray Project Gains New Support

Things were looking up today for the Alliance for Health project of placing a surplus San Quentin X-ray machine in the town of Zacapu, Mexico.

Dr. Richard S. Hahn of Belvedere, who heads the alliance, said contributions for the machine have reached the halfway mark of $500.

On Saturday, Kevin Dearth flew Pablo Monterrubio-Morales, Mexican youth who had been learning X-ray operation at Marin General Hospital, back to Zacapu, where he will be technician if the X-ray machine can be taken there. Dearth, flying his own plane, also took equipment and supplies for the alliance's public health project in Zacapu, including a Bennett valve — a breathing apparatus — which was donated last week by the Puritan Corp., manufacturer.

Dearth and Don Bisenius, Marin General Hospital technician who will install the X-ray machine, plan to fly back to Marin on Thursday.

Novatans Invite Behr To Explain Parks Bond Idea

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission Monday set for 8 p.m. next Tuesday a county-wide meeting at the Novato Community House for Supervisor Peter H. Behr to explain the proposed four million dollar bond issue for parks.

All recreation departments and districts in the county were included in the invitation from the Novato commission, said Edward W. Adams, Novato parks and recreation director.

Behr has proposed a four million dollar bond issue for parks, of which two million dollars would be the share of the cities.

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission also received the proposed budget for the city swimming pool for next summer. It calls for spending $21,800 in maintenance and operation; $2,500 for permanent bleachers; $2,200 for additional locked room staff; $900 for a system for checking valuables. It anticipates the revenues to be $12,000. They were approximately $11,000 last year, Adams said.

Strep Infection Caseload Drops

Streptococcus infections were on the wane last week, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

There were 20 cases of streptococcus infections last week as compared to 64 cases the previous week, according to the health department's weekly report on communicable diseases.

There were four cases of mumps, two of measles and two of tuberculosis.

Ex-City Worker Denies Coin Theft

Charles R. Herren, San Rafael parking meter collector, pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court yesterday to stealing coins from meters. Jury trial was scheduled for May 2 before Judge Harold J. Haley.

Herren, 61, allegedly looted about $7 daily over a long period of time from meters and stashed the money in bags and cigar boxes in his home, 3 Bayview Street, San Rafael.

He charged during his preliminary hearing that an illegal search was made of his home by San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa last Dec. 2.

School Board Cuts Meeting

The San Rafael Board of Education is not scheduled to have any more meetings this month, but there's a full schedule lined up for next month.

Board members last night cancelled the regularly scheduled Feb. 22 meeting because of Washington's birthday.

Then they agreed upon a series of meetings next month as follows: March 1, a closed meeting on "personnel matters"; March 8, a regularly scheduled meeting, March 17, an annual closed meeting on evaluating teachers for employment; March 20, visits to various schools after meeting at 8:30 a.m. at Terra Linda High School, and March 22, regular meeting a San Rafael High School Library.

Hunch Checked; Pair Arrested

Sausalito Police Sgt. John Coady followed a hunch which led to arrest early today of two men and a woman traveling north on Bridgeway in a 1965 Mustang reportedly stolen from Hollywood.

Coady was on patrol at Bridgeway and Napa street at 3:55 a.m. when he saw the car ahead of him. Susnicious, he ran a quick "hot check" on the car's license plate with the Marin County Communications Center and was informed it was stolen Monday in Hollywood.

Booked in county jail on charges of auto theft were James Lee Martin, 23, of Los Angeles; Charley Joe Davis, 20, Tacoma, and Diane Ruth Shelton, 19, San Jose. Bail was set at $1,100 for each.

Writers Elect Ex-Marinite

A former Ross schoolteacher and author of numerous books for children and teen-agers has been elected vice president of the Forum of Writers for Young People.

The former Elizabeth Wentworth Seaver, now Mrs. Harry C. Helman, lives in Brooklyn, N. Y. Her titles, published under her married name, include "Strings on Your Fingers," "Rivers and Watersheds in America's Future" and "Land, People and History."

The forum is a group of widely known writers for youngsters living in the metropolitan New York area.

Jail Sentence Set In Burglary

A nine-month jail term, with credit for 189 days already served, was given Thomas Howard Chance, 24, yesterday by Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court for second degree burglary.

Chance, Gerald Dalton Rich, 23, and Harold Bradley Sheffield, 20, all of Petaluma, have all been convicted of the Aug. 4 burglary of Joe's Market in Point Reyes Station.

Pro-Marijuana Tracts Bring Man $56 Fine

Michael Linneaus Kinnaird, 19, San Francisco, was fined $56 by Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court yesterday for distributing pro-marijuana literature in Sausalito.

Kinnaird was specifically charged with violating a Sausalito ordinance prohibiting distribution of advertising circulars without a business license. He was arrested June 26 by Sausalito police, who said the circulars called for removal of laws which prohibit the sale of marijuana and made claims that it is a healthful narcotic.

Passenger Injured In Highway 37 Crash

A passenger in a car driven by Marshall A. Flaggs, 38 of Vallejo suffered minor injuries when the car was struck from the rear on Highway 37, just west of the Atherton Avenue overpass in Novato at 11:45 a.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Flaggs was eastbound when he slowed for road work ahead and his car was hit by one driven by Karl E. Brougher, 21, of Springfield, Ore. Flaggs' passenger, Neda Edwards, 32, of Vallejo, suffered bruises and was to see her own doctor.

Four Fined On Drunken Driving

Four men were fined in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

Donald Stevens, 67, of 361 Eldridge Avenue, Mill Valley, was fined $220 and placed on a year's probation. He was arrested on Bridgeway by Sausalito police Jan. 21.

Sherman Rudolph Smith, 59, Bolinas, also was fined $220 and put on one year's probation. He was arrested on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard by California Highway Patrol on Jan. 27.

Merrill D. Kincaid, 21, with the Navy aboard the Hoel, was fined $220, with $70 of it suspended, and placed on a year's probation.

David Charles Stroup, 22, also with the Navy aboard the Coral Sea, was fined $150 and given a year's probation. He was arrested last Saturday by sheriff's officers on Highway 101.

Burglary Case Probation Given

Robert Charles Morton, 22, was given a suspended 30-day jail sentence and placed on two years probation yesterday in Marin Superior Court for second degree burglary of the home of Fred Ludekens on Cliff Road.

Judge Thomas F. Keating ruled the violation a misdemeanor rather than a felony.

Morton, a transient, broke a sliding glass door last Dec. 20 for entry to the residence.

Leon is a graduate of University of California, has worked for the architectural firm of Blanchard and Maher and Albert R. Seyranian of San Francisco and David Coleman, Ross architect. Leon has had experience designing fire stations in San Francisco. His office is at 352 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

One-sixth of all cash receipts from farm products in 1963 came from exports.

The 21st annual Marin County Fair will be held in the Marin Art and Garden Center from June 30 through July 4.

According to fair manager Mrs. Marcelle M. McCoy, anyone interested in entering a model garden may call the fair office for details.

Fourth Entry In Tiburon Council Race

Nomination papers were taken out yesterday for attorney William R. Bremer for the April 12 Tiburon city council election.

Bremer, a five-year resident of Tiburon, is in general trial practice in San Francisco.

Bremer said he is running because "I believe there is a general apathy to government in this country and that it must start to be corrected at the grassroots. I also want to see Tiburon a better place in which to live and raise children. And finally, I have a personal interest in politics."

Bremer, 36, is a native of San Francisco and a graduate of University of San Francisco law school. He is a major in the Marine Corps Reserve and served in the Korean War as a lieutenant.

He lives at 120 Taylor Road with his wife, Margaret; son, Mark, 13, and daughter, Karen, 5.

Incumbent councilmen Jacqueline A. Parnell and Fred C. Hannahs filed their papers this morning at City Hall, along with candidate Alfred J. Azevedo. Three council positions are at stake in the election.

Three Churches Join In Census

An inter-faith religious census of Marin City residents will be taken between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday.

Census takers will be laymen of three churches, the First Missionary Baptist and Village Baptist, in Marin City, and the Star of the Sea, of Sausalito. Star of the Sea Church will also take a census of Catholic residents living in Tennessee Valley, reported James E. Muldoon, publicity chairman.

Rev. J. P. Henry and Samuel L. Banks of Marin City and Rev. James M. Moher of Sausalito are organizers of the census drive.

Sertoma Club Gives Patriotic Documents

The Redwood Sertoma Club will distribute copies of the Declaration of Independence to eighth grade students in the Larkspur School District tomorrow and Friday.

Club President Louis Hawkins said the distribution of the documents is a project of the club to bring the students "nearer to the basic beliefs underlying our democratic way of life."

Fair Condition

Kenneth A. Hulme, 18, of 79 Summit Avenue, San Rafael, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital, following an averdose of barbiturates Monday. The San Rafael Fire Department responded to a resuscitator call to his home and took him to the hospital.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Sometimes Video Is Bit Provincial

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Many viewers across the nation who watched television cover President Johnson's return last night from the Hawaii conference on Viet Nam got a memorable sample of the networks' occasional New York-oriented provincialism.

The President's plane landed in Los Angeles at a reasonably early hour during television's prime time on the West Coast—which meant that the chief viewing hours for video watchers in much of the country still were available.

Furthermore, there was a good deal of natural television drama in the rendezvous nature of the arrival—since the Chief Executive not only was to make a speech, but was also to meet Vice President Humphrey, who was heading on to Asia to carry on the diplomatic task.

Now, it is a simple fact that television executives, like anybody else, like to look good before their home town friends and business associates, not to mention their local critics, who are read by these acquaintances. So can there be much doubt that if the President had landed in New York, the home base of most of those in charge of network television, all three major broadcasting organizations would have busted right into prime-time with all-out coverage?

But this side of the Hudson River is sometimes a distant world psychologically for those whose offices are on the other side. So here is what happened: Only one of the networks, NBC-TV, saw fit to hit the Johnson-Humphrey rendezvous story with extended live coverage here in Los Angeles (and therefore in many areas throughout the nation), from the Chief Executive's landing to his speech.

CBS-TV at least as seen here in Los Angeles (which means some other areas were similarly affected), obviously acted according to its recently enforced view that coverage should be edited pretty much strictly for essentials. Therefore, all this viewer saw on that network during the live coverage was a brief interruption of the "Petticoat Junction" series for the President's short speech —and then a return to the hillbilly opus.

ABC-TV likewise has stepped up its Viet Nam coverage lately. But last night its Los Angeles outlet which means some others as well did not present either the President's arrival or speech live and at length in prime time, giving precedence to "Combat," "McHale's Navy," "F Troop," "Peyton Place" (which blotted out the speech), and "The Fugitive."

Silks from India were eagerly sought in early times.

Candidate Would Ban Third Term

A proposal to limit California governors to two terms was advanced yesterday by Robert Finch, candidate for Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

Finch, 39, Pasadena attorney, spoke to the Federated Republican Women's Clubs of Marin at a luncheon meeting this noon at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

"California voters should have presented for consideration, as an initiative on the ballot, a proposal to limit the governorship to two terms," said Finch.

He rapped "monumental failures we have witnessed as a result of inept federal intervention in the fields of urban renewal, farm problems, the socio-economics of poverty and underprivilege.

Instead of federal intervention, he suggested that voluntary, non-governmental associations like churches, labor unions, and fraternal and service groups could play important roles as problem solvers of the future.

"Republicans seek a balanced and harmonious approach to problems and offer cooperative federalism with joint state-local action," said Finch. "Democrats just offer a federal pill for every ill."

Patrons of the Rocky Roost Cafe in Welds, Kans., can get a good cup of coffee for a dime, but must pungle up another 10 cents for a second cup or a "warm up." Mrs. Charles Worthington, pouring some of the java, says the sign causes lots of comment and stimulates coffee sales. (AP Wirephoto)

Septic Tanks Get Some Oil To Calm Water

A slight amount of oil was poured on troubled waters yesterday in an effort to smooth out septic tank arguments between the Marin County Board of Supervisors and the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

In the past, the regional board had discouraged the use of septic tanks in new development while the supervisors approved their use, subject to the absence of a health hazard.

Yesterday, Roger James, a representative of the regional water board, listened in on a discussion about waste disposal on proposed development at Silver Hills, near Inverness Park, and told members afterwards:

"Really, our two boards are not so far apart as you might think. I hopefully feel we should get together and listen to some of the objections we both have on the subject of septic tanks."

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen replied with a broad smile, "Do you think that is really possible?"

During the earlier discussion, Kettenhofen said the county had one policy on septic tanks, the regional board another, "and one day we will clash and there will be a revolution or something."

San Anselmo Council Passes TV Ordinance

Members of San Anselmo City Council last night cheerfully and quickly passed an ordinance expected to result in better television pictures for residents, if not better television programs.

The ordinance, passed with little discussion, will permit a community antenna television system in the city.

Several changes were made after the first reading, including cutting the time period for the franchise from 20 to 10 years. Members considered the period was short enough to keep any antenna company "on its toes."

City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt said: "There is a precedent. The garbage collection service has a 10-year contract and that's working out very well."

Quipped Councilman John R. Reichmuth: "Are you equating garbage with television?"

The council gave a first reading to another ordinance—to reduce to 72 hours the time limit permitting cars to be left on public or private land before action is taken by the police. At present the time limit is five days, said City Atty. John G. Buresh.

After a public hearing lasting less than a minute, the council agreed a small section of the Sunny Hills property to the city. Councilman Cedric E. Clute proposed the annexation. There was no objections from the public.

Richard White, a subdivider of property on Redwood Road, was granted an extention of 12 months to carry out approved improvements before further consideration is given to revoking approval of the final map.

White said a number of reasons had prevented his completing the improvements to the subdivision since approval of the final map in 1962, but predicted they would be finished "before the end of this year."

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

1. Accepted a $5,647 bid from Ames Ford of San Rafael for three new police cars, after trade-in. Other bidders were Shamrock Dodge ($6,656) and De Long Chevrolet Inc. ($6,897).
2. Agreed to further examinations for an eligibility list for police officers after accepting the resignation of Patrolman George A. Alberigi, who is leaving for another post.
3. Heard a presentation by Richard Phenix of Marin Council of Community Services on a "Master Plan for Older Adults in Marin County."
4. Approved the final map of J. R. Wages and Emmett Slayton Jr., applicants for a two-lot subdivision at 301 The Alameda. Flautt said improvements were acceptable to the city.
5. Adjourned until 8 p.m., Feb. 21—a day earlier than usual because of George Washington's Birthday.

Budget Asks North Bay's Water Funds

Some $2.75 million was included in Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget yesterday for initial construction on the North Bay Aqueduct which some day may bring Sacramento River water to Marin County.

The aqueduct was part of the $355 million the governor proposed to spend this year on the state's water resources. About 97 per cent of the money is scheduled for the sixth year of work on the massive State Water Project, which is scheduled to deliver Northern California water to Southern California by 1972.

Initial phases of the North Bay Aqueduct are to serve only Napa and Solano counties.

Marin County is not expected by the California Department of Water Resources to require water from the aqueduct until 1975.

Jail Inmate Pleads Guilty To Counts

James Albert Sprague, 21, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to two charges of damaging county jail property. Judge Peter Allen Smith sentenced him to 30 days in jail on each count, to run concurrently.

Sprague, of 110 Laurel Place, San Rafael, tore wall padding in a solitary cell Jan. 11, and ripped out a lighting fixture in another cell Jan. 13. He is serving time for forgery.

Bridge Horseman Hogties Squaw, 18, From Fairfax

Justin Littlebit, the 31-year-old cowboy who crossed the Golden Gate Bridge on horseback in October, 1964, with much fanfare, has an 18-year-old bride from Fairfax.

Littlebit and Myra Glew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Glew of 129 Lansdale Avenue, were drawn together by their mutual interest in horses and married in Gardnerville, Nev., Jan. 5.

They met last December while Littlebit was working at Jack Pinkney's Horse Ranch in Novato, where Myra had a class in horsemanship.

The couple is now living in Lida, Nev., where Littlebit is working for the Lida Livestock Co., a ranch operated by Art Linkletter.

Mrs. Glew said her daughter was enthusiastic about horses and wanted to teach riding. Myra is a 1965 graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School.

Littlebit gained publicity when he was blocked from crossing the Golden Gate Bridge on his horse, Dandy Cody, after he had ridden 6,000 miles around the United States. After reconsideration, Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors permitted the crossing.

Dandy Cody has been retired to a pasture in Indiana, Littlebit said.

Gas Chamber Set In Yacht Murder

SAN DIEGO (AP) — William A. Tahl, 27, has been sentenced to death in the gas chamber for the shotgun slayings of a yacht club caretaker and his wife.

Tahl pleaded guilty to two first-degree murder charges in the shotgun slayings of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bowen last April 1. He was sentenced to death after a jury heard testimony linking him with the fatal stabbing of a man in Dallas, Tex., and the assault of an elderly man in St. Louis, Mo., that occurred after he left San Diego.

Tahl was on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted men when he was captured in St. Louis Nov. 5.

New Date Urged For Toll Hearing

Loma Verde Homeowners Assn. members will circulate petitions urging that the California Public Utilities Commission reset a hearing on removal of telephone toll charges between southern Novato and San Rafael.

The PUC recently postponed the hearing indefinitely.

Decision to circulate petitions was taken at a meeting of the organization Monday night, at which County Supervisor William A. Gnoss explained the functions and operations of the Loma Verde County Services Area.

The area, a taxing entity, was set up and is operated by the board of supervisors, Gnoss explained. The board sets the tax rate for the area.

Stores Prowled In Mill Valley

Burglars broke open a skylight on the roof of Santa's Toys at 419 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley Monday night, entered and ransacked the shop and stole $20 in coins.

Burglars also entered Honda of Mill Valley at 473 Miller Avenue, police reported, ransacked the shop but took nothing.

Patrolman J. H. Newton, checking Santa's Toys at 10:55 p.m. Monday, found the rear door open. Checking further, he found an adding machine and file basket had been knocked over in the office and papers inscattered on the floor. The money was reportedly taken from a cash register near the front door.

Appeal Sounded To Locate Dog

The Marin County Health Department today issued a plea for help in finding a curly-haired, light tan dog which bit a 15-year-old Tamalpais Valley girl Feb. 2.

The girl is Marilyn Jones of 413 Maple Street, whose doctor has warned she must begin the painful 14-day series of Pasteur rabies shots Thursday unless the dog is established not to have been rabid.

Dan R. Pelz(health education director for the department, said Miss Jones saw the dog playing with children at the corner of Homestead Boulevard and Morning Sun Avenue, Homestead Valley. She thought it was friendly until it bit her on the back on one leg.

O'Lazzarooney To Notre Dame? Golfer's 'Miracle' Is Recalled

FIGHTING IRISH: Although he's still undecided, Drake High's all-everything football-track star Dean Lazzarini appears headed for Notre Dame.

Dean, who at one time contemplated entering the priesthood, favors Notre Dame and apparently has the grades to make it. Notre Dame has offered him a scholarship, but the likable San Anselmo youth is listening to all offers (and there are plenty) before making a final decision. "I want to see all the schools before I make up my mind," he says.

If he goes to Fighting Irish land the first thing we'll have to do is fix up that name. How about Dean O'Lazzarooney?

In the meantime, the Dashing Dino is still visiting campuses on weekends. Other schools still in the running are Oregon State, USC, UCLA, Colorado, Iowa and Illinois.

Besides his brilliant gridiron credentials, Lazz is quite a track star in the sprints, placing fifth in the state meet's 100-yard dash last spring.

TIME MAGAZINE'S last issue recalled San Rafael native Mat Palacio's classic quip some years ago while playing the trecherous 18th hole at Pebble Beach. When he hit a drive in the general direction of China, Palacio muttered: "Only God can save that one." Whereupon the waves miraculously rolled back and the ball caromed off a convenient rock straight back onto the fairway. Mat sighed, "Thank you, God."

Mat was the 1936 California State amateur champion and still is one of the fine simon pure shotmakers in this neck of the woods.

LYNN LIVIE, College of Marin's all-time basketball scoring champion (1961-62), hasn't lost the touch. Matter of fact, he's improved on it, as judge his 51-point performance in Sacramento State's 114-104 victory over San Francisco State last weekend. Ten of Lynn's points came in the overtime period.

SAD SIGHT at Santa Rosa's Sports Celebrity Banquet the other night: Hugh McElhenny sitting out in the audience. Just a few short years ago he was the king of all he surveyed in pro football and guest of honor all along the pot roast and peas circuit. Now, just another spectator.

Williams Wins With Knockout

HOUSTON (UPI) — Heavyweight Cleveland "Big Cat" Williams, who doctors said would never fight again because of a bullet wound in the stomach, knocked out Ben Black of Chicago in two minutes and 43 seconds of the first round last night in a comeback appearance in Houston.

For Williams, it was the first step toward the heavyeight crown since he was shot 14 months ago by a highway patrolman who arrested him for driving while intoxicated.

Williams, weighing 214 pounds, decked Black for a nine-count in the round, then used a snappy short right uppercut to put him down for keeps. The crowd of some 8,000 in Sam Houston Coliseum gave Williams a standing ovation.

TAMING OF A LION

Detroit Suspends Cogdill

DETROIT (AP) — For the first time in their 31-year history the Detroit Lions have suspended a player.

Veteran end Gail Cogdill was given an indefinite suspension by the National Football League club yesterday for remarks he reportedly made about the club's head coach, Harry Gilmer, its management and about other players on the team.

Gilmer, announcing the suspension in a two-paragraph statement backed by club owner William Clay Ford and General Manager Edwin Anderson, said, "After a thorough investigation of remarks publicly made by Cogdill at a meeting in Flint (Mich.) last Wednesday, the weight of the evidence is that he did make positive statements detrimental to the best interests of the Detroit Lions management, its coaches, some of its players in particular, and to professional football in general."

Gilmer said he took the action against Cogdill with regret.

The suspension was the first made by the Lions. Alex Karras, a Lion defensive tackle, was suspended in 1963, but his was a league and not a club suspension.

"I'm not going to say anything. I'll take care of this myself. I have nothing to say," Cogdill said after the announcement.

At a meeting of the Flint, Mich., Junior Women's Club, Cogdill reportedly said Gilmer "doesn't know how to handle men and he's not ready for a coaching job. If Gilmer comes back at all, he might be the only one who does."

The 6-foot-2, 190 pound end later denied making such statements, but Lions' officials ordered an investigation.

A reporter who attended the Flint meeting quoted other statements reportedly made by Cogdill about player salaries, controversial halfback Joe Don Looney and Gilmer.

"A coach almost has to be a psychiatrist. The men have to be able to discuss problems with him and establish rapport before they can have confidence in his coaching ability," he was quoted as saying.

Cogdill reportedly told the meeting Lions' officials told players "the Lions were the highest paying team in the league, but we did some investigating. The team rates 10th."

Problem halfback Joe Don Looney "did not turn out so well as we thought he would. We're taking him back next year on a trial basis. We can't trade him because nobody wants him," Cogdill was quoted.

The Lions did not amplify what was meant by an indefinite suspension. "Our statement is self-explanatory. Indefinite means just that — indefinite," a spokesman said.

NFL officials in New York refused comment, saying it was a "club affair."

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle said although club-initiated suspensions are rare, there have been at least four in recent years.

"The Chicago Bears suspended Ronnie Knox in 1959," he said. "While I was with Los Angeles (as general manager) Duane Putnam was suspended and just this season the Washington Redskins suspended Rick

Venturi May Have To Skip Phoenix Open; Hands Hurt

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Ken Venturi says he may have to pass up the $60,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament which begins tomorrow because his hands are bothering him again.

Venturi, winner of this year's Lucky International at San Francisco, came off a practice round yesterday complaining of cold hands caused by a circulatory ailment.

"Even with gloves, my hands hurt," said Venturi. "I'm colder here than I was in San Francisco. If it gets colder I may not be able to play."

More than one-half inch of rain fell in Phoenix during a 24-hour period which ended yesterday and a blast of wintry weather has sent temperatures not much above freezing.

Cloudy skies were forecast for today's $2,500 pro amateur prelude to the 72-hole tourney at the 6,765-yard, par 36-35—71 Phoenix Country Club course.

Seven former Phoenix champions are in the field of 144 which tees off tomorrow, including three-time winner Arnold Palmer and defending champ Rod Funseth of Spokane, Wash.

Palmer took the titles here in consecutive years, 1961-63, and is rated the favorite.

All five 1966 tour champions will be in the field — Palmer, Venturi, Bill Casper, Doug Sanders and Don Massengale.

Among those taking part in the pro-am event are Bob Hope and Barry Goldwater, the 1964 Republican presidential candidate.

MARCH 29

Clay-Terrell Title Go Officially Scheduled

CHICAGO (AP) — Everything has been guaranteed for the world heavyweight boxing championship between Cassius Clay and Ernie Terrell in Chicago's International Amphitheatre March 29.

The fight itself was guaranteed when the Illinois State Athletic Commission formally approved the contract and renewed Clay's Illinois boxing license.

The billing of "the fight for the undisputed world heavyweight boxing championship" was guaranteed since Clay is generally recognized as the champion and Terrell is the titleholder as far as the World Boxing Association is concerned.

Clay was guaranteed $450,000 from all facets of the 15-round bout.

Terrell will receive 20 per cent across the board with a $50,000 guarantee from the live gate, plus $12,500 training expenses and $100,000 minimum from closed circuit television.

The Black Muslims, an organization to which Clay belongs, were guaranteed something since the closed circuit television showing is under the auspices of Main Bout, Inc., a five-member group including two representatives of the Black Muslims.

The Illinois State Athletic Commission was guaranteed little peace because no sooner had the contracts been signed before Clay wondered if he would get a "fair shake."

Commissioner Joe Triner assured Clay, "There is no such things as a home town decision in Chicago — if Muhammad Ali wins, he'll get the decision; if Terrell wins, he'll get the decision."

Clay guaranteed he has not lost the art of a fast quip when he answered, "Most of the fights I fight, you don't have to worry about a decision."

The press was guaranteed it will not be lacking for advice or copy when Clay said, "I think it should be noted by the press that I am fighting more than any fighter among the last five or six heavyweight champions.

"I'm doing this to help the fight game — putting my title on the line without any strings attached, like a return bout clause. I think this should be praised."

Co-promoters Irv Schoenwald and Ben Bentley guaranteed they'll be shooting for a better than a half million dollar live gate in the amphitheatre which can seat about 15,000.

The public was guaranteed that to see the fight live tickets can be purchased from $10 to $100 with others going for $20, $30 and $50

NHL Awards Six New Franchises

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Hockey League today awarded franchises to groups representing Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, Philadelphia, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Pittsburgh and St. Louis.

The awarding of the St. Louis franchise is subject to a satisfactory applicant by April 5. Otherwise, a franchise will be awarded to a Baltimore group headed by Zanvyl Krieger, a major stockholder in the Baltimore Orioles baseball club.

The new cities will be part of the National Hockey League's second division which is expected to start operating for the 1967-68 season.

The current six-team set-up includes Montreal, Toronto, Boston, Detroit, Chicago and New York.

The cost of each franchise is $2 million.

The Los Angeles group is headed by Jack Kent Cooke, owner of the Los Angeles Lakers of the National Basketball Association and part owner of the Washington Redskins of the National Football League. Cooke was given the nod over four other Los Angeles delegations.

The San Francisco-Oakland group includes Bing Crosby and George Flaherty, president of Shasta Corporation, which owns the Ice Follies.

The Minneapolis-St. Paul Franchise was awarded to an eight-man syndicate which includes Walter Bush, an attorney, Bob Ridder and Gordon Ritz, television station owners.

Art Rooney, owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the NFL, and State Senator Jack McGregor of Pennsylvania, are among the 31 investors in the Pittsburgh group.

Jerry Wolman, owner of the Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL, and Jerry Shiff, a building contractor, head the Philadelphia group.

NHL President Clarence Campbell said the league was anxious to have a team in St. Louis but so far has not had an application for a franchise in that city.

"We want a team in St. Louis because of the city's geographical location and the fact that it has an adequate building."

The St. Louis Arena, currently used by the Central Hockey League team, seats 14,000.

TWO HURLERS SIGN GIANT CONTRACTS

Eighteen San Francisco Giants have signed their 1966 contracts, which means that there are still 19 left to come to terms.

Latest to ink pacts, are righthander Ron Herbel and lefty Al Stanek. Herbel, 28, had his best season last year as he went 12-9 for the Giants with a 3.85 earned run mark.

The hard-throwing Stanek, 22, is trying to make the big leagues after performing at Tacoma last year.

Willie Mays signed his $125,000 contract Monday, according to an exclusive story yesterday by I-J columnist Jack Hanley, but official announcement is not expected to come until tomorrow.

Warriors Back In 2nd Place

NEW YORK (AP)—Have the San Francisco Warriors found their secret to success by finding rookie Rick Barry with the ball?

Whatever the answer, there is no debating the second-place position today of the club that last season set a National Basketball Association record for losses.

The Warriors jumped back into the runner-up spot in the Western Division last night by beating the Detroit Pistons 113-103 in the first game of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader.

And Barry once again led the Warriors attack with 36 points. The rookie from Miami hit 13 field goals and 10 of 12 free throws. Although he scored only four points, Guy Rodgers set up Barry repeatedly with accurate passes that led to baskets.

Backing up Barry was Nate Thurmond with 20 points. Eddie Miles paced Detroit with 28 points.

Giant Rally Turns Back Terra Linda

By RALPH CHATOIAN

A strong 47-point second half gave the Redwood Giants a 70-61 triumph over the Terra Linda Trojans yesterday and kept the Larkspur boys tied for the Marin Athletic League basketball lead.

A rugged full court press by the Trojans kept Redwood off balance through the first half and helped Terra Linda to a 26-23 lead at intermission. The alert ball hawkers from Terra Linda stole nine Redwood passes in the first half, converting the steals into points.

Playing on their home court, Trojans Brian Perron, Sid Norman, Fred Smith, Fred Daniele and Dave Dukes all helped to score points in the second quarter to erase a 15-14 first quarter lead by Redwood and take over. At one time in the second quarter, Terra Linda had a nine-point lead, 26-17, but baskets by Andre Horn, Chuck Meyer and Dave Strathairn, all from close under the hoop, turned the tide and brought Redwood to within three points of Terra Linda as the second quarter ended.

Then in the third quarter, Jack Fitzhenry's 15-footer and Russ Smith's lay-up— off a pretty shovel pass from Fitzhenry — tied it up for Redwood at 30-30. Redwood went ahead at 33-32 on a free throw by Horn, the first of nine times that the lead was to change hands in the third quarter. When the hectic period finally ended, it was Redwood on top, 46-42.

It was Jim Marc, reserve forward, who came off the bench in the final quarter to blow the game wide open. Within a 40-second spurt, he meshed three straight buckets on two jumpers and a lay-up to boost the Giants in front by 12 points at 56-44.

Late in the game, Terra Linda rallied to within four points of the Giants at 62-58, but it was Fitzhenry's turn to get hot. He hit three straight field goals — all from underneath after faking out defenders with some sharp moves— within a minute and now it was 68-60 with only eight seconds left.

A free throw by Terra Linda's John Ahern and two of them by Horn ended the scoring.

Fitzhenry ended up as top scorer for the game with 19 points, including 9 field goals. Horn scored 14, and Meyer and Smith each chipped in with 11 apiece.

It was a two-fisted punch for Terra Linda's scoring, Perron with 16 markers and Daniele with 15 before fouling out late in the game.

Redwood made 28 of its 55 shots from the floor for 51 per cent and 14 of 20 free throws for 70 per cent. Fitzhenry, playing an all-around good game, led in rebounds with 11. Smith, the team's top scorer, led in a different statistic this game, assists, with 8 of them.

Wildcats Surprise Novato '5'

Guard Brian Grove scored a pair of free throws in the final seconds of play as Marin Catholic upset Novato 36-34 in a Marin Athletic League basketball tussle yesterday at Novato.

Coach Gus Hassapakis' Wildcats were defeated by coach John Panagakis' Hornets when the two teams met earlier in the MCAL's double round-robin schedule, 46-27. But yesterday, the visitors capitalized on 16 Hornet personal fouls and reversed things.

Although the Novato boys cashed in on five more field goals from the floor (15x43) the game was actually completely decided at the charity line. Evidence of this is that Marin caged 16 of 26 attempts, and Novato 4 of just 7 attempts. The Wildcats connected on 10 of 28 tries from the floor.

In the first period, Novato scored only four points while the Marin quint registered 6 markers. In the third quarter, Marin chalked up just 4 markers and the Novato cagers racked up 7 points in the low-scoring game.

The 'Cats' broke away for 17 big points in the second stanza and preserved a 23-16 halftime lead on the strength of Grove's two clutch charity tosses. The little 5-7 guard also turned in an outstanding all-around game as he stole the ball from the Hornets several times during key situations.

Wildcat Ches Bornia, a 6-2 forward, topped all scorers with 13 points.

John Dolinsek, 6-2 guard, tied for scoring honors with Ev Fritz as both boys threw in 10 points and were instrumental in keeping Novato's chances alive until the final buzzer sounded.

The taller Novato quint dominated the boards 21-14 with Dolinsek and center Tom Herrenberger each grabbing 7 rebounds for the home team. Lombardi led the Wildcats with 5.

Indians Rip San Rafael By 74-62

Paced by Steve (Woodie) Woodward's 24-point performance, Tamalpais High defeated the visiting San Rafael Bulldogs 74-62 yesterday in a Marin Athletic Legue basketball game.

It was the second meeting of the season for the two teams, with the Indians clipping the Bulldogs in the first one 44-38 at San Rafael. It was the seventh straight league loss for the Bulldogs.

The Tam quint held a commanding lead throughout the scrap, outscoring the San Rafael cagers 21-11 in the first period and chalking up 25 points in the second to take a 46-28 advantage off the floor at intermission. And "Woodie" who played little more than half of the game, scored 17 points in that big first half.

Coach Ed Chavez' defense-minded Indians threw a full-court press on the visitors in the opening minutes of the game, and its value showed early, as the tight man-for-man guarding forced the Bulldogs into costly ball-control errors.

"It was a tremendous team effort," said Chavez. "The kids played an outstanding defensive game and I'm really proud of all of them." Chavez also noted that mostly his reserves played in the second half.

Once again it was guard Joe Cunningham who sparked the San Rafael attack. Cunningham poured in seven field goals and two free throws for 16 points. Roger Widmer and Chip Tyson aided the Bulldogs' scoring punch with 15 and 12 points respectively, while high-scoring forward Bill Tetu chalked up 9 markers for his best point production since recovering from an ankle injury suffered earlier in the season.

Both teams shot 45 per cent from the field, but the victors had the edge from the charity line, racking up 59 per cent compared to 47 per cent for the visitors.

The Tam boys also dominated the boards 44-30 as Steve Johnson led the way with 9 rebounds for the Indians, and Woodward pulled down 6.

Pete Nelson, Honor Jackson and Johnson contributed vastly to the winners scoring spree by chalking up 12, 10 and 9 points respectively.

Lion veterans, who declined to be identified, expressed concern at Gilmer's action.

"Baseball players do a lot of talking, but you never hear of them getting suspended," one said.

"I don't want to knock the club," another commented, "but I wonder how much thought they really gave to this."

Cogdill missed most of last season after breaking a kneecap last September against Green Bay. He underwent surgery last month and still uses a cane.

Redwood Frosh Wins 9th Straight Game

Redwood High School's freshman basketball team stretched its record to 9-0 yesterday with a narrow 42-41 victory over the Terara Linda frosh. Skip Corsini with 14 points and Gary Pilcher with 13 led the Redwood attack.

In another frosh game, Drake beat St. Vincent's Parish 38-32 in the Drake gym.

Drake Upends Petaluma '5' In Close Tilt

Drake High School's Pirate basketballer's, paced by big Bob Tobin, came from behind to edge the Petaluma Trojans 75-72 yesterday in a practice game on the losers' court.

Tobin, 6-5, made 11 of 17 shots from the floor and added 4 free throws for 26 points to lead the Pirates. Chet Carlisle, Drake forward, also had a big time of it, scoring 21 points, including 10 from the field.

Petaluma was on top at intermission, 40-37, but bad Trojan passes coupled with some alert defense by the Pirates boosted the Drake quint to the fore.

As a team, Drake made 31 of 76 shots from the floor for 38 per cent, and luckily, got more shots at the hoop. Petaluma was hot and scored when the boys shot, making 29 of 53 shots for a blistering 54 per cent.

Led by Tobin's nine rebounds, Drake beat Petaluma on the boards, 38-31 in the rebounding department.

Although they won, the Pirates fell one-half game behind Tamalpais and Redwood in Marin Athletic League standings, because yesterday's game was a non-league affair. But in the all-important loss column, Drake is still even with the co-leaders.

The Drake Class B cagers fell to Petaluma's Bees, 61-33 in a lop-sided game. Dave Alvarado and Jim Rodgers led the little Pirate scoring, each with 8 points.

STONEHAM TESTIFIES

'Expansion Not Feasible'

CHICAGO (UPI) — Horace Stoneham, president of the San Francisco Giants, said yesterday he could foresee expansion of the National League only in the future.

He testified in a deposition for the league and its member clubs in the anti-trust suit filed by Milwaukee County against the Braves as a result of their move to Atlanta.

"I don't believe expansion can be done satisfactorily in the next several years," he said. "There are not enough players of the caliber necessary to present major league operation."

Stoneham said that in his opinion expansion in 1966 was "not feasible."

"Expansion in 1966 would throw us into complete confusion," he added.

He declared in addition that "It would not be feasible" to operate an 11 team league.

No Conflict Between Pro And Prep Football

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Spokesmen for professional football have discounted predictions of an encounter between the sport and high schools over Friday night televising of pro games.

Representatives for both the National Football League and American Football League said in New York yesterday that no plans have been made to televise regular professional football games on Friday nights.

The executive secretary of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, Cliff Fagan of Chicago, said here yesterday that such an encounter was brewing and that high schools "are going to try to get some protection and relief from this conflict."

Fagan said the AFL and NFL have scheduled telecasts "that will be in conflict with some of our September games." He added that "we're going to try to get statutory protection."

The representative for high schools said pro football telecasts would reduce the interest in the high school program "when we need it most." Fagan said the proposed Friday night telecasts "will reduce the interest (in teams) when the weather is inclement in the northeast, it will reduce the interest when a team is having a mediocre season."

The spokesman for the NFL said, "We have no plans to televise regular season games on Friday nights. We will televise four pre-season games on Friday nights, but the latest of these is Sept. 2 and there shouldn't be any conflict with the high schools there."

The AFL said it has never televised regular season games on Friday nights "and we have no plans to televise on Friday nights.

Wills Going After His Own Mark

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Someone's after Maury Wills' record of 104 stolen bases in one season—and it's Maury Wills.

"After I set the record in '62, I felt that it eventually would be broken, but I didn't think I'd be the one to do it," the Dodgers captain said yesterday at a news conference.

"But after last year," he added, "when I missed tying it by only 10 steals, I feel that Maury Wills is the guy who's going to break it. The reason I say this is because even with the hemorrhaging in my leg that slowed me down for five weeks or so, I still stole 94.

"The Dodger trainers did a terrific job to keep me going. This season I plan to wear sliding pads right from the first day, and I think this will help," Wills explained.

Quite A Sale At Boat Show; $60,000 Worth

Three Dorsett-Trailorboat fiberglass fire boats, designed by Victor Lenci of San Rafael, have been sold for a total of $60,000 at the San Francisco Sports and Boat Show in the Cow Palace.

The City of Richmond, Grays Harbor of Aberdeen, Wash., and San Francisco Bay Naval Shipyard at Mare Island were the three buyers of the boats, all selling for $20,000 each. It is the only production fiberglass fire boat made in the United States.

Lenci is now in charge of sales in the Dorsett-Trailorboat Co. in Santa Clara, the company that manufacturs the fire boats. They can pump 3,000 gallons of water per minute, either from hydrants or surrounding water, and have a speed of 31 knots.

Race Track Bet Increase Seen

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Horse race betting tax revenue of $50.5 million — without night racing or additional days — is expected by the Brown administration in the next fiscal year.

The governor's budget predicts a total of parimutuel take of $657.5 million for 196-667, compared to $635 million for the current year.

The state's share of this is computed on a sliding scale ranging from 5 per cent of the first $10 million of a meet's parimutuel pool to 8 per cent of anything over $125 million.

The budget, noting the expected increase in betting, said wagering volume tends to follow personal income, expected to reach a record in the coming fiscal year.

New Tourney Format May Stymie Tars

By RALPH CHATOIAN

College of Marin's basketball team has a good chance at the Golden Valley Conference championship this season, but under the new setup in the state, the Tars may never get to the state tournament.

Marin has defeated the other six GVC teams in the first half of the round-robin action, and start the second half Saturday night in Kentfield against Yuba Junior College.

Closest to Marin, which has a 6-0 conference mark, is Santa Rosa which finished the first half at 5-1. Then come Napa, 3-2, Shasta and Siskiyous at 2-4, Sierra, 1-4, and Yuba, 1-5.

Tournaments are set up with eight teams, and four years ago things were ideal, with eight conferences in the state. Each champion junior college got a spot in the state tourney. Added junior colleges in the state forced a revamping of conferences last year and now there are 10, five in the northern half of the state and five in the south.

One of the conferences in each north and south half are designated as a "Challenge Conference," without actually having a spot in the state tourney. But the winning team of the "Challenge Conference" has the right to challenge any one of the champions of the other four conferences prior to the start of the state tourney. If the "Challenge" team wins in a playoff game it replaces the team it beats in the state tourney.

The challenge conference this year is the Valley Conference, headed by highly ranked San Joaquin Delta of Stockton, expected to run away with the title. If Delta wins the championship of its conference, it will challenge the champion team from either the Golden Valley, Central, Coast or Golden Gate conferences.

Now here comes the rub.

San Joaquin Delta easily whipped American River Junior College last Friday night in Sacramento. The following night Delta coach Ernie Marcopulos came back to Sacramento to scout the ARJC-College of Marin game. And, as you know, American River dumped Marin by 15 points, 90-85, ending the Tars' 13-game win streak.

According to the schedule for the state tourney, the Golden Valley Conference champ is to meet the champ of the Pacific Southwest Conference, one of the weaker leagues of the southern half of the state.

Now put it all together. If Marin wins the conference title it stands to reason Marcopulos will challenge the Tars. That would really make things quite difficult for Marin, since the Stockton team is one of the powers of Northern California J. C. basketball.

But before we continue, let's stop the calendar at Feb. 18. That's when the Tars take on Santa Rosa once more, this time on the Bear Cubs' court. A win for Santa Rosa would tie it for the lead with Marin, but a Tars' victory would put them two full games ahead in the standings.

Whoever the Valley Conference champs challenge, the game will be played on a neutral court of the "challenged" conference either Saturday or Sunday, March 5 or 6. The state tournament itself will be played in Bakersfield March 10 through 12.

Marin coach Cal Riemcke is in favor of the present setup, declaring, "It's fair and will make it a stronger state tourney. Now there should be eight strong teams in the tournament, since the lower rated team will have to prove themselves."

PRESS BOX VIEWS

By JACK HANLEY

Embarrassing 'Who Said That?' Game May Be Played In Courts

HANLEY

An embarrassing "Who said that?" game may be played with those depositions being made by National League owners in Milwaukee's anti-trust action against the Braves and the league. The depositions are in slight conflict with previous expansion statements by baseball brass.

Well aware of this, of course, are Wisconsin attorneys handling Milwaukee's suit which seeks to keep the Braves from moving to Atlanta unless the National league expands immediately and puts another team in Milwaukee.

When Walter O'Malley's deposition opposing present expansion is read, attorneys for the plaintiff may ask "Who said that?" while citing a recent statement by the owner of the Dodgers.

"Who says we have to freeze things in 1966?" O'Malley declared recently in an Associated Press interview during which he envisioned major league expansion to Canada, Central America, Japan and even Australia. "I look for the whole picture to change. We're moving into an explosive era if international politics stabilize."

IF ATTORNEYS for the defendants recall what Ford Frick said in 1961 they won't use any deposition by the former baseball commissioner who five years ago predicted 24 major league teams by 1965.

"We now have the pattern for future expansion," said Frick in 1961. "In the next four or five years I expect to see major league expansion complete with 24 teams. For 50 years organized baseball stood still and the world progressed ahead of us."

ANY PRESENT deposition by Frick opposing expansion would be too vulnerable to a "Who said that?" query.

Particularly vulnerable to the embarrassing query will be the deposition of William Bartholomay who declared only a couple of seasons ago that his Braves were in Milwaukee to stay and he was tired of hearing about any move to Atlanta.

REGARDLESS OF the legal games that might be played in court, any knowledgeable major league baseball fan knows that neither National nor American League has developed enough farm talent to warrant further expansion at this time.

Just watching the Mets the past four years is enough to convince any fan that the 1962 expansion was a big mistake. Only Casey Stengel made the Mets tolerable. And only the Astrodome makes the Astros tolerable.

Fred Carry Wins Pool Tournament

Fred Carry won the singles championship and Bob DePoli and Larry Newhall the doubles in the Mill Valley Recreation and Park Department's first pool tournament at the Community and Youth Center.

Runner-up in the eighball tourney were DePoli in the singles and Tom Day and Scott Smith in the doubles. The winners received trophies.

Deduction Rule Applies To Most Casualty Losses

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

The loss of your property by reason of flood, fire, storm, shipwreck, vandalism and other casualty, or by theft is deductible only to the extent the the loss from each casualty or theft exceeds $100. This is like the $100 "deductible" under a casualty insurance policy. The new rule applies to losses sustained after 1963.

If you have two losses from one act, only one $100 deduction is made. Husband and wife filing jointly are treated as one, so separate losses suffered in the same act bring only one reduction.

P. J. Wikel

This does not apply to losses of corporations or business losses of individuals. If the property is part personal, part business, the $100 reduction is made only to the personal part.

Any insurance recovery must be deducted from the amount of the loss before you make the deduction on your tax return. Also, the loss can never exceed the cost or other basis of the property regardless of the fair market value at the time of loss. Usually the loss is the difference between the fair market value of the property before the loss and the fair market value, if any, of the property after the loss.

The costs of repairing, replacing or cleaning up after the casualty are not allowable deductions. However, if the repairs, replacements or cleaning up do nothing more than restore the property to its condition immediately before the casualty, and do not add to the value, utility or useful life of the property, such costs may be used as a measure of the decrease in value.

On your federal return, if the loss is any amount greater than your income for 1965, you would carry the excess back to 1962 and file a claim for refund of the income tax paid for 1962. If the amount of the loss was such that your 1962 income did not absorb it all, then any unused loss could be carried to 1963 and 1964. Any unused excess loss could be carried forward for the next five years and applied against the income of those years.

Money Supply Boom Worrying Economists

BY PETER S. NAGAN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — The country's money supply has sharply increased giving government officials new worries about inflation.

Key price indexes have been rising faster, and business activity accelerating on all fronts. Taking on the trappings of a genuine boom. Economists think these trends and the money supply growth are related.

The money supply is defined as the currency in circulation plus the checking deposits at commercial banks. It is the classic measure of how much buying power is available to bid for the goods the economy is producing.

As of Dec. 1, the currency amounted to $36.2 billion and demand deposits to $129.6 billion, for a money supply total of $165.8 billion.

For the first 11 months of last year, the money supply rose at an average annual rate of less than 5 per cent — faster at some times and slower at others. This was much more rapid than the 3.3 per cent average for 1960 to 1964, but not out of line with the faster, but still healthy, growth the economy has been experiencing.

In December, growth of the money supply accelerated. The daily average rate jumped to a projected 13 per cent a year. As of Jan. 5, the total was $4 billion higher than of Dec. 1. This is after seasonal adjustment — after allowing for the fact that December is a big shopping month, involving normally big increases of money in circulation and the use of checking accounts.

Some decline has taken place in the last week or two but far less than expected in a post-Christmas period, when the money supply is supposed to shrink drastically.

The reason for the rise in the money supply is not hard to find. People are in an optimistic free-spending mood — aided by easy credit.

To date, the increased buying power has merely spurred industry to grind out a greater volume of goods and services to meet the demand. But orders have now brought production up to capacity. Any additional increases in demand — which credit can spur — cannot produce an equivalent increase in output. But it can send up prices.

Recent price increases have centered on food, mainly meat. These are heavily a result of the interplay of weather and other natural supply and demand factors — not necessarily the kind that respond to too much credit.

But a substantial range of goods and services — industrial raw materials and manufactured items — do respond in price to the amount of buying power bidding for them. And in this area worrisome price increases have lately begun to accelerate.

Recent moves by the Federal Reserve Board to discourage borrowing have mainly increased the price of money — that is, interest rates. If the money supply and the buying power it generates continue to grow at anything like the recent rates, the reserve is sure to reduce the amount of additional lending that banks can do.

Inevitably, a shrinkage in the money-supply will tend to slow down the buying power of consumers and business firms. In normal times, this might suggest a recession. But these are not normal times. With spending for Viet Nam going up, some restraint on the civilian sector is viewed as necessary.

Contract Due By End Of Month On New San Anselmo Building

Contract should be let and construction started on a new 9,000-square-foot commercial building at 220 Greenfield Avenue San Anselmo, by March 1.

This will be the Marin home of Shoe Fair and the first branch operation of a 13-year-old business located on Junipero Serra Boulevard, Daly City, owned by Monti Ambinder of Greenbrae.

The store will handle various name brands in shoes and will occupy about 7,000 square feet. Other space in the building will be leased. Another Greenbrae resident, Ruben Graff, will be San Anselmo manager.

The building, with a fieldstone exterior, was designed by Sausalito architect Don K. Olsen. It will have offstreet parking for 32 cars. Completion is not expected before opening of the fall school semester.

MRS. LOUISE M. ANDERSON is first woman staff member at Bank of Marin to become an officer in the company—and possibly the first woman to attain that distinction in this banking area.

Manager of the note department since Bank of Marin opened in 1962, she has been appointed an assistant cashier. She began her banking career with the former First National Bank in San Rafael in 1956. With her husband John, who is with Western California Telephone Co., and their two children, she lives in Novato. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Gnoss (Marin County supervisor).

INSURANCE: Recent arrival in San Rafael is Sidney T. Emison, formerly with California Casualty Indemnity Exchange's Fresno office and now promoted to Northern California regional manager of the teachers division with headquarters in San Francisco . . . Two Tiburon residents have joined with Richard A. Secrist San Rafael agency of John Hancock Mutual Life as special agents: Robert J. Peterson and Kent (Ted) Beardsley . . . Robert C. Lampert, mentioned in the I-J last July as breaking the industry record by selling $2,771,000 of ordinary life insurance in his first year with the San Rafael agency of Massachusetts Mutual, has received his company's "Man of the Year" award for 1965.

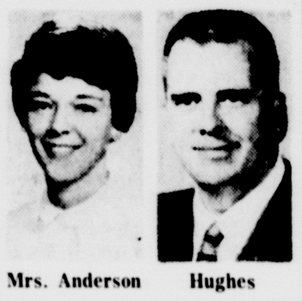
REAL ESTATE. Veteran San Anselmo realty broker Farrington L. Jones, 75, oldest living past president of the Marin County Real Estate Board, is celebrating a half century in business this year. He doesn't remember the month he started, but recalls the year was 1916. For 36 years he has been in the same building, 224 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard (originally 224 Main Street). Before that he was right next door. Son Roy has been with him 20 years. . . .

William Timmer, Realtor reports his office sold over eight million dollars in properties last year. . . .

Now that every real estate broker is also a business opportunity broker, three business opportunity veterans — Harry Abrus of Timmer's office, R. J. Bud Eckert, Realtor and Ed R. Kingsland of Redmond and Co. —were called in to tip off members of the real estate board on all the answers at the breakfast meeting this morning.

REGINALD DE MAEYER of Mill Valley has been appointed manager of Robert Banks, Ltd., men's clothier in Strawberry Town and Country Village. He has been in the men's field 14 years in Mill Valley and five years in San Rafael.

Large trumpets made in the Bronze Age have survived 10 or more centuries in such perfect condition they can still be played.



Mrs. Anderson Hughes

DR. RICHARD R. HUGHES of Kentfield has been made head of the chemical engineering department of Shell Development Co., Emeryville. He joined Shell in 1949, was appointed supervisor in the chemical engineering department in 1958 and head of the mathematics department in 1962.

WILLIAM L. BLAIR of Fairfax has been made manager of employee relations for Chevron Chemical Co. With Standard Oil organizations since 1941, he has served in a variety of staff and managerial positions —most recently with Western Operations, Inc. For five years his career with Standard was interrupted by World War II when he served with the Air Corps. He is a lieutenant colonel in the California Air National Guard, holding the position of director of personnel in the 144th Air Defense Wing.

PAUL WIDDESS of Ignacio, who has been merchandising manager of the Emporium's Northgate store since its opening, is scheduled to become manager of the new store in Santa Rosa. He will leave Northgate soon to take over work preparatory to the store's opening this summer.
